RESEARCH METHODS FOR BUSINESS

A SKILL-BUILDING APPROACH

UMA SEKARAN

CONTENTS

CHAPTER 1 INTRODUCTION TO RESEARCH /1

- What Is Research? /2
 - The Excitement of Research and Why Managers Should Know about Research /3
- Business Research /3
 - Definition of Research /4
 - Research and the Manager /4
- Types of Business Research: Applied and Basic /6
 - Applied Research /7 Basic or Fundamental Research /8
- Managers and Research /10
- The Manager and the Consultant-Researcher /11
 - How to Locate and Select a Researcher /12 The Manager-Researcher Relationship /12
- Internal versus External Consultants/Researchers /13
 - Advantages of Internal Consultants/Researchers /14
 - Disadvantages of Internal Researchers /14 External Consultants/Researchers /15
- Knowledge About Research and Managerial Effectiveness /16
- Ethics and Business Research /17
- Summary /17
- Discussion Questions and Points to Ponder /17

CHAPTER 2 SCIENTIFIC INVESTIGATION /19

- The Hallmarks of Scientific Research /21

- Purposiveness /21 Rigor /21
- Testability /22 Replicability /22
- Precision and Confidence /23
- Objectivity /23 Generalizability /24
- Parsimony /25
- Some Obstacles to Conducting Scientific Research in the Management Area /25
- The Building Blocks of Science /26
 - Deduction and Induction /26
- The Hypothetico-Deductive Method /28
 - The Seven-Step Process in the Hypothetico-Deductive Method /28
 - Two Examples of the Application of the Hypothetico-Deductive Method in Organizations /31 Review of the Hypothetico-Deductive Method /34
- Summary /34
- Discussion Questions and Points to Ponder /34

CHAPTER 3 COMPUTER TECHNOLOGY AND BUSINESS RESEARCH /36

- Information Needs in Business /38
- Computer Technology and Business /38
- Advantages of Computers /39
- PC Applications Using Software /40
 - Groupware /41 Neural Networks /41
 - CAM/CAD /41 ERP /41 Data Analytic Software Programs /42
- Growth of Core Business Applications of the PC /43
 - The Internet and the Intranet /43
 - Browsers /44 Web Sites /44
 - Electronic Mail (e-mail) /45

Other PC Advances Useful to Business, Research, and Data Presentation /45
 The Role of Information Systems in Managerial Decision Making /46
 Data Warehousing, Data Mining, and Decision Support 47
 Management Information System /48
 The Future of Computer Technology /49
 Managerial Implications of Technological Advancements /49
 Ethics in Handling Information Technology /50
 Summary /50
 Discussion Questions and Points to Ponder /50

CHAPTER 4

THE RESEARCH PROCESS: STEPS 1 TO 3: THE BROAD PROBLEM AREA, PRELIMINARY DATA GATHERING, PROBLEM DEFINITION /52

The Research Process for Applied and Basic Research /53
 Broad Problem Area /55
 Preliminary Data Collection /56
 Nature of Data to Be Collected /56
 Background Information of the Organization /57
 Information on Structural Factors and Management Philosophy /58
 Perceptions, Attitudes, and Behavioral Responses /59
 Literature Survey /61
 Reasons for Literature Survey /61
 Conducting the Literature Survey /63
 Identifying the Relevant Sources /63
 Extracting the Relevant Information /64
 Writing up the Literature Review /64
 Examples of Two Literature Surveys /65
 Problem Definition /67
 Examples of Well-Defined Problems /68
 Managerial Implications /69

Ethical Issues in the Preliminary Stages of Investigation /69
 Summary /70
 Discussion Questions and Points to Ponder /70
 Practice Projects /71
 APPENDIX /72
 Section 1: Some On-Line Databases Useful for Business Research /72
 Section 2: Bibliographical Indexes /72
 Section 3: APA Format for Referencing Relevant Articles /77
 Section 4: Referencing and Quotation in the Literature Review Section /79
 Section 5: Frequently Cited Business Journals /81

