

Preface		xvii
Part I	Defining the Field	1
CHAPTER 1	What Is Our Field?	3
	“Our Field”: A Term to Represent a Broad Range of Interests	3
	Physical Education: A Broad Field of Interests	4
	Definitions of Physical Education	4
	The Unity of Body and Mind	6
	Historical Terms for Physical Education	6
	The Relationship of Physical Education to Play and Sport	7
	Allied Areas: Health Education, Recreation, and Dance	8
	The Call for a Discipline of Physical Education	9
	The Field as a Profession	10
	Physical Education as a Legitimate Scholarly Field	11
	The Field as a Discipline	12
	The Struggle to Define the Focus of the Discipline	14
	Defining the Theoretical Base	14
	Suggested Names for Academic Physical Education and Sport	15
	Formalizing the Subdisciplines	17
	Sport: The First Focus of an Emerging Discipline	18
	Sport as a Legitimate Scholarly Field	22
	The Proclamation of Kinesiology by the Research Universities	23
	The Field of Kinesiology: A Return to Holistic Physical Education?	23
	Concerns About Our Field as a Science	27
	Exercise Science and Kinesiology Today: Questions Remain	28
	Kinesiology: Unifying the Field or Abandoning It?	30
	Our Field: No Consensus on a Defining Name	31
	Summary	31
	Further Readings	32
	Discussion Questions	33
	References	34
CHAPTER 2	The Academic Foundations of Exercise Science and Kinesiology	39
	Current Academic Focuses in Our Field	39
	Sport History	43
	Focus	43
	Method of Research	43
	Research Outlets and Sources of Information	45

Sport Philosophy	45
Focus	45
Major Topics of Study	46
Method of Research	46
Research Outlets and Sources of Information	48
The Sport Humanities	48
Focus	48
Major Topics of Study	49
Method of Research	49
Research Outlets and Sources of Information	49
Sport Sociology	50
Focus	50
Major Topics of Study	50
Method of Research	51
Research Outlets and Sources of Information	52
Sport Psychology	53
Focus	53
Major Topics of Study	53
Method of Research	54
Research Outlets and Sources of Information	55
Motor Behavior	55
Focus	55
Major Topics of Study	56
Method of Research	57
Research Outlets and Sources of Information	57
Biomechanics	57
Focus	57
Major Topics of Study	57
Method of Research	58
Research Outlets and Sources of Information	60
Exercise Physiology	60
Focus	60
Major Topics of Study	60
Method of Research	61
Research Outlets and Sources of Information	61
Movement Pedagogy	62
Focus	62
Major Topics of Study	63
Method of Research	63
Research Outlets and Sources of Information	63
Summary	64
Further Readings	64
Discussion Questions	65
References	66
Part II	Our Cultural Heritage in History
	69
CHAPTER 3	Physical Education and Sport in the Ancient World
	71
Primitive Times and Survival Sport	71
Before the Greeks	74

Ancient China	74
Ancient India	75
Ancient Egypt	76
The Ancient Middle East	76
Ancient Greece: The Golden Age of Pure Physical Education and Sport	77
Spartan Education	78
Athenian Education	79
The Greeks and the Leisure Ideal	80
Greek Athletic Games and Contests	80
The Question of Amateur and Professional Athletics in Greece	83
Greek Physical Education and Sport Revisited	85
The Greeks and Modern Society	85
The Age of Utility and Spectators: The Roman Empire	86
Roman Education and Physical Education	86
Roman Sport	87
Summary	89
Further Readings	90
Discussion Questions	91
References	91

CHAPTER 4 Physical Education and Sport in Medieval and Early Modern Europe 93

Medieval Society and Physical Education	93
Medieval Sport: Source of the Sport Dichotomy?	97
Knight Sports: The Haves	97
Middle-Class and Lower-Class Sport: The Have-Nots	97
Physical Education in the Renaissance and Reformation	99
Renaissance Sport	101
Seventeenth-Century European Physical Education and Sport	102
Education and Physical Education in the 1600s	102
Sport and the Puritans	105
Eighteenth-Century European Physical Education and Sport	106
Education and Physical Education in the 1700s	106
The Seeds of Modern Sport	110
Nineteenth-Century European Physical Education and Sport	111
Summary	113
Further Readings	114
Discussion Questions	115
References	115

