

COMMUNICATION and SPORT

Surveying the Field

Andrew C. Billings | Michael L. Butterworth | Paul D. Turman

Detailed Contents

Preface	xiii
Acknowledgments	xvii
About the Authors	xix
Chapter 1. Introduction to Communication and Sport	1
Case Study: Cozart's Community	3
Interview: Bob Costas, NBC Sports, and MLB Network	5
Communication and Sport	6
Communication	8
Sport	9
Perspectives and Approaches	10
Community and Sport Foundations	10
Negotiating Identity in Sport	12
Relational Issues in Sport	16
Emerging Trends in Communication and Sport	18
References	19
Chapter 2. Community in Sport	21
Interview: Bob Krizek, Communication and Sport Scholar, St. Louis University	22
Player #1: The Participant	24
Casual Play: Sport as Leisure	24
Intramurals: Introductions to Organized Sport	25
Amateur Athletics: Altruism and Idealism	25
Case Study: Bloom's Battle	26
Professional Athleticism: Style and Substance	27
Player #2: Sports Organizations	28
Player #3: Sports Media Entities	30

Visibility Jobs	30
Production Jobs	32
Hybrid Jobs	33
Player #4: The Fan	34
Motivations for Fandom	34
Modes of Fan Consumption	35
Community of Sport in the 21st Century:
Changing "Player" Roles	37
A Matter of Ethics: Whose Community?	38
References	39
Suggested Additional Reading	40

Chapter 3. Sports Fan Cultures

41

Case Study: Feeding the Desire for an Undisputed Champion	43
Sport Fan Types	44
Live vs. Mediated Fandom	47
Fan Rituals	48
Motives of Sport Spectators	50
A Matter of Ethics: Bertuzzi's Brutality	51
Sport Identification and Fandom	52
Impact of New Technologies on Sport Fandom	55
Interview: Jennings Bryant, Emeritus Sports Media Scholar, The University of Alabama	56
Conclusion	58
References	59
Suggested Additional Reading	60

Chapter 4. Sports and Mythology

61

Defining Terms	62
Sports Myth	64
Interview: Chris Willis, Head of Research Library, NFL Films	65
Sports and Ritual	69
Case Study: Mythos Surrounding the Miracle on Ice	70
Sports Heroes	72
A Matter of Ethics: Wrestling's Dark Side	74
Sports as Religion	76
Conclusion	78
References	78
Suggested Additional Reading	80

Chapter 5. Gender in Sport

81

- A History of Women's Sports Participation 82
 - Tipping Point #1: Title IX* 83
 - Case Study: The Unintended By-product of Title IX* 84
 - Tipping Point #2: The Battle of the Sexes* 86
 - Moments of Recent Decades* 87
- Hegemonic Masculinity in Sport 88
- Gendered Coverage of Sport 89
- Gendered Language in Sport 91
 - Naming Practices* 92
 - Gender Marking* 92
 - Sexual Disparagement* 93
 - Categorical Differences in Gendered Media Dialogue* 93
 - A Matter of Ethics: Exposure Begets Exposure* 96
- Opportunities for Men and Women in Sport 98
 - Interview: Donna de Varona, Olympic Gold Medalist and Award-Winning Sports Journalist* 98
- Globalization and Change Agency 101
- References 102
- Suggested Additional Reading 104

Chapter 6. Race and Ethnicity in Sport

105

- History of Ethnicity in American Sport 106
 - Interview: Richard Lapchick, Director, The Institute for Diversity and Ethics in Sport (TIDES), University of Central Florida* 109
- Participation and Sport Selection 111
- Media Exposure & Stacking 114
- Media Dialogues 115
 - A Matter of Ethics: Tiger, Tilghman, and Tough Racial Terrain* 116
 - Case Study: What's in a Name?* 120
- Conclusion 122
- References 122
- Suggested Additional Reading 124

Chapter 7. Politics/Nationality and Sports

125

- Sport as Political Resource 127
 - Case Study: Meeting Mr. President* 130
- Sport and the Language of Politics and War 131