CHAPTER 5

THE RESEARCH PROCESS: STEPS 4 AND 5: THEORETICAL FRAMEWORK HYPOTHESIS DEVELOPMENT /89

The Need for a Theoretical Framework /90
 Variables /90
 Types of Variables /92
 The Distinction Between an Independent Variable and a Moderating Variable /97
 Intervening Variable /99
 Theoretical Framework /102
 The Components of the Theoretical Framework /102
 Theoretical Framework for Example 5.13 /104
 Hypotheses Development /108
 Definition of Hypothesis /108
 Statement of Hypothesis: Formats /108
 Directional and Nondirectional Hypotheses /109
 Null and Alternate Hypotheses /110
 Hypothesis Testing with Qualitative Research: Negative Case Analysis /114
 Summary /117
 Discussion Questions and Points to

CHAPTER 6

THE RESEARCH PROCESS:

STEP 6: ELEMENTS OF RESEARCH DESIGN /120

The Research Design /121
The Purpose of the Study: Exploratory, Descriptive, Hypothesis Testing (Analytical and Predictive), Case Study Analysis /123
 Exploratory Study /123 Descriptive Study /125 Hypotheses Testing /127
 Case Studies /128 Review of the Purpose of the Study /129
Type of Investigation: Causal versus Correlational /129
Extent of Researcher Interference with the Study /131
Study Setting: Contrived and Noncontrived /133
Unit of Analysis: Individuals, Dyads, Groups, Organizations, Cultures /135
Time Horizon: Cross-Sectional versus Longitudinal Studies /138
 Cross-Sectional Studies /138 Longitudinal Studies /139 Review of Elements of Research Design /140
Managerial Implications /140
Summary /141
Discussion Questions and Points to Ponder /141
Exercises /142

CHAPTER 7

EXPERIMENTAL DESIGNS /144

The Laboratory (Lab) Experiment and the Field Experiment /147
 The Lab Experiment /147
Control /147
Manipulation of the Independent Variable /148

Controlling the Contaminating Exogenous or "Nuisance" Variables /149
 Matching Groups /149 Randomization /150
Internal Validity /151
External Validity or Generalizability of Lab Experiments /152
The Field Experiment /152
External Validity /153
Trade-Off between Internal and External Validity /153
Factors Affecting Internal Validity /154
 History Effects /154 Maturation Effects /155 Testing Effects /155
 Instrumentation Effects /156 Selection Bias Effects /157 Statistical Regression /157 Mortality /158
Identifying Threats to Internal Validity /158
Internal Validity in Case Studies /160
Factors Affecting External Validity /160
 Review of Factors Affecting Internal and External Validity /161
Types of Experimental Designs and Internal Validity /161
 Quasi-Experimental Designs /161
 True Experimental Designs /163
 Solomon Four-Group Design and Threats to Internal Validity /164
 Double-Blind Studies /166 Ex Post Facto Designs /166
Simulation /166
Ethical Issues in Experimental Design Research /168
Managerial Implications /169
Summary /170
Discussion Questions and Points to Ponder /171
APPENDIX: Further Experimental Designs /172
The Completely Randomized Design /172
Randomized Block Design /173
Latin Square Design /174
Factorial Design /175

CHAPTER 8

MEASUREMENT OF VARIABLES: OPERATIONAL DEFINITION AND SCALES /176

- How Variables Are Measured /176
- Operational Definition: Dimensions and Elements /178
 - What an Operational Definition is Not /183
 - A Measure of Student Learning /186
 - Review of Operational Definition /186
- Scales /187
 - Nominal Scale /187
 - Ordinal Scale /188
 - Interval Scale /189
 - Ratio Scale /191
 - Review of Scales /194
- Summary /194
- Discussion Questions and Points to Ponder /194
- Exercises /195

CHAPTER 9

MEASUREMENT: SCALING, RELIABILITY, VALIDITY /196

- Rating Scales /197
 - Dichotomous Scale /198
 - Category Scale /198
 - Likert Scale /198
 - Semantic Differential Scale /198
 - Numerical Scale /199
 - Itemized Rating Scale /199
 - Fixed or Constant Sum Scale /200
 - Stapel Scale /200
 - Graphic Rating Scale /201
 - Consensus Scale /201
 - Other Scales /202
- Ranking Scales /202
 - Paired Comparison /202
 - Forced Choice /203
 - Comparative Scale /203
- Goodness of Measures /203
- Item Analysis /204
- Reliability /204
 - Stability of Measures /205
 - Internal Consistency of Measures /206
- Validity /207
 - Content Validity /207
 - Criterion-Related Validity /207
 - Construct Validity /208
- Summary /210

