

Who Are We?

Micr bes, the Puppet Masters!

Yuan Kun LEE

Contents

Preface	v
1. Why Do You Get a Kick Out of Roller Coaster Rides and Bungee Jumps?	1
2. Looking Into the Cells: How Human Are We?	10
3. Looking Into the Command Post of Human Cells: The Nucleus, Are We Human at All?	14
4. Why Is There So Much Junk in Our Genes?	17
5. The Tendency of Humans to Trade-off Our Body Functions Under the Assault of Disease-causing Microbes	21
6. Looking Into Our Intestines	29
7. Why Do We Have Diarrhoea?	34
8. Do We Eat Because We Need the Food?	37
9. Microbes Help Those Who Help Themselves	41
10. Are We Fat Because We Eat Too Much and Exercise Too Little?	43
11. Our Indecent Liaison with Yeast	46
12. Who Is the Father of Democracy?	49

13. The Pseudo-Tyrants	53
14. Did HIV Learn From Smallpox?	57
15. Why Are Some Pathogens More Willing to Kill the Hosts Than Others?	61
16. SARS Virus, The New Kid on the Block	63
17. Who Is Afraid of Bird Flu?	65
18. Why Do Microbes Want to Colonise the Human Body?	68
19. Does the Ability to Love Make Humans Different From Lower Forms of Organisms?	70
20. Microbes Kill for Their Offspring!	72
21. Does Your Blood Type Determine Your Fortune?	75
22. A Human Body Without Microbes?	77
References	80