SYSTEMATICS

Table of Contents

Preface	ix
CHAPTER 1 The Significance of Systematics	1
Definitions	1
Purposes and Significance of Systematics	3
CHAPTER 2 How Plants Get Their Names	5
Common or Vernacular Names	5
Latin Names	6
Principles of the Code of Botanical Nomenclature	8
What Is Involved in Validly Publishing a Name?	12
CHAPTER 3 How Plants Are Identified	13
Some Basic Rules for Constructing and Using Dichotomous Keys	14
Other Identification Methods	16
CHAPTER 4 Collecting, Handling, and Preserving Specimens	17
Materials Needed for Collecting Plants	17
Procedure for Pressing, Drying, and Labeling Specimens	19
The Herbarium	23
Ethics of Collecting and Handling Specimens	26
CHAPTER 5 Families of Ferns and Their Associated Plants (Pteridophytes)	29
Reproductive Cycle of the Pteridophytes	31
Selected Families of Pteridophytes	32
Division Psilotophyta	34
Division Microphyllrophyta	35
Division Arthrophyta	38
Division Polypodiophyta	39
CHAPTER 6 Families of the Pinophyta (Gymnosperms)	58
Reproduction of the Pinophyta	58
Classification of the Pinophyta	59
Division Pinophyta	63
Subdivision Cycadicae; Class Cycadatae (Cycads)	63

Subdivision Pinicae; Class Ginkgoatae (Ginkgo)	65
Subdivision Pinicae; Class Pinatae (Conifers)	66
Subdivision Gneticae; Class Gnetatae	77

CHAPTER 7 Terminology of Flowering Plants (Magnoliophyta)	80
Vegetative Organs	81
Reproductive Structures	96
Reproduction of Flowering Plants	100

CHAPTER 8 Families of Flowering Plants I. Magnoliopsida (Dicots)	109
Division Magnoliophyta (Angiosperms)	109
Class Magnoliopsida (Dicotyledons)	110
Subclass I. Magnoliidae	110
Subclass II. Hamamelidae	130
Subclass III. Caryophyllidae	144
Subclass IV. Dilleniidae	156
Subclass V. Rosidae	206
Subclass VI. Asteridae	276

CHAPTER 9 Families of Flowering Plants II. Liliopsida (Monocots)	312
Division Magnoliophyta (Angiosperms)	312
Class Liliopsida (Monocotyledons)	312
Subclass I. Alismatidae	312
Subclass II. Arecidae	324
Subclass III. Commelinidae	330
Subclass IV. Zingiberidae	341
Subclass V. Liliidae	349

CHAPTER 10 History and Development of Classification	361
Form System of Plants	361
Sexual System of Plants	363
Early "Natural" Systems	366
Post-Darwinian "Natural" Classification Systems (1860-1950)	368
Contemporary Classification Systems (1950 to Present)	372
Contemporary Phenetic Methods	378
Contemporary Phylogenetic Methods	384

CHAPTER 11 The Literature of Systematics	388
Indexes for Bibliographic, Illustrative, and Nomenclatural Literature	388
Terminology and Dictionaries	391
Specific and Comprehensive Guides	392
Selected Botanical Journals	393
Floras and Manuals	394
Historical Background	395
Detailed Taxonomic Studies	396
Basic Systematic Texts	396

CHAPTER 12 Contemporary Views of the Origin of Vascular Plants	397
Theories on Origins	397

Early Fossil Pteridophytes	398
Early Fossil Pinophyta (Gymnosperms)	399
Fossil Magnoliophyta (Flowering Plants)	403
Origin of Characters	406
Evolution of Species	407
CHAPTER 13 Contemporary Methods of Studying Plants	410
Plant Anatomy as Applied to Systematics	410
Plant Morphology as Applied to Systematics	415
Molecular Systematics	417
Palynology as Applied to Systematics	424
Biogeography, Ecology, and Systematics	428
Cytology and Genetics as Applied to Systematics	432
Summary	436
CHAPTER 14 Preserving Plant Biodiversity	437
Value of Plant Species to Humans	438
How Species Become Endangered	440
Current Knowledge about Endangered Plants	441
Genetic Engineering and Biodiversity	444
What about the Future?	452
How Individuals Can Help Endangered Wild Plants	453
CHAPTER 15 The Role of Botanical Gardens in Society	455
Objectives of Botanical Gardens	455
History of Botanical Gardens	456
Survey of Some Gardens	457
Europe	457
North America	464
Africa	470
Asia	473
Australia	474
Epilogue	476
The Relevance of Systematics to Society	476
Job Opportunities and Qualifications	476
Summary	478
APPENDIX I Selected References	479
APPENDIX II Floras of the World	497
APPENDIX III Classification of the Division Magnoliophyta (Flowering Plants)	525
Glossary	536
Index	552
About the CD	570
