

URBAN SOCIAL GEOGRAPHY

An Introduction

Paul Knox • Steven Pinch

Prentice
Hall

FOURTH EDITION

Contents

A Guide to Using This Book	xiii
Acknowledgements	xiv

1 Social geography and the sociospatial dialectic	1
Key Questions Addressed in this Chapter	1
1.1 Different Approaches within Geography	2
The Quantitative Approach	2
The Behavioural Approach	2
The Structuralist Approach	3
Poststructuralist Approaches	4
Implications for the Study of Urban Social Geography	5
1.2 The Sociospatial Dialectic	8
1.3 Urban Spaces: Some Preliminary Characterizations	10
1.4 The Macro-geographical Context	12
A Changing Context for Urban Social Geography	13
Economic Change and Urban Restructuring	13
The Imprint of Demographic Change	16
The City and Cultural Change	18
Political Change and the Sociospatial Dialectic	19
Chapter Summary	19
Key Concepts and Terms	20
Suggested Reading	20

2 The changing economic context of cities 23

Key Questions Addressed in this Chapter	23
2.1 The Pre-capitalist, Pre-industrial City	24
2.2 The Growth of the Industrial City	27
Early Models of the Spatial Structure of Industrial Cities	28
Marxism and the Industrial City	29
2.3 The Contemporary City	31
Fordism and the Industrial City	32
Towards the Post-Fordist City	36
2.4 The Post-industrial City	42
Globalization	44
Knowledge Economies and the Informational City	46
2.5 Conclusions	49
Chapter Summary	50
Key Concepts and Terms	50
Suggested Reading	51

3 The cultures of cities 53

Key Questions Addressed in this Chapter	53
3.1 What is Culture?	54
3.2 Postcolonial Theory and the City	57
3.3 Space, Power and Culture	59
3.4 Postmodernism and the City	63
Los Angeles and the 'California School'	67
3.5 Conclusions	71
Chapter Summary	72
Key Concepts and Terms	73
Suggested Reading	73

4 Patterns of sociospatial differentiation 77

Key Questions Addressed in this Chapter	77
4.1 Urban Morphology and the Physical Structure of Cities	78
House Types, Building Lots and Street Layouts	78
Morphogenesis	81
Environmental Quality	87
Townscapes and the Genius Loci of the Built Environment	94
Qualitative Methods and Observational Fieldwork in Urban Areas	98
4.2 Difference and Inequality: Socioeconomic and Sociocultural Patterns	100
Studies of Factorial Ecology	105
The Method	105
An Example	106
The Generality of Factorial Ecologies	108
Factorial Ecologies as a Product of Social Structure	114
The Fragmentation of Urban Space?	117
Some Limitations	117
Patterns of Social Well-Being	118
Intra-urban Variations in the Quality of Life	119
The Geography of Deprivation and Disadvantage	122
Chapter Summary	125
Key Concepts and Terms	126
Suggested Reading	126

5 Spatial and institutional frameworks: citizens, the state and civil society 129

Key Questions Addressed in this Chapter	129
5.1 The Interdependence of Public Institutions and Private Life	130
Citizenship, Patriarchy and Racism	130
The Law and Civil Society	132
The Changing Nature of Urban Governance	133
5.2 De Jure Urban Spaces	136
Metropolitan Fragmentation and its Spatial Consequences	136
Fiscal Imbalance and Sociospatial Inequality	137
Fiscal Mercantilism	139
Municipal Service Delivery and Sociospatial Inequality	140

5.3	The Democratic Base and its Spatial Framework	143
	The Spatiality of Key Actors in Urban Governance: Elected Officials and City Bureaucrats	145
	Bureaucracy and Sociospatial (Re)production	147
	The Parapolitical Structure	148
	Business	149
	Labour	149
	Citizen Organizations and Special Interest Groups	150
	Homeowners' Associations: Private Governments	150
	Urban Social Movements	152
5.4	Community Power Structures and the Role of the Local State	153
	The Political Economy of Contemporary Cities	154
	The Local State and the Sociospatial Dialectic	156
5.5	The Question of Social Justice in the City	161
	Chapter Summary	162
	Key Concepts and Terms	163
	Suggested Reading	163

6 Structures of building provision and the social production of the urban environment 167

	Key Questions Addressed in this Chapter	167
6.1	Housing Submarkets	168
	The Growth of Homeownership	169
	The Decline of Private Renting	173
	The Development of Public Housing	175
	Sociospatial Differentiation Within the Public Sector	176
	The Voluntary Sector: The 'Third Arm' of Housing Provision	179
6.2	Key Actors in the Social Production of the Built Environment	180
	Landowners and Morphogenesis	182
	Builders, Developers and the Search for Profit	183
	Discrimination by Design: Architects and Planners	186
	Women's Spaces	187
	Women's Places	188
	Mortgage Financiers: Social and Spatial Bias as Good Business Practice	189
	Bias Against People	190
	Bias Against Property	191
	Real Estate Agents: Manipulating and Reinforcing Neighbourhood Patterns	193
	Manipulating Social Geographies: Blockbusting and Gentrification	194

