

CONTENTS

List of figures	xix
List of tables	xx
About the author	xxi
Acknowledgements	xxii
Preface	xxiv
Companion website	xxvii

Part 1 Getting Started: The Essentials 1

1 Social media and education	3
Overview	3
The recent media landscape	3
Web 2.0	4
Traditional versus social media	5
Why social media in education?	5
Benefits of using social media in education	6
Constructivist approaches to social media use in education	9
Social constructivism	10
Active learning	10
Discovery learning	11
Peer learning	11
Situated learning	12
Special considerations in constructivist environments	12
Summary	13
Resources	14
Further reading	14

2 Sound educational design using social media	15
Overview	15
Designing the task	15
Defining your broader purposes	16
Choosing the right social media tools for teaching and learning	17
Planning	20
Scaffolding	21
Rubrics (success criteria)	22
Service considerations	23
Choosing a service	23
Doing a test run	24
Public or private work?	24
Administrative access	25
Summary	26
Resources	26
Further reading	26
3 Common aspects of social media functions and practice	27
Overview	27
Functional commonalities	27
RSS: The 'backbone' of social media	28
Setting up an account	29
Creating a secure password	30
Hyperlinks	31
Tags and tag clouds	31
Widgets and embed code	31
Saving your work	33
Creating backups	33
Testing social media for your class	34
A word on Word ...	34
Personal qualities for successful engagement with social media	35
Attitude	35
Being your own helpdesk	36
Summary	38
Resources	39
Further reading	39
Part 2 The 'Big Four'	41
4 Blogs	43
Overview	43
What is a blog?	43

Blog basics	43
Setting up a blog	45
Educational benefits of blogs	47
Pedagogy	47
Audience, writing, and community awareness	47
Creativity and flow	48
Individual responsibility	49
Administration	49
Blogging models	49
Administration blog	49
Class blog (learning-focused)	49
Individual student blogs (learning-focused)	50
Special considerations for blogging	51
Choosing a blogging service	51
A public or private blog?	52
Navigation	53
Blogs versus discussion forums	54
Static pages	54
Scaffolding student blogging	55
How much do you assess?	56
Blog rubrics (success criteria)	56
Summary	58
Resources	59
Online resources	59
Further reading	59
5 Wikis	60
Overview	60
What is a wiki?	61
Educational benefits of wikis	64
Pedagogy	64
Teamwork, collaboration, and online behaviour	64
Communication, organisation, and acknowledgement	65
Administration	66
Wiki models	67
Administration wiki	67
Class wiki (learning-focused)	67
Individual student wiki (learning-focused)	68
Special considerations for wikis	68
Choosing a wiki service	68
Successful wikis	69
Problems of collaboration and ownership	70

Edit wars	71
Concurrent editing	71
Scaffolding student wiki contributions	71
Assessing wikis: individual versus group grades	72
Wiki rubrics (success criteria)	73
Wikipedia	75
Wiki and blog comparison tables	76
General comparisons	76
Functional characteristics	76
Educational benefits	77
Classroom issues	77
Summary	78
Resources	78
Online resources	78
Further reading	78
6 Social networks	79
Overview	79
What is a social network?	79
Social networking basics	80
Group-based social networks in education	81
Setting up a social network	81
Educational benefits of social networking	82
Pedagogy	82
Connecting outside the classroom	83
Familiarity	83
Special considerations for social networks	84
Privacy	84
Cyberbullying	85
Data collection	85
Age of sign up	86
Uploading contacts or address books	86
Should I use Facebook with students?	87
Choosing a social networking service	88
Using your network for online role plays	89
Summary	90
Resources	90
Online resources	90
Further reading	90
7 Podcasting, music, and audio	92
Overview	92
What is a podcast?	93

Clarifying terms	93
Podcasting equipment	94
Educational benefits of podcasting	95
Pedagogy	95
Development of a broad range of skills	95
Research	95
Podcasting projects for your class	96
Informational podcasts	96
Opinion- or ideas-based podcasts	96
Special considerations	97
Conceptualising your podcast	97
Developing a format for your podcast	97
Scripting your podcast	98
Doing interviews for your podcast	98
Recording locations	101
Editing your podcast	101
File formats	102
Choosing music for your podcast	103
Publishing your podcast	103
Podcasting legal issues	104
Summary	106
Resources	107
People	107
Examples of podcasting in education	107
Information on how to podcast	107
Technical resources	108
Legals and podsafes music	108
Publishing and advertising	108
Further reading	108
Part 3 Enriching Your Practice	109
8 Visual media	111
Overview	111
What are visual media?	112
Photosharing	112
Slideshows	113
Video and videosharing	113
Animation	114
Comic strips	114
Educational benefits of visual media	115
Peer learning and collaboration	115
Creating narratives and audience awareness	115
Multiple literacies	115