CHAPTER 5 The Development of American Physical Education to 1941 119

Physical Education in Colonial America (1607–1783)	119
Physical Education in the Early National Period (1783–1820)	121
Antebellum Physical Education in the United States (1820–1860)	122
The Professionalization of American Physical Education (1860–1900)	127
The Turner School	127
Development of Other Schools and Systems	128
The Physical Education Requirement	129
The Move Toward Professional Organization	129

The Rise of Scientific Research on Human Performance	131
American Physical Education at the Turn of the Century (1900)	132
The Uneasy Joining of Physical Education and Sport (1900–1941)	133
The Move Toward a Unified American System	134
The New Physical Education (1922–1930)	135
Expanding Program Options (1900–1930)	136
The American Melting Pot and Better Babies Through Eugenics: Social Prejudices in Action	136
Effects of the Great Depression (1930–1941)	137
Summary	138
Further Readings	139
Discussion Questions	140
References	141

CHAPTER 6	The Rise of Modern Sport in the United States and England to 1941	143
	Social Sport in Colonial and Early National America (1607–1860)	143
	The Characteristics of Modern Sport	145
	Secularism	146
	Equality	146
	Specialization	147
	Rationalization	147
	Bureaucracy	148
	Quantification	148
	Records	148
	The Birth of Modern Sport in England and Europe	150
	The Sport Dichotomy Continues	151
	Sport as a Moral Virtue	151
	Muscular Christianity	152
	The Birth of Modern Organized Sport	153
	The Phoenix Arises: The Rebirth of the Olympic Games	154
	The Rise of Organized Sport in the United States (1850–1905)	155
	American Sport at the Turn of the Century (1900)	158
	Women in Sport	158
	African Americans in Sport	159
	The Organization of Modern Sport	159
	Students Lose Control of School Sport (1880–1922)	160
	The Stabilization of Modern Sport	161
	Complete School Control of Sport (1905–1922)	161
	The Golden Age of Sport (1920s)	162
	Conflicts in Depression-Era Sport	163
	Science for Better or Worse: Measurement, Racism, Eugenics, and Striving for Perfection	164
	The Nazi Olympics and the New World Sport Order: Politics and Promotion	166
	Summary	167
	Further Readings	168
	Discussion Questions	169
	References	170

CHAPTER 7	American Physical Education and Sport from 1941 to Today	173
	Fitness and Sport in War and Peace (1941–1963)	173
	Physical Education: From a Teaching Field to a Science	176
	The Discipline Movement	176
	Changes in Teacher and Coach Education	177
	New Challenges for America's Fitness and Health	177
	Legislation and Performance: Standards and Testing	179
	The Kinesiology Movement and the Name Game	179
	Sport Opens Its Doors	179
	General Changes in Sport (1963–1984)	179
	The Integration of School Sports: All Races Are Welcome	180
	Title IX and Sports: Okay, We'll Let the Women Play, Too	181
	The Death of Amateurism in Sport	182
	Youth Sport as Pre-Collegiate and Pre-Olympic Sport	182
	High School Sport: The College Farm System	183
	I Play for Basketball Academy	183
	Collegiate Sport and the NCAA Cartel	184
	Olympic Sport Becomes Professional	184
	Today's World Sport: The Name of the Game Is Money	185
	The Impact of Media and Technology on Sport	185
	24/7 Sports and Getting the Betting Line	187
	The Body Dynamic: Creating the Competitive Human, or Sport, Entertainment, and the Artificial Body	187
	Doping and Today's Sport	189
	The Growth of the Worldwide Sporting Event	190
	Our Field Today	190
	Summary	191
	Further Readings	192
	Discussion Questions	193
	References	194

Part III	Our Cultural Heritage in Philosophy	197
-----------------	--	------------

CHAPTER 8	Philosophy in Exercise Science and Sport	199
	What Is Philosophy?	199
	The Branches of Philosophy	200
	The Questions of Philosophy	201
	Issues in Sport Philosophy	203
	The Nature of Sport	203
	Sport and Metaphysical Speculation	203
	The Body and Being	204
	Sport as a Meaningful Experience	204
	Sport Versus Physical Education:
	Philosophical Conflicts	205
	Sport and Aesthetics	206
	Sport and Values	206
	The Concept of Fair Play and Sportsmanship	206

