

News, Advertising,
Politics,
and the Mass Media

The Interplay of Influence

Kathleen Hall Jamieson and Karlyn Kohrs Campbell

5th Edition

Contents

1 THE MEDIA: AN INTRODUCTION

1

Distinctive Characteristics of Mass Communication	4
The Audience	4
The Mediated Messages	5
The Sources	7
Interpersonal and Mass Communication: Relationships	7
Mass Media Use	8
Impact of Mass Media	8
Kinds of Mass Media	9
International Media	9
Political Repercussions	10
Breaking Informational Barriers	11
Impact of Technology	12
National Media	13
Specialized Media	14
Elite Media	14
Major News Carriers	15
Television	15
The Rise of Cable	20
The Changing Modes of Delivering Images through Television	25
Radio	27
Talk Radio	29
Newspapers	31
Magazines	32
The Internet	32
The Internet as a Transnational Communicator	33
The New Programmers	34
Expanded Interactivity	35

The New Media Environment	36
Twenty-Four-Hour News	36
Changing Influence of the Press	36
To Sum Up	39
Selected Readings	39

2 WHAT IS NEWS?

40

Hard News Defined	40
1. Hard News Is Personalized, about Individuals	41
2. Hard News Is Dramatic, Conflict-Filled, and Violent	45
3. Hard News Is Action, an Event, an Identifiable Occurrence	47
4. Hard News Is Novel, Deviant, Out of the Ordinary	47
5. Hard News Reports Events Linked to Issues Prevalent in the News at the Time	51
What Is Covered and Reported	52
External Constraints	52
Access	52
Cost	57
Time and Space	58
Internal Constraints	58
Use of Available Footage	59
Covering Visual Events	59
Covering Newsworthy People	61
Avoiding Stories That Give Offense	62
Becoming the News	63
Changing News Norms	65
Relevance to Governance or Abuse of Power	66
Public Display	66
Hypocrisy Forecast	66
Hypocrisy Added	67
Statute of Limitations	67
Lying and Recency	68
Hypocrisy Broadly Construed	70
How the Story Is Presented	71
Reporter Expertise	71
Fairness and Balance	74
Story Length	74
Story Structure	77
Objectivity	77
To Sum Up	81
Selected Readings	82

3 NEWS AS PERSUASION83Dramatizing and Sensationalizing Content* 83

- The Screen 83
- The Camera 85
- Special Effects 86
- Editing 87
- Filmed and Taped Coverage 90
- Anchors and On-Air Reporters 93

Inaccurate and Incomplete Reporting 95

- Deadlines and Competition 95
- Breaking News 96
- Exclusive Breaking News 97
- Story Structure 98
- Anonymous and Composite Sources, Misrepresented Tape 98
- Readers' Advocates 101
- News Analysis 102
- Media Convergence 103 "

Unbalanced Interpretation 103

- Insinuation through Selection of Language 104
- Ideological Bias 105
- Self-Censorship 108
 - The Fairness Doctrine* 108
 - Beats* 109
 - Government Support* 109
 - Audience Taste* 111

Direct Intervention 112

- Breaches of Neutrality 112
- Producing Social Change 112
- Journalists as Direct Participants 113
- The Civic Journalism Movement 115

To Sum Up 116*Analysis: Analyzing a News Item* 116

- Newsworthiness 116
- Reporter 117
- The News Story 117
- Constraints 118
- Framing 118
- Inclusion/Exclusion 118
- Setting 119
- Timing 119
- Placement 119
- Patterns 119

Manipulation	120
Impact	120
Selected Readings	120

4 INFLUENCING THE NEWS MEDIA 122

Influencing Journalistic Norms and Routines	122
Manipulating Deadlines	122
Manipulating Access	126
Manipulating News Assignments	128
Media Competition	129
Using Access to Media to Manipulate the Agenda	131
Expanded Opportunities for Direct Address	132
Satellites	132
The Internet	132
Language and Symbols	132
The Perils of Live Coverage	136
Prepackaged News	137
Pseudo-Events	139
News Feeds	141
Prepared Editorials	143
Commercial Pressures	143
Costs of Preempting Programming	144
Pressures from Advertisers	146
Threat of Lawsuits	147
Political Pressure	149
Presidential Newsworthiness	149
National Security	151
Government Manipulation	151
To Sum Up	154
Selected Readings	155

5 RATINGS AND REVENUES: THE AUDIENCE IN MASS MEDIA SOCIAL SYSTEMS 156

The Mass Media: Social Systems	156
A Brief History of the Mass Media	157
The Role of Mass Media Advertising	158
The Audience	158
Technology	161
Commercial Television	163
Nielsen Ratings	164

Utilizing the Ratings	170
Mini-Series	170
Competition for Time Periods	171
Network Affiliation	171
Public Television	173
Radio	176
Arbitron Ratings	177
Restricted Formats	177
Newspapers	178
Impact of Television	181
Separation of News and Advertising	182
Local Advertising	183
The Internet	183
Magazines	184
Casualties of Competition	185
Newsweeklies	186
Media Consolidation	187
To Sum Up	188
Selected Readings	189

6 WHAT IS ADVERTISING?

190

Defining Advertising	190
Mediated Advertising	196
Kinds of Mass Media Advertising	197
Product Ads	198
The Product as Ad	198
Service Ads	199
Goodwill Ads	199
Advocacy Ads	202
Infomercials	203
Public Service Announcements	204
Political Ads	205
Issue Advocacy Ads	205
How to Determine Whether It's an Ad	206
How Ads Reveal the Advertiser	206
How Ads Reveal the Intended Audience	206
Advertising and Reality: Stereotypes	210
Advertising Values	211
The World According to Commercials	211
Seeing the Other Side	214

