

A long wooden bridge with railings spans across a wide river. In the background, there are large, misty mountains under a cloudy sky. Several people are walking across the bridge. The overall scene is a rural landscape.

Research Gaps Concerning the Health of Migrants from Cambodia, Lao PDR and Myanmar in Thailand

Dr. Simon Baker
Dr. Charamporn Holomyong
Ms. Kanchana Thianlai

Institute of Population and Social Research, Mahidol University

With the support of the World Health Organization

Table of Contents

Foreword	v
Foreword	vi
Acknowledgements	vii
Executive Summary	viii
Part 1: Study background	1
Part 2: Research gap - Government policies related to migrants	4
Part 3: Research gap - Understanding the demographic characteristics of the migrants	6
3.1 Possible solutions to overcome the lack of data on migrants	9
Part 4: Research gap - Understanding the health problems of migrants	13
4.1 Data collection problems	13
4.2 Comparisons between the health of Thais and migrants.....	14
4.3 Particular health concerns of migrants	19
4.3.1 HIV and AIDS	19
4.3.2 Migrants and pandemic preparedness	19
4.3.3 Reproductive health	20
4.3.4 Occupation health	23
4.3.5 Vaccinations for children	24
4.3.6 Mental health of migrants	25
Part 5: Research gap - Determining how to provide health services to migrants	27
5.1 Financing migrant health and health insurance	27
5.2 Providing a quality service	28
5.2.1 Problems of Access.....	28
5.2.2 Overcoming language and cultural problems.....	29
5.2.3 The voice of medical staff.....	30
5.3 Consequences and costs of not addressing the health needs of migrants	31
Part 6: Research gap - Improving coordination between organisations concerned about migration research	33
Part 7: Recommendations	36
7.1 Recommendations concerning government policies related to migrants.....	36
7.2 Recommendations to improve understanding the demographic characteristics of the migrants	36

7.3 Recommendations to understanding the health problems of the migrants	37
7.4 Recommendations to determine how to provide health services for migrants.....	38
7.5 Recommendations to improve coordination between organisations concerned about migration research	38
References	40
Annexes.....	49
List of publications on “Migrant Health” in Thailand	50