

POD

Professional and Organizational Development
Network in Higher Education

VOLUME 27

TO IMPROVE THE ACADEMY

Linda B. Nilson, Editor
Judith E. Miller, Associate Editor

Resources for Faculty, Instructional, and Organizational Development

Contents

About the Authors	xv
Preface	xxix
Acknowledgments	xxxv
Ethical Guidelines for Educational Developers	xxxvii

Section I: For and About Educational Developers	1
1 Editor's Introduction: The Educational Developer as Magician Linda B. Nilson	3
2 Experiential Lessons in the Practice of Faculty Development Ed Neal, Iola Peed-Neal	14
3 Maturation of Organizational Development in Higher Education: Using Cultural Analysis to Facilitate Change Gail F. Latta	32
4 Ten Ways to Use a Relational Database at a Faculty Development Center A. Jane Birch, Tara Gray	72
5 Magicians of the Golden State: The CSU Center Director Disappearing Acts Cynthia Desrochers	88
Section II: Helping Faculty Thrive	109
6 Practical Tools to Help Faculty Use Learner-Centered Approaches Phyllis Blumberg	111

7	Romancing the Muse: Faculty Writing Institutes as Professional Development	135
	Elizabeth Ambos, Mark Wiley, Terre H. Allen
8	Leadership for Learning: A New Faculty Development Model	150
	Jane V. Nelson, Audrey M. Kleinsasser
9	Searching for Meaning on College Campuses: Creating Programs to Nurture the Spirit	166
	Donna M. Qualters, Beverly Dolinsky, Michael Woodnick
Section III: One-on-One with Faculty		181
10	Defeating the Developer's Dilemma: An Online Tool for Individual Consultations	183
	Michele DiPietro, Susan A. Ambrose, Michael Bridges, Anne Fay, Marsha C. Lovett, Marie Kamala Norman
11	Lessons Learned from Developing a Learning-Focused Classroom Observation Form	199
	Steven K. Jones, Kenneth S. Sagendorf, D. Brent Morris, David W. Stockburger, Evelyn T. Patterson
12	Reported Long-Term Value and Effects of Teaching Center Consultations	223
	Wayne Jacobson, Donald H. Wulff, Stacy Grooters, Phillip M. Edwards, Karen Freisem
Section IV: Educational Development by Institutional Type		247
13	Promoting the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning at Community Colleges: Insights from Two Learning Communities	249
	Stanford T. Goto, Andrei Cerqueira Davis
14	Starting and Sustaining Successful Faculty Development Programs at Small Colleges	267
	Michael Reder, Kim M. Mooney, Richard A. Holmgren, Paul J. Kuerbis

15	Essential Faculty Development Programs for Teaching and Learning Centers in Research-Extensive Universities	287
	Larissa Pchenitchnaia, Bryan R. Cole
Section V: Faculty Evaluation		309
16	Establishing External, Blind Peer Review of Scholarship of Teaching and Learning Within the Disciplines	311
	Cheryl A. Stevens, Erik Rosegard
17	Learning-Centered Evaluation of Teaching	332
	Trav D. Johnson
Section VI: For the Next Generation		349
18	Meeting New Faculty at the Intersection: Personal and Professional Support Points the Way	351
	Ann Riley
19	When Mentoring Is the Medium: Lessons Learned from a Faculty Development Initiative	365
	Jung H. Yun, Mary Deane Sorcinelli
20	Preparing Advocates for Faculty Development: Expanding the Meaning of “Growing Our Own”	385
	Deborah S. Meizlish, Mary C. Wright
21	Teaching Learning Processes—to Students and Teachers	401
	Pamela E. Barnett, Linda C. Hodges
	Bibliography	425