The Interplay of News and Advertising 215

To Sum Up 215

Selected Reading 215

7 PERSUASION THROUGH ADVERTISING

216

The Advertiser's Aims 216

Creating Product Recognition 216

Trademarks 216

Packaging 218

Slogans 219

Differentiation 221

Unique Selling Proposition 221

Association 222

Participation 222

Identification with Ad Characters 222

Significant Experiences 223

Making the Audience an Accomplice 224

Redundancy 229

Repeated Claims 229

Repeated Exposure 230

Advertisers' Strategies for Persuasion 230

Naming the Product 233

Differentiating Products 235

Pseudo-Claims 235

Comparison with an Unidentified Other 235

Comparison of the Product with Its Earlier Form 236

Irrelevant Comparisons 236

The Pseudo-Survey 236

Creating Associations 237

Associations with Celebrities and Authorities 237

Use It. Be Like Me. 237

Use It. I'm an Authority. 238

Cannibalizing the Past for Associations 238

Appropriating Historical Persons and Events 239

Trading on Someone's Good Name 240

Appropriating a Famous Phrase 241

Creating a Memorable Phrase 241

Exploiting Social Movements 242

Nationalistic Associations 243

Exploiting Argumentative Forms to Create Associations and Participation 243

Implying Causality 243

Juxtaposition 244

Exploiting Coincidental Relationships	244
Implying "If... Then"	245
Implying "If Not... Then Not"	245
But Does Advertising Work?	246
To Sum Up	247
Selected Readings	247

8 INFLUENCING ADVERTISERS

249

Regulation and Self-Regulation	249
The Federal Trade Commission	249
The Powers of Other State and Federal Agencies	253
The National Advertising Division	254
The National Association of Broadcasters	257
Network Standards	258
Obstacles to Regulation	259
Problems Faced by Regulators	259
Determining Deception	260
Effects of Stricter Regulation	261
What Advertisers May Not Say and Do	262
Limitations on Distortion	262
Product Characteristics	263
Product Performance	264
Puffery	265
Fantasy	266
Limitations Imposed by the Audience	266
Children in Audiences	266
Taboos	268
To Sum Up	271
Analysis: Analyzing an Ad	271
What Type of Ad Is It?	271
If the Ad Is a PSA	271
If the Ad Is an Idea Ad	272
If the Ad Advertises a Service Rather Than a Product	272
If the Ad Is a Goodwill Ad	272
If the Ad Is a Political Ad	272
If the Ad Is a Product Ad	273
Audience	273
Ad Content	273
Assumptions	274
Programming or Content Sponsored by an Ad	275
Content Surrounding (Contextualizing) an Ad	275
Media Mix	275

Pressure on Advertiser 275

Effect 276

Selected Readings 276

9 HOW TO INFLUENCE THE MEDIA 277

Individual Complaints 277

Group Pressure 283

Boycotts 283

Legal Actions 283

Promoting Self-Regulation 286

Pressure from an Established Organization 287

Pressure from a Social Movement 289

Creating Legislative Pressure 291

State Level 291

Federal Level 292

To Sum Up 293

Analysis: Constructing a Strategy for Message Distribution 293

Step I: Isolating the Message 294

Step II: Defining the Intended Audience 294

Step III: Determining the Newsworthiness of the Message 294

Step IV: Determining Factors Constraining Release 294

Step V: Selecting Appropriate Channels 294

Step VI: Adapting the Message to the Channel 295

Step VII: Monitoring Your Success or Failure 295

Selected Readings 295

10 POLITICAL VERSUS PRODUCT CAMPAIGNS 297

Defining Ads 297

Candidate Access: Free Time 298

What's Ahead 298

Responsibility of Journalists 298

Products versus Candidates 299

Using the Media 299

Creating an Image 300

Targeting the Audience 301

Economic versus Political Values 303

Regulation 304

Censorship 304

Equal Opportunity 306

Right to Access	307
Cost	308
Campaign Spending Limits	308
Issue Advocacy	310
Campaign Objectives	313
Voting versus Buying	314
Criteria for Victory	314
Unpaid Coverage	315
Quality	315
Endorsements	315
Financing	316
To Sum Up	316
Selected Readings	316

11 NEWS AND ADVERTISING IN THE POLITICAL CAMPAIGN

317

Controlling News Coverage	317
Controlling Media Access	318
Setting the Media's Agenda	319
Creating Credible Pseudo-Events	319
Blurring the Distinction between News and Commercials	320
Exploiting Media Concepts of the Political Process	321
The Campaign	321
The Candidates	324
Responding to or Preventing Attack	329
Backlash	329
Last-Minute Attacks	330
Adwatches	332
Responding to Last-Minute Attacks	332
Exploiting Blunders	333
Attacks Legitimized by the Media	334
Enlisting the Help of Journalists	335
Tests of Credibility Applied by Journalists	336
How Has New Technology Changed Politics?	336
How Has Television Changed Politics?	337
Image versus Issues; Character versus Positions	338
The Comparative Relevance of Character and Stands on Issues	339
Determining Which Issues Are the Likely Focus of a Campaign	339
Determining Which Facets of Character Are the Likely Focus in a Campaign	340
The Interplay of Influence: Issues and Character in Ads, News, and Debates	341

Ads 341
Limitations 341
Ways to Compensate for or to Counter These Limitations 342

News 342
Limitations 342
Ways to Compensate for or to Counter These Limitations 343

Debates 343
Limitations 343
Ways to Compensate for or to Counter These Limitations 344

To Sum Up 344

Analysis: Political Ads and News 345
 Determining Who Is Newsworthy 345
 Determining What Is Covered 345
 Relationship of Candidates and Reporters 345
 The Image of the Candidate 346
 Candidates' Ads 346

Selected Readings 346