

LIVESTOCK AND WEALTH CREATION

Improving the husbandry of animals kept by resource-poor people in developing countries

Edited by E Owen, A Kitalyi,
N Jayasuriya and T Smith

DFID Department for International Development

LPP

NOTTINGHAM
University Press

Contents

Foreword	v
Preface	vii
Acknowledgements	ix
1 Introduction – the need to change the ‘mind-set’	1
2 Why keep livestock if you are poor?	13
3 Livestock systems	29
4 The livestock and poverty assessment methodology: an overview	53
5 Livestock development and poverty	71
6 Knowledge – key to empowerment	89
7 Livestock products – valuable and more valuable	109
8 Marketing to promote trade and development	127
9 Livestock and the environment	145
10 Animal response to nutrient supply	167
11 Feeds and feeding to improve productivity and survival	191
12 Breeding strategies for sustainable improvement	215
13 Improving the health of livestock kept by the resource-poor in developing countries	233
14 Apiculture	263
15 Giant African snails	283
16 Poultry	301
17 Grasscutters, guinea pigs and rabbits	325
18 Pigs	343
19 Goats	361
20 Sheep	387
21 African camels and South American camelids	411

Preface

22	Cattle	433
23	Buffalo	451
24	Yak	473
25	Equines	489
26	Wildlife	509
27	Lessons learned and the way ahead	525
	DFID LPP projects	547
	References	551