Contemporary Philosophies of Our Field	207
Naturalism	207
Idealism	207
Realism	208
Pragmatism	209
Existentialism	209
Humanistic Approach to Education	211
Eclectic Approach to Philosophy	211
Doing Philosophy in Our Field	211
Why Have a Personal Philosophy?	211
The Levels of Discussion	212
The Hierarchy of Philosophical Ideas	213
Thought and the Philosophical Process	214
The Philosopher's Basic Questions	214
How Do We Apply Philosophy in Our Field?	216
Summary	218
Further Readings	218
Discussion Questions	220
References	220

CHAPTER 9	Ethics and Problems in Exercise Science, Physical Education, and Sport	223
	Problems in Exercise Science, Physical Education, and Sport Today	224
	Abuses of Sport	225
	Overemphasis on School Sports	226
	Overemphasis on Competitive Sports in Physical Education	227
	Relationship Between Physical Education and Sport	227
	Is Sportsmanship Dead?	227
	How Does Ethics Relate to Exercise Science, Physical Education, and Sport?	230
	Should Ethics and Values Be Taught in Physical Education and Sport?	231
	How Do We Teach Ethics and Values?	231
	The Ethic of Big-Time Sport, or Why Sport Has a Poor Reputation	231
	The Supreme Importance of Victory	232
	The Drug Culture of Sport	233
	Poor Sportsmanship	233
	Lack of Joy in Sport	234
	The Place of Education in Sport (Dead Last)	235
	Sports as Money	235
	The Nutcracker Reflex	236
	Why the Coach Gets No Respect	236
	What Ethical Values Should We Teach?	237
	Justice and Equality	237
	Self-Respect	237
	Respect and Consideration for Others	238
	Respect for Rules and Authority	239
	A Sense of Perspective or Relative Values	239

Toward an Ethical Future	240
Summary	241
Further Readings	241
Discussion Questions	242
References	243

Part IV Careers for the Future: Where Do You Go from Here? 247

CHAPTER 10 Preparing for a Twenty-First-Century Career 249

Developing the Knowledge and Skills for Success	249
Success Follows Preparation and Opportunity	249
Success Results from the Right Habits	251
Success Results from the Long-Term Building of Your Knowledge	252
Success Results from the Development of Expertise	253
Developing the Basic Traits of Success	254
Broad Knowledge Base (Cultural Literacy)	255
Communications Skills	255
Technical Skills	257
Research Skills	257
Job-Hunting Skills	257
Health and Fitness	258
Focus	258
Summary	260
Further Readings	260
Discussion Questions	261
References	261

CHAPTER 11 Traditional Careers in Physical Education and Sport 263

The Meaning of Professional	263
Becoming an Involved Professional: Development and Responsibilities	264
School Selection	265
Developing and Using a Personal Professional Library	265
Professional Preparation	265
Professional Membership	266
Professional Meetings	266
Research and Writing	267
Teaching	267
Commitment	267
Pride	267
What Are the Components of Professional Preparation?	268
What Is the Job Situation in Physical Education?	268
Teaching as a Career: Pros and Cons	269
Positive Aspects of Teaching	269
Negative Aspects of Teaching	270
To Teach or Not to Teach	270
Basic Qualities of the Successful Teacher	271
Teaching Personality and Interests	271
Strong Educational Background	271

Health and Physical Skills	271
Intellectual Ability	271
Types of Teaching Jobs	272
Physical Education	272
Health Education	273
Recreation	273
Coaching	273
Safety Education	273
Dance	274
The Need for Specialists	274
The Future of Teaching Jobs	276
Summary	276
Further Readings	277
Discussion Questions	278
References	278

CHAPTER 12 Careers in Sport, Exercise Science, and Kinesiology 279

Careers in Sport	279
College Athletic Administration	279
Equipment Managers	281
Facility Management	281
Sport Finance	282
Sport Marketing	282
Scouts	282
Sports Camp Director	282
Sports Information	282
Sports Journalism and Broadcast Media	283
Sports Officiating	283
Sports Statistician	283
Professional Athlete	283
Careers in Sport Business	283
Sport Management	284
Sport Marketing and Sales	284
Sport Financial Operations	284
Sport Facility Management	284
Motor Sports Management	284
Concessions Operations	284
Careers in Sport and Leisure Services Entrepreneurship and Consulting	285
Sports Consultant	286
Athletic Scholarship Placement Services	286
After School Sport Businesses	286
Sports Agents	286
Sports Event Management	287
Sport Facility Design and Construction	287
Sport Manufacturing and Production	287
Sport Marketing Services	287
Sport Product and Service Research and Development	287
Sport Product Design	287
Sport Photography	288

