Foreword by Huw Davis	xiv
Preface	xvii
1 Evidence-based practice: doing the right thing for patients	1
Tracey Bucknall and Jo Rycroft-Malone
Introduction	1
What is evidence-based practice?	2
What does implementation of evidence into practice mean?	5
Attributes influencing successful implementation	9
Why this book?	14
References	18
2 Theory, frameworks, and models: laying down the groundwork	23
Jo Rycroft-Malone and Tracey Bucknall
Introduction	23
Theory informed evidence-based practice	23
Using theory and frameworks for implementing evidence-based practice	30
Models and frameworks	39
Models and frameworks included in this book	44
Summary	47
References	47
3 Stetler model	51
Cheryl B. Stetler
Introduction and purpose of the model	51
Background and context	56
Intended audience and actual users of the model	61
Hypotheses and propositions	64
Use and related evaluation of the Stetler model	64
Perceived strengths and weaknesses of the model	72

	Information on barriers and facilitators to implementing the model	74
	The future	76
	Summary	76
	References	77
4	The Ottawa Model of Research Use Jo Logan and Ian D. Graham	83
	Purpose and assumptions	84
	Background and context	84
	Intended audience/users	97
	Hypotheses and research possibilities	97
	Critique (strengths and limitations of OMRU)	98
	Future possibilities	100
	Conclusion	101
	Summary: How the model can be used/applied	101
	References	102
5	Promoting Action on Research Implementation in Health Services (PARIHS) Jo Rycroft-Malone	109
	Background	110
	Purpose and assumptions	110
	Background to PARIHS' development	111
	Intended users	120
	Hypotheses and propositions	126
	Others' use of PARIHS	127
	Critique (strengths and weaknesses) of PARIHS	130
	Future plans	131
	Conclusion	132
	Summary: How PARIHS could be used	132
	References	133
6	Iowa model of evidence-based practice Marita Titler	137
	Overview and purpose	137
	Development of the model	140
	Intended users	141
	Hypothesis generation	142
	Critique (strengths and weaknesses) of the Iowa model	143
	Barriers and facilitators to model implementation	143
	Future plans for model revisions	144
	Summary: How the model can be used/applied	144
	References	144

7	Dissemination and use of research evidence for policy and practice: a framework for developing, implementing, and evaluating strategies	147
	Maureen Dobbins
	Introduction	148
	Purpose of the framework	149
	Model development	150
	Intended audience	154
	Hypothesis generation	155
	Examples of framework's use	157
	Perceived strengths and weaknesses	159
	Future plans for framework modifications	161
	Summary: How the model can be used/applied	161
	References	163
8	ARCC (Advancing Research and Clinical practice through close Collaboration): a model for system-wide implementation and sustainability of evidence-based practice	169
	Bernadette Mazurek Melnyk and Ellen Fineout-Overholt
	Purpose of and assumptions in the ARCC model	170
	Background to the ARCC model	171
	Intended users	177
	Hypotheses generated from the ARCC model	177
	Use and implementation of the ARCC model and implications for future research	179
	Critique (strengths and weaknesses) of the ARCC model	181
	Summary: How the model can be used/applied	182
	References	182
9	The Joanna Briggs Institute model of evidence-based health care as a framework for implementing evidence	185
	Alan Pearson
	Purpose and assumptions	186
	Background to the JBI model's development	186
	Intended users of the model	192
	Hypotheses and propositions	193
	Others' use of the JBI model for implementing evidence	198
	Critique (strengths and weaknesses) of the JBI model for implementing evidence	200
	Future plans	201
	Summary: How the model can be used/applied	202
	References	203

10	The Knowledge To Action framework	207
	Ian D Graham and Jacqueline M Tetroe
	Purpose of the framework	208
	Background and context	210
	Framework description	212
	Intended audiences/users	215
	Hypotheses and research possibilities – Has the framework generated hypotheses or propositions that the developers and others can and/or have been testing?	215
	Evaluation and use of the KTA framework	216
	Strengths and limitations	217
	Future plans for the development of the framework	218
	Summary: How the model can be used/applied	218
	References	219
11	Analysis and synthesis of models and frameworks	223
	Jo Rycroft-Malone and Tracey Bucknall
	Background	223
	Synthesis	226
	Conclusion	244
	References	244
12	Summary and concluding comments	247
	Jo Rycroft-Malone and Tracey Bucknall
	A note about implementation	247
	A note about impact	250
	Applying models and frameworks to guide implementation	251
	Concluding remarks	255
	References	257
	Appendix	259
