

APPROACHES TO
Quantum Gravity

Toward a New Understanding of Space, Time and Matter

Edited by Daniele Oriti

CAMBRIDGE

Contents

|                                                                            |            |
|----------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------|
| List of contributors                                                | page x     |
| Preface                                                             | xv         |
| Part I Fundamental ideas and general formalisms                     | 1   |
| 1 Unfinished revolution                                                    | 3          |
| C. Rovelli                                                          |            |
| 2 The fundamental nature of space and time                                 | 13         |
| G. 't Hooft                                                         |            |
| 3 Does locality fail at intermediate length scales?                        | 26         |
| R. D. Sorkin                                                        |            |
| 4 Prolegomena to any future Quantum Gravity                                | 44         |
| J. Stachel                                                          |            |
| 5 Spacetime symmetries in histories canonical gravity                      | 68         |
| N. Savvidou                                                         |            |
| 6 Categorical geometry and the mathematical foundations of Quantum Gravity | 84         |
| L. Crane                                                            |            |
| 7 Emergent relativity                                                      | 99         |
| O. Dreyer                                                           |            |
| 8 Asymptotic safety                                                        | 111        |
| R. Percacci                                                         |            |
| 9 New directions in background independent Quantum Gravity                 | 129        |
| F. Markopoulou                                                      |            |
| Questions and answers                                               | 150        |
| Part II String/M-theory                                             | 167 |
| 10 Gauge/gravity duality                                                   | 169        |
| G. Horowitz and J. Polchinski                                       |            |

|                                                                  |                                                                                                |     |
|------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 11                                                               | String theory, holography and Quantum GravityT. Banks                               | 187 |
| 12                                                               | String field theoryW. Taylor                                                        | 210 |
|                                                                  | Questions and answers                                                                   | 229 |
| Part III Loop quantum gravity and spin foam models        |                                                                                                | 233 |
| 13                                                               | Loop quantum gravityT. Thiemann                                                     | 235 |
| 14                                                               | Covariant loop quantum gravity?E. Livine                                            | 253 |
| 15                                                               | The spin foam representation of loop quantum gravityA. Perez                        | 272 |
| 16                                                               | Three-dimensional spin foam Quantum GravityL. Freidel                               | 290 |
| 17                                                               | The group field theory approach to Quantum GravityD. Oriti                          | 310 |
|                                                                  | Questions and answers                                                                   | 332 |
| Part IV Discrete Quantum Gravity                          |                                                                                                | 339 |
| 18                                                               | Quantum Gravity: the art of building spacetimeJ. Ambjørn, J. Jurkiewicz and R. Loll | 341 |
| 19                                                               | Quantum Regge calculusR. Williams                                                   | 360 |
| 20                                                               | Consistent discretizations as a road to Quantum GravityR. Gambini and J. Pullin     | 378 |
| 21                                                               | The causal set approach to Quantum GravityJ. Henson                                 | 393 |
|                                                                  | Questions and answers                                                                   | 414 |
| Part V Effective models and Quantum Gravity phenomenology |                                                                                                | 425 |
| 22                                                               | Quantum Gravity phenomenologyG. Amelino-Camelia                                     | 427 |
| 23                                                               | Quantum Gravity and precision testsC. Burgess                                       | 450 |
| 24                                                               | Algebraic approach to Quantum Gravity II: noncommutative spacetimeS. Majid          | 466 |

|    |                                                                                                                              |     |
|----|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| 25 | Doubly special relativityJ. Kowalski-Glikman                                                                      | 493 |
| 26 | From quantum reference frames to deformed special relativityF. Girelli                                            | 509 |
| 27 | Lorentz invariance violation and its role in Quantum GravityphenomenologyJ. Collins, A. Perez and D. Sudarsky | 528 |
| 28 | Generic predictions of quantum theories of gravityL. Smolin                                                       | 548 |
|    | Questions and answers                                                                                                 | 571 |
|    | Index                                                                                                                 | 580 |