Special considerations for visual media	115
Inappropriate content	115
Posting images of children	116
Comments	116
Copyright	117
Creative Commons	117
Terms of Service	118
Platform compatibility and bandwidth	118
Limited free usage	119
Summary	120
Resources	121
Online resources	121
Further reading	121
9 Instant messaging, Chat, Skype, and Twitter	122
Overview	122
What are IM, chat, Skype, and Twitter?	122
Instant messaging (IM) and chat	122
Skype and VOIP (Voice Over Internet Protocol)	123
Twitter	124
Educational benefits of IM, chat, Skype, and Twitter	125
Pedagogy	125
Integration of diverse perspectives	126
Connection outside the classroom	126
Special considerations for IM, chat, Skype and Twitter	126
Knowing who you are talking to	126
Institutional policies regarding the use of VOIP	127
Need for working audio and video hardware for VOIP	127
'Following' students on Twitter	127
Invisible audiences on Twitter	128
Summary	129
Resources	129
Online resources	129
Further reading	129
10 Bookmarking, clippings, mindmapping, and polls	131
Overview	131
What are bookmarking, mindmapping, clippings, and polls?	131
Bookmarking	131
Clippings	133
Mindmapping	134
Polls and surveys	134

Educational benefits of bookmarking, clippings, mindmapping, and polls	136
Bookmarking: Collating, organising, and sharing information	136
Mindmapping: Visualising ideas and problems	136
Clippings: Evaluating and synthesising online materials	138
Polls and surveys: Research and critical media skills	138
Special considerations for bookmarking, clippings, mindmapping, and polls	138
Inappropriate content	138
Mindmapping skills	139
Summary	139
Resources	140
Online resources	140
Further reading	140
11 Educational games and mobile learning	141
Overview	141
What are educational games and mobile learning?	142
Educational games	142
Mobile learning	144
Educational benefits of educational games and mobile learning	145
Pedagogy of educational games	145
Games are motivational	145
Collaboration and competition in educational games	146
Mobile learning pedagogies	146
Activities supported by mobile learning	146
Administrative advantages of mobile learning	147
Special considerations for educational games and mobile learning	147
Variations in quality and suitability of educational games	147
Should I use Second Life with students?	148
Visibility of students' online profiles	148
Technical issues relating to mobile learning	149
Loan systems, data plans, firewalls, and insurance	149
Access to devices	149
Summary	150
Resources	150
Online resources	150
Further reading	150
12 Productivity tools	152
Overview	152
What are productivity tools?	152

Online documents	153
Dropboxes	154
To-do lists	154
Calendars	154
Note and research management	155
Online bookshelves	155
Educational benefits of productivity tools	155
Improved workflow and efficiency	155
Collaboration, group work, and editing	156
Class resource repositories	156
Document version control and single storage location	157
Access across devices	157
Special considerations for productivity tools	157
Conflicting edits on shared items	157
Backups of online documents	158
Public calendars	158
Copyright	159
Summary	159
Resources	159
Online resources	159
Further reading	160

Part 4 Social Contexts 161

13 'Digital natives', new learning, and digital literacy	163
Overview	163
The 'digital natives' debate	164
New learning	165
The Digital Revolution	165
Industrial-model schooling	166
Why do we need 'new learning'?	167
Curriculum issues	168
Digital literacy	170
What is digital literacy?	170
Functional, network, and critical digital literacy: towards a holistic understanding of digital literacy	171
How digitally literate are our students?	172
Students' experiences with using digital technologies in formal learning	174
Summary	175
Resources	176

Online resources	176
Further reading	176
14 The digital divide and digital participation	177
Overview	177
The digital divide	178
What is the digital divide?	178
Digital capital	178
Theoretical access versus effective access	179
Digital participation	181
Social inclusion	181
Summary	185
Resources	186
Online resources	186
Further reading	186
15 Cyberbullying	187
Overview	187
What is bullying?	188
All bullying	188
What is cyberbullying?	189
Cyberbullying: why it's different	190
Gender and bullying	191
Sexting	191
Problems with research into cyberbullying	193
Identifying and responding to cyberbullying	194
Identifying cyberbullying	195
Basic cyberbullying advice	195
Keeping up	196
Concluding remark: Education is the key	197
Summary	198
Resources	198
Online resources	198
Further reading	199
16 Understanding risk online	200
Overview	200
Risk management	201
Legal and policy considerations	202
Copyright and intellectual property (IP)	202
Privacy and confidentiality	206

Use of your institution's name, branding, and logo	207
Jurisdictional issues	208
Accessibility	208
Considerations under the Terms of Service	209
Copyright and the Terms of Service	209
Content distribution, including Creative Commons	211
Data control and security	212
Ability to delete information	214
Providing information about others to the service provider	214
Communication from the service provider	215
Changes to the Terms of Service	216
Changes to pricing	216
Considerations regarding the service itself	217
Business robustness and longevity	217
Reliability	218
Software version control	219
Advertising	220
Summary	222
Resources	222
Online resources	222
Further reading	222
17 Practical and in-class considerations	224
Overview	224
Practical and in-class considerations	224
Private vs public sites	224
Backups	225
Use of cookies and monitoring	227
Help and support available via social media services	227
Help and support available at school	228
Cross-platform and cross-browser functionality/usability	228
School bandwidth quotas	228
Students' home internet access	228
Requiring students to register	229
Choice of service	229
Student identification and usernames	229
Students' responsibility for work done under their own login details	230
Visibility of students' work to each other	230
Preventing changes being made to the site after the due date	230
Posting of offensive material	231

Student user roles	231
Student administrators of class sites	232
Assessment	232
Including parents	233
Summary	234
Resources	234
Online resources	234
Afterword	235
References	237
Index	245