Sport and National Identity	134
A Matter of Ethics: USA! USA?	135
Interview: Christine Brennan, USA Today Sports Columnist	137
Sport and Globalization	139
Sport and Resistance	141
Conclusion	144
References	144
Suggested Additional Reading	146

Chapter 8. Performing Identity in Sports 147

Performance of Gender and Sexuality	148
Interview: Marie Hardin, Associate Director for Research, John Curley Center for Sports Journalism, Pennsylvania State University	150
Case Study: Performing Maternity in the WNBA	153
Performance of Race and Ethnicity	155
Performance of Disability	158
A Matter of Ethics: The Modern Blade Runner	159
Conclusion	162
References	163
Suggested Additional Reading	164

Chapter 9. Communication and Sport in Parent–Child Interactions 165

Changing Sports Culture: Game vs. Sport	168
Interview: Darrell Barnett, Clinical Psychologist and Board Member for Little League of America	168
Sports Rage	171
Sport Socialization	172
Parent–Child Sports Interaction	175
Case Study: Elena Says Enough	176
Private Family Settings	177
Sideline Interaction	178
A Matter of Ethics: Parental Passion	180
Sex Difference in Parental Influence	181
Conclusion	182
References	183
Suggested Additional Reading	184

Chapter 10. Player–Coach Relationships in Sports 185

Sport Outcomes and Coaching	187
Case Study: Winning Isn't the Only Thing After All	189
Parent–Coach Relationships in Sports	190
A Matter of Ethics: Just Following Orders?	192
Leadership Orientations	193
Interview: Brenda Frese, Head Women's Basketball Coach, University of Maryland	196
Positive Coaching	198
Communication Contexts	200
Conclusion	204
References	205
Suggested Additional Reading	206

Chapter 11. Small Groups/Teams in Sport 207

Team/Group Cohesion	209
Interview: William Wanger, Senior Vice President of Research and Programming, FOX Sports	210
Coach's Impact on Cohesion	212
Case Study: More than Talent Required	214
Group/Team Processes in Sport	215
Group Norms	215
Hazing in Sports	216
Leadership Emergence and Power	217
A Matter of Ethics: Tragedy in Waco	219
Social Identity and Sport	222
Sport and Communication Cultures	224
Conclusion	226
References	227
Suggested Additional Reading	228

Chapter 12. Crisis Communication in Sports Organizations 229

Sensemaking and Information Management	231
A Matter of Ethics: Commissioner Salary Caps	233
Image Repair and Apologia	234
Organizational Image Repair	235
Interview: Ian McCaw, Athletic Director, Baylor University	237
Athlete Image Repair	239
Coach Image Repair	241

Sport Antopologia	243
Case Study: Headbutt Heard Round the World	246
Conclusion	248
References	249
Suggested Additional Reading	250

Chapter 13. The Commodification of Sport 251

Case Study: Unintended By-product of Commodification	252
The Sports/Media Complex	254
Interview: Lawrence Wenner, Von der Ahe Professor of Communication and Ethics, Loyola Marymount University	255
Corporate Sponsorship	260
A Matter of Ethics: Spidey's Commercialist Web	262
Identity for Sale	263
Nostalgia	265
Conclusion	268
References	268
Suggested Additional Reading	270

Chapter 14. Fantasy Sports 271

Fantasy Sports: A Brief History	271
Rules and Protocols	273
Interview: Jeffrey Thomas, Founder and CEO, World Fantasy Games	277
Motivations for Play	278
Fantasy Sport Communities	280
Societal Impact	281
Case Study: Fantasy Sports in a Digital Age	283
A Matter of Ethics: What to Do with the Fantasy Fanatic?	285
The Future of Fantasy Sport	287
References	288
Suggested Additional Reading	289

Chapter 15. Communication and Sport in the Future 291

The Future Sports Participant	292
The Future Sports Organization	295
Case Study: The Right Sport Pedigree	295
The Future Sports Media Entity	297
Interview: Frank Deford, Sports Illustrated and Real Sports with Bryant Gumbel	301

The Future Sports Fan	302
Communication and Sport: Entering Hyperdrive	304
References	307
Suggested Additional Reading	308
Photo Credits	309
Index	311