

The Microbiological Safety of Food in Healthcare Settings

Edited by Barbara M. Lund
and Paul R. Hunter

Blackwell
Publishing

Contents

Contributors	iv
Foreword	vi
Preface	ix
Acknowledgement	x
Abbreviations	xi
Interconversion of °C and °F	xii
1 Overview	1
PATRICK G. WALL
2 Properties of microorganisms that cause foodborne disease	12
BARBARA M. LUND
3 The surveillance of foodborne disease and its application in healthcare settings	234
JOHN M. COWDEN AND JACQUI REILLY
4 Foodborne disease outbreaks in healthcare settings	251
SARAH J. O'BRIEN
5 Vulnerable populations and their susceptibility to foodborne diseases	290
DAVID W.K. ACHESON AND LISA F. LUBIN
6 Provision of food in healthcare settings	320
DINAH BARRIE
7 Provision of water in healthcare settings	337
PAUL R. HUNTER
8 Practical implementation of food safety management systems in healthcare settings	351
JON-MIKEL WOODY AND DIANNE L. BENJAMIN
Index	381