- Discussion Questions and Points to Ponder /210
- Exercise /210
- APPENDIX: Examples of Some Measures /211
- Measures from Management Research /211
- Measures from Marketing Research /214

CHAPTER 10

DATA COLLECTION METHODS /219

- Data Collection Methods, Settings, and Sources of Data /221
 - Data Collection Methods /221
 - Setting /221
 - Sources /221
- Interviewing /222
- Unstructured and Structured Interviews /222
 - Unstructured Interviews /222
 - Structured Interviews /224
 - Training Interviewers /225
 - Review of Unstructured and Structured Interviews /225
 - Some Tips to Follow in Interviewing /226
 - Establishing Credibility and Rapport, and Motivating Individuals to Respond /227
 - The Questioning Technique /228
 - Review of Tips to Follow in Interviewing /229
 - Face-to-Face and Telephone Interviews /229
 - Additional Sources of Bias in Interview Data /231
 - Computer-Assisted Interviewing /231
 - Advantages of Computer Packages /233
 - Review of Interviewing /233
- Questionnaires /233
 - Personally Administered Questionnaires /234
 - Mail Questionnaires /234
- Guidelines for Questionnaire Design /235
 - Principles of Wording /235
 - Classification Data or Personal Information /240
- Cross-Cultural Research /242
 - Special Issues in Instrumentation for Cross-Cultural Research /242
 - Issues in

- Data Collection /242
- Principles of Measurement /243
- General Appearance or “Getup” of the Questionnaire /244
- Important Aspects of Questionnaires /244
 - A Good Introduction /244 Organizing Questions, Giving Instructions and Guidance, and Good Alignment /245
 - Personal Data /245 Information on Income and Other Sensitive Personal Data /246
 - Open-Ended Questions at the End /247
 - Concluding the Questionnaire /248
 - Review of Questionnaire Design /248
 - Pretesting of Structured Questions /248
- Electronic Questionnaire and Surveys /249
- Other Methods of Data Collection /251
 - Observational Surveys /251
 - Structured versus Unstructured Observational Studies /252
 - Advantages and Disadvantages of Observational Studies /252
 - Biases in Observational Studies /253
 - Summary of Observational Studies /254
- Data Collection Through Mechanical Observation /254
- Projective Methods /254
- Secondary Data /255
- Some Special Data Sources /256
 - Focus Groups /256
 - Other Secondary Sources of Information /256
- Panels /257
 - Static and Dynamic Panels /257
- Multimethods of Data Collection /258
 - Review of the Advantages and Disadvantages of Different Data Collection Methods and When to Use Each /258
- Managerial Advantage /259
- Ethics in Data Collection /260
- Summary /261
- Discussion Questions and Points to Ponder /262
- Exercises /262

CHAPTER 11

SAMPLING /264

- Population Element, Population Frame, Sample, and Subject /266
 - Population /266
 - Element /266
 - Population Frame /266
 - Sample /267
 - Subject /267
- Sampling /267
 - Reasons for Sampling /268
 - Representativeness of Samples /268
- Normality of Distributions /269
- Probability and Nonprobability Sampling /270
- Probability Sampling /271
 - Unrestricted or Simple Random Sampling /271
 - Restricted or Complex Probability Sampling /271
 - Review of Probability Sampling Designs /277
- Nonprobability Sampling /277
 - Convenience Sampling /277
 - Purposive Sampling /278
 - Review of Nonprobability Sampling Designs /279
 - Examples of when Certain Sampling Designs are Appropriate /280
- Sampling in Cross-Cultural Research /287
- Issues of Precision and Confidence in Determining Sample Size /287
 - Precision /288
 - Confidence /289
- Sample Data, Precision, and Confidence in Estimation /289
- Trade-Off Between Confidence and Precision /290
- Sample Data and Hypothesis Testing /291
- Determining the Sample Size /293
- Importance of Sampling Design and Sample Size /296
- Efficiency in Sampling /296
- Sampling as Related to Qualitative Studies /297
 - Review of Sample Size Decisions /297
- Summary /297
- Discussion Questions and Points to Ponder /298
- Exercises /299

