

managing stress and conflict in libraries

An abstract graphic at the bottom of the cover features overlapping, translucent, colorful shapes in shades of blue, green, yellow, pink, and purple, resembling a complex knot or a cluster of organic forms.

sheila pantry

Contents

Acknowledgements ix

Glossary xi

Introduction xiii

1 Current concerns worldwide 1

- A worldwide problem 1
- The changing world of work 2
- Research and legislation 3
- Definitions of violence, stress and harassment at work 5
- Costs of workplace stress and bullying 8
- Tackling the problem 8

2 Are you at risk? 13

- Why information centres and libraries? 14
- What are the causes? 14
- What counts as aggressive and abusive behaviour? 15
- Whose concern is it? 18
- Being constantly alert 19
- How this behaviour can affect you 20
- Making sure you are safe 21
- Deciding if there is a problem 22
- The first steps 22
- Record all incidents 23
- Classify all incidents 24

3 The business case 27

Management of change – keeping staff involved and informed 27

Dealing with internal conflict, managerial pressure and external pressures 28

Management commitment to staff 29

Strong management or bullying? 29

Staffing issues affected by aggression in the workplace 30

Other issues affected by aggression in the workplace 32

Is it my concern? 33

Protecting against litigation 34

4 Risk assessment 35

The need for risk assessments 35

Legal responsibilities 36

What is a risk assessment? 37

Five steps to risk assessment 39

5 Carrying out risk assessments 41

How a risk assessment should be carried out 41

What happens at each step 42

Some Frequently Asked Questions 47

6 Advice, guidance and legislation galore 51

Legislation that will help you 51

Guidance and advice 53

Preventative measures 53

What if your management thinks there is no problem? 60

7 Now is the time for you to act! 63

What to do if you and your colleagues do have a problem 63

Preventative measures 64

Implementation 72

Monitoring 73

8 Dealing with aggression and violence 75

Steps to improve your personal safety 75

Actually dealing with all forms of aggression and violence 78

Staff guidelines for dealing with an incident 80

Training 81

Networking 85

Counselling arrangements 86

9 Support you can expect after an incident 87

Introduction 87

Using the grievance procedure 87

What about the victims? 89

Reactions to an incident 90

What to do after an incident has occurred 91

Long-term support 92

Police action 93

HSE management standards 93

Identifying necessary improvements following an incident 93

10 You are not alone 95

Information sent in by CILIP's Library + Information Gazette readers 95

Appendices 109

A Bibliography 111

B Websites 121

C Advice centres 123

D Legislation 131

Index 135