Sport Media Productions	288
Sport Publishing	288
Sporting Goods	288
Biomechanical Evaluation and Equipment Design	289
Exercise Physiological Testing and Equipment Design	289
Software Design for Training and Evaluation Systems	289
Software Design for Sports Gaming Systems	289
Careers in Recreational Areas	289
Sports Club Management	290
Aquatics Management	290
Tennis Club Management and Professional Golf Management	290
Teaching Professional	291
Careers in Exercise Science	292
ACSM-Certified Occupations	292
Research: Basic and Applied	292
Physical Fitness Industry	293
Careers in Kinesiology	293
Medical Doctors and Physician Assistants	294
Rehabilitation and Injury Prevention	294
Health Education and Services	296
Theory Meets Practice: Student Internships	296
The Future of Sport Careers	296
Summary	297
Further Readings	297
Discussion Questions	298
References	298

Part V Today and Tomorrow: Where Are Exercise Science and Sport Going? 299

CHAPTER 13	International Exercise Science and Sport Today	301
	Why Study Comparative Physical Education?	301
	Assumptions of Comparative Education Studies	302
	Problems of Adopting Western Educational Patterns	303
	The Contribution to International Understanding	303
	Orientations of Physical Education Programs	305
	AEHESIS: European Sport Science Seeks Common
	Program Outcomes	306
	International Organizations	307
	International Competitions	312
	Summary	314
	Further Readings	314
	Discussion Questions	315
	References	316
CHAPTER 14	Current Issues in Exercise Science and Sport	317
	The Focal Issue in Education	317
	Two Linked Ongoing Concerns	317

Issues in American Education	320
Quality of Education	320
Negative Societal Changes	324
Proper Educational Practices	325
The Place of Sport in the Educational Process	328
Moral Dilemmas in the Schools	329
Issues in Exercise Science and Physical Education	330
The Disciplines Versus the Profession	330
Is the Curriculum Too Science Focused?	331
Value and Quality of the School Program	331
Emphasis of the School Program	333
Proper Educational Practices	334
Maintaining Quality Programs Despite Budget Cuts	335
Relationship to Athletics	335
Issues in American Sport	335
The Place of Sport in Education	336
Ethical Dilemmas	337
Growing Professionalism of Sport at All Levels	337
Elitism Versus Sport for All	338
Drugs in the Sport Setting	338
Violence in Sports: Society's Mirror?	338
It's Money, Money, Money That I Want	339
Summary	340
Further Readings	340
Discussion Questions	341
References	342

CHAPTER 15 Into the Future in Exercise Science and Sport 345

Toward the Future	345
The Problem with Predictions	346
Scholars Predict Trends in Exercise Science and Sport	346
Societal Trends in the United States	349
The United States: A New Multi-Cultural Society	349
The Decline of Personal Responsibility	351
The Growth of a World Culture	352
Plus ça Change (The More Things Change)	352
Educational Trends in the United States	353
Disagreement About Educational Priorities	353
Education for a Technological World	354
The Future Curriculum: Narrow or Broad?	354
Changing Educational Priorities	355
Declining Student Knowledge Levels	356
More Accountability	356
More Testing	357
Changing School Populations	357
Teacher Education: Specialist or Generalist?	358
Whole-School Involvement in Teacher Education	358
Higher Teacher Education Standards	358
Privatization of Education	359

Trends in Exercise Science	359
New Lifestyle Needs for Old Lifestyle Failures:
The United States and the All-You-Can-Eat Buffet	359
Holistic Goals	360
The Discipline Morass	360
The Field Moves Closer Toward the Real World	361
Expanding the Service Focus	362
The Service Shift from Public to Private Sector	362
Inequality of Services	362
The Continued Decline of School Service Programs	362
Our Failure to Provide Leadership	363
Trends in Sport	364
The Drug Culture of Sport	364
The Professionalization of Sport	365
The Trivialization of Sport	365
Violence in Sport	365
Money Drives the Machine	365
Again, Toward the Future	366
Summary	367
Further Readings	368
Discussion Questions	369
References	369

Index373*Photo Credits*381