

Historicizing

CANADIAN ANTHROPOLOGY

Edited by Julia Harrison and Regna Darnell

Contents

- 1 Historicizing Traditions in Canadian Anthropology / 3
Julia Harrison and Regna Darnell

Part 1: Situating Ourselves Historically and Theoretically

- 2 Disciplinary Tribes and Territories: Alliances and Skirmishes between Anthropology and History / 19
A.B. McKillop
- 3 Toward a Historiography of Canadian Anthropology / 30
Robert L.A. Hancock

Part 2: The Pre-professional History of Canadian Anthropology

- 4 The Erasure of Horatio Hale's Contributions to Boasian Anthropology / 44
David Nock
- 5 Marius Barbeau and the Methodology of Salvage Ethnography in Canada, 1911-51 / 52
Andrew Nurse
- 6 Iroquoian Archaeology, the Public, and Native Communities in Victorian Ontario / 65
Michelle A. Hamilton

Part 3: Locating Our Subjects

- 7 Canadian Anthropology and the Ethnography of "Indian Administration" / 78
Noel Dyck

- 8 Canadian Anthropology and Ideas of Aboriginal Emendation / 93
Colin Buchanan
- 9 A Comparative History of “Cultural Rights” in South Africa
and Canada / 107
Evie Plaice
- 10 Canadian Anthropologists in China Studies / 122
Josephine Smart and Alan Smart

Part 4: Documenting Institutional Relations

- 11 Departmental Networks in Canadian Anthropology / 137
Regna Darnell
- 12 Canadian Anthropology as a Situated Conversation / 147
Richard K. Pope
- 13 Anthropology and Sociology at the University of British Columbia from 1947 to the 1980s / 157
Elvi Whittaker and Michael M. Ames
- 14 Anthropology at Université Laval: The Early Years, 1958-70 / 173
Marc-Adélar Tremblay
- 15 Expatriates in the Ivory Tower: Anthropologists in Non-Anthropology
University Departments / 183
James B. Waldram and Pamela J. Downe

Part 5: Comparisons and Connections

- 16 Constituting Canadian Anthropology / 200
David Howes
- 17 The Historical Praxis of Museum Anthropology: A Canada-US
Comparison / 212
Cory Willmott
- 18 Commodifying North American Aboriginal Culture: A Canada-US
Comparison / 226
Kathy M'Closkey and Kevin Manuel

- 19 Canadian Anthropology and the Cold War / 242
Nelson H.H. Graburn
- 20 Texts and Contexts in Canadian Anthropology / 253
Penny Van Esterik
- 21 Just a Little Off-Centre or Not Peripheral Enough? Paradoxes for the Reproduction of Canadian Anthropology / 266
Vered Amit
- Postscript / 275
- Notes and Acknowledgments / 278
- References / 288
- Contributors / 321
- Index / 324