

GENDER, SPORT, SCIENCE

SELECTED WRITINGS OF
ROBERTA J. PARK

Edited by

J. A. Mangan and Patricia Vertinsky

CONTENTS

Series Editors' Foreword	vii
Other Titles in the Series	x
1 Prologue: Roberta J. Park, Polymathic and Polymorphic Pioneer: A Personal Appreciation J. A. Mangan	1
2 'Embodied Selves': The Rise and Development of Concern for Physical Education, Active Games and Recreation for American Women, 1776–1865 Roberta J. Park	8
3 Biological Thought, Athletics and the Formation of a 'Man of Character': 1830–1900 Roberta J. Park	43
4 Sport, Gender and Society in a Transatlantic Victorian Perspective Roberta J. Park	69
5 Muscles, Symmetry and Action: 'Do You Measure Up?' Defining Masculinity in Britain and America from the 1860s to the Early 1900s Roberta J. Park	102
6 Physiologists, Physicians, and Physical Educators: Nineteenth Century Biology and Exercise, Hygienic and Educative Roberta J. Park	135
7 Science, Service, and the Professionalization of Physical Education: 1885–1905 Roberta J. Park	171
8 'Cells or Soaring?': Historical Reflectons on 'Visions' of Body, Athletics, and Modern Olympism Roberta J. Park	197
9 Epilogue: Roberta J. Park and the 'Impossible Dream': Keeping it Together for Physical Education and the Academy Patricia Vertinsky	219
10 List of Roberta Park's Publications	249
Index	255