

Advances in Librarianship

Volume 27

Contents

Contributors ix

Preface xi

Consortial Actions and Collaborative Achievements: RLG's Preservation Program 1

Robin L. Dale

- I. Introduction 1
- II. RLG's Preservation Program 2
- III. The 1970s: Pioneers in Collaborative Preservation 3
- IV. The Growth of Collaborative Preservation 4
- V. Building on the Model: RLG Microfilming Projects 6
- VI. How-to Manuals: The RLG Guidelines for Preservation Microfilming 9
- VII. Beyond Microfilming 11
- VIII. Needs Assessment 11
- IX. Photograph Preservation 12
- X. Digitization and Digital Preservation 13
- IX. Conclusion 21
- References 22

OCLC's Digital Preservation Program for the Next Generation Library 25

Meg Bellinger, Pam Kircher, Taylor Surface and Leah Houser

- I. Introduction 25
- II. OCLC and Three Generations of Digital Library Development 27
- III. Digital Collection and Preservation Services 32
- IV. Conclusion 46
- References 47

The Preservation of Moving Images 49

Karen F. Gracy and Michèle Valerie Cloonan

- I. Introduction 49
- II. Definition of Moving Image Preservation 50
- III. Moving Image Media Stability and Obsolescence 52
- IV. Historical and Institutional Contexts for Preserving Moving Images 56
- V. Short- and Long-Term Strategies for Preservation 72
- VI. Strategies for Access 79
- VII. Tensions Between Preservation and Access 83
- VIII. Moving Image Preservation and the Preservation Continuum 85
- Appendix I 87
- References 93

Sound Preservation: From Analog to Digital 97

Michael Seadle

- I. Introduction and Methodology 97
- II. Conversion Technology 98
- III. Digital Standards 104
- IV. Legal Issues 109
- V. Financial Issues 113
- VI. Conclusion 115
- Acknowledgments 116
- References 116

Funding for Library Preservation: Endowments as Income Streams 119

Whitney Pape and Eric C. Shoaf

- I. Preservation Funding in Libraries 119
- II. Grant-Funded Library Preservation Projects 122
- III. Literature on Preservation Endowments in Libraries 124
- IV. Preservation Endowments in United States Libraries 125
- V. The NEH Preservation Endowment at Brown University 130
- VI. Establishing a Preservation Endowment 137
- VII. An Under-Utilized Preservation Funding Source 141
- Appendix I 142
- Appendix II 143

Appendix III	147
References	157

Library Storage as a Preservation Strategy 159

Catherine Murray-Rust

I. Introduction	159
II. A Brief History of Library Storage	160
III. Cycles of Growth and Construction: The Cornell University Experience	161
IV. Storage Methods	163
V. Institutional Storage Solutions	165
VI. Cooperative Storage Solutions	165
VII. Storage Conditions	167
VIII. The Relationship Between Storage and Preservation	170
IX. The Harvard Innovation	171
X. Automated Storage and Retrieval Systems	172
XI. Applying Preservation Standards, Guidelines, Tools, and Techniques to Stored Collections	174
XII. Storage as an Explicit Preservation Strategy	178
References	179

Preserving Electronic Government Information: What Role Does Policy Play? 185

M. Elizabeth Cowell

I. Introduction	185
II. Changing Formats and the FDL P	186
III. Pitfalls of the Access Only Model	191
IV. A New Model	194
V. Conclusion	195
References	196

Fire Recovery and Preservation of Collections at the Russian Academy of Sciences Library 199

Valerii P. Leonov, Irina M. Belayeva and Julia P. Nyuksha

I. Introduction	199
II. The Fire	200
III. Fire Recovery	201
IV. Conclusions	217
Recommended Readings	218

Partner Library Programs: The Colorado Programs 219

Nancy M. Bolt and Lisa Cole

- I. Origins and Implementation of the Bulgaria/Colorado Library Partnership Project, Nancy Bolt 219
- II. An Evaluation Study of the Bulgaria/Colorado Library Partnership Project, Lisa Cole 237
- III. What Makes a Successful Partnership, Nancy Bolt and Lisa Cole 250
- Appendix I 252
- References 252

Index 255