CHAPTER 12

DATA ANALYSIS AND INTERPRETATION /301

Getting Data Ready for Analysis /302

Editing Data /303 Handling Blank Responses /303 Coding /304 Categorization /306 Entering Data /307

Data Analysis /307

Basic Objectives in Data Analysis /307
Feel for the Data /307 Testing Goodness of Data /308 Reliability /308 Validity /309 Hypothesis Testing /309

Data Analysis and Interpretation /310

Research Done in Excelsior

Enterprises /310

Some Preliminary Steps /312
Checking the Reliability of Measures: Cronbach's Alpha /312 Obtaining Descriptive Statistics: Frequency Distributions /313 Inferential Statistics: Pearson Correlation /315 Hypothesis Testing /316 Overall Interpretation and Recommendations to the President /323

Use of Expert Systems in Choosing the Appropriate Statistical Tests /324

Summary /324

Discussion Questions and Points to Ponder /325

APPENDIX: Data Analysis Using Excel /327

Analysis of the Accounting Chair Data Set Using Excel /327

Analysis Using Excel /328

CHAPTER 13

THE RESEARCH REPORT /340

The Written Report /341

The Written Report and Its Purpose /342 The Written Report and Its Audience /345 Characteristics of a Well-Written Report /346 Contents of the Research Report /346

Integral Parts of the Report /347

The Title Page of the Research Report /347 Table of Contents /348 Authorization Letter /348 The Executive Summary or Synopsis /348 The Introductory Section /349 The Body of the Report /350 The Final Part of the Report /350 Acknowledgment /352 References /352 Appendix /353

Oral Presentation /354

Deciding on the Content /354 Visual Aids /355 The Presenter /355 The Presentation /356 Handling Questions /356

Summary /356

Discussion Questions and Points to Ponder /357

APPENDIX /358

Report 1: Sample of a Report

Involving a Descriptive Study /358

Report 2: Sample of a Report Where an Idea Has to Be "SOLD" /362

Report 3: Sample of a Report Offering Alternative Solutions and Explaining the Pros and Cons of Each Alternative /365

Report 4: Example of an Abridged Basic Research Report /367

CHAPTER 14

MANAGERIAL DECISION MAKING AND RESEARCH /373

Scientific Research and Managerial Decision Making /373

Purposive Research /375 Decision-Making Processes in Applying Results from Different Types of Research /375

Case Study of the Cradle of Indian Handcrafts /376

Background Information /376 Method

of Operation /377	Some Issues Facing the Company /378
The Consulting Team and Its Approach /379
Problem Delineation /379	The Team's Method of Approach for Collecting Information /380
The India Experience /380	The Customs Issue /380
David's Conversations with Others /381	The U.S. Clients /381
Conversations with the Vice President Regarding Reallocation of Responsibilities When a New Manager Is Recruited /382	List of the Team's Recommendations /383
Reallocation of Duties and Responsibilities When a New Manager Is Hired /384
Assessment of the Quality of Research Done /385
Nature of the Investigation /385
How Scientific Is This Study? /387
What Else Could Have Been Done? /387
Domestic /387	India /388
How Has the Research Facilitated the Decision-Making Process for the President of the Cradle of Indian Handcrafts? /389
Summary /390
Discussion Questions and Points to Ponder /390

A FINAL NOTE TO THE STUDENT /392

MODULE A REFRESHER ON SOME STATISTICAL TERMS AND TESTS /394

Descriptive Statistics /395
Frequencies /396	Measures of Central Tendencies and Dispersion /397
Inferential Statistics /401
Correlations /401	Relationship Among Two Nominal Variables: χ^2 Test /403
Significant Mean Differences between Two Groups: The t -Test /404
Significant Mean Differences among Multiple Groups: ANOVA /405
Multiple Regression Analyses /406
Other Tests and Analysis /408
Analysis of Qualitative Data /410
Managerial Relevance /413
Summary /413
Discussion Questions /414
