

Public Health Nursing

A Textbook for Health Visitors, School
Nurses and Occupational Health Nurses

Edited by
Greta Thornbory

Contents

Contributors	xi
Forewords by Ingrid Callwood, Woody Caan and Anne Harriss	xiii
Preface	xvii
Acknowledgements	xix
Abbreviations	xxi
1 What Is Public Health?	1
Cécile Knai
Introduction	1
The development of modern public health	2
Successes and challenges in public health	6
Implications for public health practitioners	10
Summary	15
References	16
2 Public Health Nursing	21
Gill Coverdale
Introduction	21
The definition of nursing and public health nursing	22
The role of the statutory bodies: the statutory and mandatory aspects of SCPHN registration	26
The role of professional bodies	28
The developing role of public health: prevention and health promotion	32
The challenges for public health nursing	36
Improving the role - what are the solutions?	39
Summary	41
References	42
3 Theoretical Perspectives of Health Visiting	46
Faith Muir and Paul Reynolds
Introduction	46
Historical perspective	46
Health visiting in context: the current debate	49
Extending the boundaries	50

Community health visiting	52
Health visiting diaries: what health visitors need to know	59
Social capital: the myth of a collective and cohesive partnership	64
Summary	68
References	69
4 Health Visiting in Practice	74
Faith Muir and Paul Reynolds
Introduction	74
Health inequalities	75
Motivation	91
Assessing need	93
Summary	97
References	97
5 The Development of School Nursing	100
Mary Smith and Sarah Sherwin
Introduction	100
History of the school health service	101
School nursing in the twenty-first century	109
Accountability	110
Safeguarding children	115
Vulnerable groups	116
Accountability to the employer	119
Accountability to the profession	120
The development of the role of the SCPHN - school nurse	121
Summary	122
References	122
6 School Nursing and School Health Practice	126
Sarah Sherwin and Mary Smith
Introduction	126
Structure of school health teams	127
Specialist community public health nursing and school nursing	130
Search for health needs	130
Health needs assessments and school health plans	131
Facilitating health-enhancing activities	133
Stimulating an awareness of health needs	142
Influencing policy development	146
Summary	147
References	149

7 What Is Occupational Health?	153
Greta Thornbory
Introduction	153
The history of OH services	154
Delivering OH services	156
Good health is good business: the legal aspects	163
Good health is good business: the financial aspects	168
Health promotion	170
Summary	174
References	175
8 Occupational Health Nursing Practice	177
Greta Thornbory
Introduction	177
The role of the OHN	183
Health surveillance	189
Other considerations for monitoring health at work	195
Managing absence, disability and rehabilitation	195
Summary	201
References	201
9 Education and Continuing Professional Development of Public Health Nurses	204
Rebecca Elliott
Introduction	204
Education and CPD in relation to professional registration	206
Personal development	211
Pedagogy and andragogy	212
Personal learning styles	212
Academic levels of study	214
European quality framework	214
The need for evidence-based practice	216
Contributing to the CPD of self and others	222
Summary	224
References	225
Appendix	227
Index	229