

Contents

Acknowledgments	xiii
Introduction	1
Chapter 1	Products and Quality:
	What Is the Situation? 7
	Future Trends: Population Growth and “Taste” 9
	An Example of Quality Improvement 11
	Beyond Manufacturing Quality 17
	Global Competition 19
	Onward 21
Chapter 2	Problems in Increasing Product Quality:
	Narrow-Mindedness and Attitudes 23
	Thinking, Problem Solving, and Quality 24
	Tradition Runs Deep 29
	Flaws in Economic Theory 35
	The Changing Nature of Design 37
	Increasing Creativity and Innovation 44
Chapter 3	Performance, Cost, and Price:
	Is It a Good Deal? 51
	Quantifying Performance 52
	The Complexity of Cost and Price 56
	The Balancing Act Between Performance and Cost 59
	Why Are There Problems? 63

Chapter 4	Human Fit: Does the Product Fit People?	67
	Physical Fit	70
	Sensory Fit	75
	Cognitive Fit	81
	Complexity	87
	Safety and Health	91
Chapter 5	Craftsmanship: Joy to the Maker, Joy to the User	97
	Why Do We Care About Craftsmanship?	98
	The Pleasure and Pride of Craft	100
	The Industry and Culture Problem	104
	The Nature of Craftsmanship	109
	Some Suggestions	114
Chapter 6	Products, Emotions, and Needs: Love, Hate, or Blah?	121
	How Emotions Play a Role	122
	The Complexity of Human Emotions	125
	Diversity in Emotional Responses	131
	The Mechanisms of Emotion	133
	Human Needs	136
	Needs and Emotions	140
	Need Finding	149
Chapter 7	Aesthetics, Elegance, and Sophistication: Wisdom Through Experience	153
	Aesthetics and Industrial Products	155
	A Bit of Background on Industrial Design	159
	Elegance and Sophistication	164
	Product Form and Function	170
	Some Concerns on Today's Aesthetics	174

Chapter 8	Symbolism and Cultural Values:
	Who Are We?	181
	Products, Symbolism, and Cultures	183
	Products and National Cultures	186
	Products and Subcultures	190
	Globalism and Cultures	195
Chapter 9	Global Constraints: Does the Product
	Fit a Finite Earth and Its Inhabitants?	203
	Big Problems	204
	The Role of Industrially Produced Products	207
	Why These Problems?	209
	Response to Change	212
	Revolutionary Approaches	216
	The Iceberg	221
	Regulations and Laws	224
	Now What?	229
Chapter 10	Conclusion: What Have We Learned?
	Where Do We Go?	233
	Notes	239
	Further Reading	245
	Index	247