

An Introduction to Coaching

Janice Dexter
Graham Dexter
Judy Irving

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Introduction	1
1 Coaching: The Foundations	3
Introduction	3
What is coaching?	3
Coaching contexts	7
Life coaching	7
Business coaching	9
Executive coaching	11
Sports coaching	12
Career coaching	13
Differentiation of coaching	14
Coaching and counselling	15
Coaching and mentoring	16
Coaching and supervision	17
Coaching and managing	18
Coaching and training	19
Consultancy	19
Similarities and differences between coaching and other relevant activities	20
Who can coach, then?	20
When is coaching not so appropriate?	22
Summary	23
2 Models of Coaching	24
Introduction	24
Why models?	24
Models of coaching	28
GROW model	28

Solution-focused coaching	30
Prochaska and diClemente's Transtheoretical Model of Change	33
The CLEAR model	35
Egan's framework	37
Dexter and Dexter's atheoretical sequential model of coaching	41
What if there is no model?	47
Summary	47
3 Skills and Processes of Coaching	48
Introduction	48
Essential skills and techniques	48
Rapport	49
Listening	51
The micro skills of responding	52
Summarising	56
Skills of challenge within coaching	57
Facilitation	59
Heron's modes	59
Heron's dimensions	60
Heron's styles	60
Contracting	62
What might be covered in a contract?	63
How will the contract be met?	63
Summary	65
4 Learning and Transformation: Ways that Change Minds	66
Introduction	66
What does learning mean?	67
Mezirow's concept of transformational learning	68
Malcolm Knowles and adult learning theory	69
Learning processes: Gagne	70
Seven steps in learning	71
Theories of behavioural learning	71
Bandura and social learning theory	72
Pavlov and classical conditioning	73
Skinner and learning theory	75
Reinforcement quiz	81
Summary	83

5	Motivation and Transformation: Ways that Minds Change	85
	Introduction	85
	Theories of unconscious motivation	86
	Mental mechanisms related to coaching	88
	Compliance and conformity as motivators	91
	Personality, self and identity	92
	Personality	93
	Dilts' logical levels of change	94
	Erikson	98
	Trust versus mistrust	99
	Autonomy versus shame and doubt	99
	Industry versus inferiority	99
	Identity versus role confusion	100
	Intimacy versus isolation	100
	Generativity versus stagnation	100
	Integrity versus despair	101
	Maslow	102
	Herzberg's work and motivation	104
	Summary	106
6	Broadening Horizons and Setting Goals	108
	Introduction	108
	The past to the present	109
	Yesterday and today	109
	Why goals and how are they moderated?	110
	The mechanisms of goal setting	112
	Precision goals	114
	Goal ladder	117
	Goal alignment	120
	Crafting the future	123
	Summary	125
7	Beyond Procrastination and Making Plans that Work	126
	Introduction	126
	The principles of Neuro Linguistic Programming	127
	Reframing	129
	Transactional Analysis	131
	The Drama Triangle	134
	Making a stepped plan	135

Supporting the future linguistically	137
Specific language skills	138
Embedded commands, questions and negative commands	139
Stacking the linguistic odds; elegant elocution	139
Planning continued	141
Challenging faulty thinking	141
Challenging beliefs	144
Language and motivation	146
Ratchets	148
Eliciting values	149
Summary	150
8 Professional Issues in Becoming a Coach	152
Introduction	152
Ethical issues and codes of practice	152
Evaluation of the work and evidence-based practice	156
Supervision	160
Models of supervision	162
Development as a coach	166
Summary	168
9 Being Out There: Presenting and Marketing Coaching	169
Introduction	169
Who am I marketing? My ethical self	170
So what am I marketing?	172
So where and how am I marketing?	173
Presentation	175
Presentation of content	178
Summary	180
10 A Final Word	182
Sample template	183
Step 1: Contract parameters	183
Step 2: Achieving clarity	183
Step 3: Move to the future	184
Step 4: Moving to action	185
Conclusion	186
Appendix: Transcript of an Online Coaching Session	187
Bibliography	192
Index	199