

CRITICAL THINKING

DEVELOPING AN EFFECTIVE WORLDVIEW

GARY JASON

Contents

Preface	vii
Part One: The Elements of Critical Thinking: Statements, Questions, and Arguments	1
Chapter 1: Critical Thinking: Developing an Effective Worldview	1
1. Critical Thinking and Mental Models	1
2. Clarity and Consistency	2
3. Relevance	3
4. Justification and Explanatory/Predictive Power	4
5. The Usefulness of Critical Thinking	4
6. The Organization of This Book	5
Chapter 2: Grasping Assertions	7
1. Assertions and Sentences	7
2. Statement Forms: Simple and Compound	8
3. Statement Forms: Particular and General	13
+4. Statement Content: Necessary versus Contingent	15
+5. Statement Content: Factual versus Evaluative	17
Chapter 3: Understanding Questions	21
1. Questions and Sentences	21
2. Types of Questions	24
3. Responsive Answers	27
4. Fallacies of Questions	30
Chapter 4: Identifying Arguments	34
1. Premises and Conclusions	34
2. Identifying Single Arguments	35
3. Spotting Enthymemes	44
4. Telling Arguments from Other Things	48

5. The Uses of Arguments	56
6. Interwoven Arguments	59
Chapter 5: Types of Arguments	69
1. Two Types of Evidential Relations	69
2. Deductive Argument Forms	74
3. Inductive Argument Forms	78
<hr/>
Part Two: The Goals of Critical Thinking: Clarity, Relevance, Consistency, Justification, and Explanatory Power	83
Chapter 6: Pitfalls of Language	83
1. Pitfalls of Language	83
2. Verbosity and Jargon	83
3. Vagueness	86
4. Loaded Language	88
5. Understatement and Overstatements	94
6. Ambiguity	98
7. Synonymy	109
8. Figurative Language	110
Chapter 7: Definition and Classification	113
1. Two Tools for Organizing Thought and Clarifying Language	113
2. Types of Definition	113
3. Sense and Reference	115
4. Methods of Definition	117
5. Rules for Explicit Definitions	119
+6. Analogical Definition	121
7. Classification	125
Chapter 8: Topical Relevance	130
1. Relevance and Questions	130
2. Fallacies of Refusing to Answer	131
3. Fallacies of Emotional Appeal	134
4. Fallacies of Ignoring the Issue	158
Chapter 9: Truth-Functional Logic	171
1. Basic Concepts of Deductive Logic	171
2. Truth Table Calculations	173
3. Symbolization	179
4. Truth Table Testing for Consistency	183
5. Truth Table Testing of Implication and Validity	188
+6. Truth Table Testing for Other Deductive Concepts	194
7. Summary	200

Chapter 10: Class Logic	202
1. A Closer Look at Statements	202
2. Statements Involving Two Classes	206
3. Venn Testing for Consistency	212
4. Venn Testing for Implication and Validity	217
+5. Venn Testing for Other Concepts	222
6. Summary of Concepts	228
7. The Limitations of Truth-Functional and Class Logic	228
 Chapter 11: Observation, Memory, and Testimony	 231
1. Sensing, Observing, and Reporting	231
2. Assessing Observation	232
3. Assessing Testimony	235
4. Assessing Expert Testimony	241
+5. Observation in Natural Science	250
 Chapter 12: Inductive Generalization and Inductive Instantiation	 253
1. The Pervasiveness of Inductive Generalization	253
2. Criteria for Assessing Generalizations	254
3. The Fallacy of Hasty Generalization	260
4. Defeasibility and General Rules	266
5. The Statistical Syllogism	267
6. The Fallacy of Accident	270
+7. Authority and Attacking the Person Reconsidered	271
 Chapter 13: Analogies	 274
1. The Uses of Analogy	274
2. Descriptive and Definitional Analogies	277
3. Analogical Arguments	278
+4. The Heuristic Use of Analogies	285
+5. Models in Science	286
+6. Analogies in Legal Reasoning	289
 Chapter 14: Causal Inference	 293
1. The Relation of Cause and Effect	293
2. Evidence for Causal Claims: Temporal and Statistical Linkages	302
3. Establishing Deterministic Causes	305
4. Establishing Statistical Causes	313
 Chapter 15: Explanation, Hypothesis, and Prediction	 318
1. Key Concepts	318
2. Types of Explanation	320
3. A Closer Look at Causal Explanations	322
4. Rules for Forming Hypotheses	323
5. Rules for Assessing Hypotheses	325

Part Three: Application of Critical Thinking: Decisions in a Democratic Market Economy	329
Chapter 16: Decision Making: A General Model	329
1. Decisions, Decisions	329
2. Framing the Decision Question	330
3. Identifying the Alternatives	331
4. Identifying the Criteria	333
5. Weighing the Criteria and Alternatives	334
6. Putting It All Together: Selecting the Best Option	334
7. Common Psychological Pitfalls	337
Chapter 17: Application I: Advertising and Consumer Choice	338
1. The Pervasiveness of Consumer Choice	338
2. Psychological Mechanisms Exploited by Sales Agents	338
3. The Role of Advertising in Manipulating Demand	341
4. The Role of Advertising in Misinforming Consumers about Costs and Benefits	350
5. Overcoming Sales Trickery	354
Chapter 18: Application II: Political Rhetoric and Democratic Choice	356
1. Political Agents	356
2. Common Political Rhetorical Tricks	357
3. Overcoming Political Trickery	378
Glossary	381
Bibliography	393
Answers to Even-Numbered Exercises	397
Index	445