Public Housing Managers: Sorting and Grading	197
Problem Families and Dump Estates	197
Chapter Summary	200
Key Concepts and Terms	201
Suggested Reading	201

10.7 The Social Dimensions of Modern Urbanism

Key Questions Addressed in this Chapter	205
7.1 Urban Life in Western Culture	206
7.2 Urbanism and Social Theory	208
The Public and Private Worlds of City Life	210
The Self: Identity and Experience in Private and Public Worlds	211
7.3 Social Interaction and Social Networks in Urban Settings	212
Urban Ecology as Shaper and Outcome of Social Interaction	215
Criticisms of the Ecological Approach	217
Reformulations	218
Social Interaction in Urban Environments	219
Social Distance and Physical Distance	221
Chapter Summary	223
Key Concepts and Terms	224
Suggested Reading	224

10.8 Segregation and congregation

Key Questions Addressed in this Chapter	227
8.1 Social Closure, Racism and Discrimination	228
8.2 The Spatial Segregation of Minority Groups	229
Issues of Definition and Measurement	229
External Factors: Discrimination and Structural Effects	231
Congregation: Internal Group Cohesiveness	234
Clustering for Defence	234
Clustering for Mutual Support	235
Clustering for Cultural Preservation	236
Spaces of Resistance: Clustering to Facilitate 'Attacks'	237

Colonies, Enclaves and Ghettos	238
Illustrative Example 1: Structural constraints and Cultural Preservation in the United Kingdom	241
Illustrative Example 2: Migrant Workers in Continental European Cities	243
Chapter Summary	247
Key Concepts and Terms	247
Suggested Reading	247

9 Neighbourhood, community and the social construction of place 249

Key Questions Addressed in this Chapter	249
9.1 Neighbourhood and Community	250
The Fragility of Communalities	251
Suburban Neighbourhoods: Community Transformed	252
The Mosaic Culture of American Suburbs	253
Suburbs in West European Cities	254
Embourgeoisement: Social and Spatial Mobility	255
Status Panic and Crisis Communalities	256
Communities and Neighbourhoods: Definitions and Classifications	256
9.2 The Social Construction of Urban Places	258
Urban Life-worlds, Time-Space Routinization and Intersubjectivity	259
Structuration and the 'Becoming' of Place	261
Constructing Place Through Spatial Practices	264
Place, Consumption and Cultural Politics	266
9.3 The Social Meanings of the Built Environment	268
The Appropriation of Space and Place: Symbolism and Coded Meanings	269
Architecture, Aesthetics and the Sociospatial Dialectic	271
Chapter Summary	274
Key Concepts and Terms	275
Suggested Reading	275

10 Environment and behaviour in urban settings 277

Key Questions Addressed in this Chapter	277
10.1 Theories about Deviant Behaviour	279
Determinist Theory	279
Crowding Theory	281

	Design Determinism	282
	Alienation	283
	Compositional Theory	284
	Subcultural Theory	284
	Structuralist Theory	285
	Multi-factor Explanations: The Example of Crime and Delinquency	286
	Data Problems	286
	The Geography of Urban Crime	287
10.2	Cognition and Perception	294
	Designative Aspects of Urban Imagery	295
	Cognitive Distance	300
	Appraisive Aspects of Urban Imagery	302
	The Cognitive Dimensions of the Urban Environment	303
	Images of the Home Area	304
	Chapter Summary	306
	Key Concepts and Terms	306
	Suggested Reading	306

11 Bodies, sexuality and the city 309

	Key Questions Addressed in this Chapter	309
11.1	Gender, Heteropatriarchy and Embodied Performance in the City	310
11.2	Sexuality and the City	313
	Prostitution and the City	314
	Homosexuality and the City	316
11.3	Disability and the City	322
	Chapter Summary	327
	Key Concepts and Terms	327
	Suggested Reading	328

12 Residential mobility and neighbourhood change 331

	Key Questions Addressed in this Chapter	331
12.1	Patterns of Household Mobility	333
	Patterns of In-migration	336

Intra-urban Moves	336
The Determinants of Residential Mobility	339
Reasons for Moving	340
The Decision to Move	342
The Search for a New Residence	345
Specifying the Desiderata of a New Home	345
Searching for Vacancies	347
Time Constraints	348
Choosing a New Home	349
12.2 Residential Mobility and Neighbourhood Change	349
High-status Movement, Filtering and Vacancy Chains	350
Obstacles to Filtering	351
Vacancy Chains	352
Chapter Summary	353
Key Concepts and Terms	354
Suggested Reading	354
13 Urban change and conflict	357
Key Questions Addressed in this Chapter	357
13.1 Accessibility of Services and Amenities	360
Accessibility of Medical Care	362
Aggregate Patterns of Accessibility: The Example of Oklahoma City	365
The Aggregate Effects of Aggregate Patterns	370
13.2 Urban Restructuring: Inequality and Conflict	372
Decentralization and Accessibility of Services and Amenities	373
Redevelopment and Renewal	374
Service Sector Restructuring	376
Social Polarization	380
The Informal Urban Economy	384
Urban Social Sustainability	385
Chapter Summary	388
Key Concepts and Terms	389
Suggested Reading	389
GLOSSARY	391
REFERENCES	435
INDEX	461