

CONTENTS, INCLUDING ILLUSTRATIONS

(The illustration pages are indicated by italics)

OPENING CHAT	17	Find Eye Level of Copy and Make Figures Coincide	43
THE FORM PRINCIPLE AS A BASIS OF APPROACH	21	Approaching the Subject in Different Ways	44
PART ONE: LINE
Frontispiece	24	Perspective Alone May Add Variety	45
THERE ARE SEVEN PRIMARY FUNCTIONS OF LINE	25	Using Line to Produce a Focal Point in Subject	46
Line Is More Than Merely "Outline"!	26	Providing an "Eye Pathway" in Composition	47
Line Is Proportion with Imagination	27	Attention Devices	48
Line Produces Formal Design	28	Get Attention by Building Contrast of Line or Shape	49
Line Produces Informal Design	29	The Relationship of Line to Emotional Response	50
Overlapping Line and Areas the First Principle of Composition	30	Bad Composition Brings Negative Response	51
Using the First Function of "Line for Itself" for Composition	31	Various Types of Vignettes	52
Composition May Be Based on Letters and Symbols	32	A Vignette Is a Design Pure and Simple	53
Composition May Be Based on Geometric Forms	33	Simple Line Combines Effectively with Solid Blacks	54
The "Fulcrum-Lever" Principle Applied to Composition	34	Combining Pen Line Treatment with Black Areas	55
Use Formal Subdivision for Symmetrical Composition	35	Pen Drawing Is Built on a Principle	56
Introducing Informal Subdivision	36	Pen Drawing Is Concerned Mostly with Shadow	57
A Demonstration of Informal Subdivision	37	Pen-and-Ink Procedure	58
Figure Compositions Based on Informal Subdivision	38	Follow the Form with the Pen Strokes	59
Informal Subdivision Is Purely Creative, Not Mechanical	39	Decorative Treatment in Line	60
Perspective Guide Lines Help You to Composition	40	The Brush Used Like a Pen	61
Everything You Draw Is Related to an Eye Level	41	Dry Brush	62
Eye Level, Camera Level, and Horizon Mean the Same	42	Adding "Spatter" to Line Mediums	64
		Dry Brush and Black Pencil on Grained Paper	65
		Black Ink, Black Pencil, and Poster White on Coquille Board	66
		There Are New Possibilities in This Combination	67

CONTENTS, INCLUDING ILLUSTRATIONS

"Sanguine" on Grained Paper	68	Old Mother Hubbard Is Your Problem	97
Black Pencil on Grained Paper	69	TECHNIQUE IN TONAL MEDIUMS	98
Drawing Procedure	70	Formulating an Approach	99
Drawing, Above All Else, Puts You Over	71	Technical Approach	100
Black and White Pencils on Grey Paper	72	Detail	101
Poster White and Black Ink on Grey Paper	73	The Treatment of Edges	102
Charcoal on Grey Paper	74	Where to Look for Soft Edges	103
Dry Brush on Grey Paper with Whites	75	The Lens Sees Too Much	104
"Scratch Board"	76	The Eye Selects	105
Craftint	78	Stressing the Planes and Accents	106
		Breaking Up the Too-Smooth Tones	108
		Adjusting Tone and Pattern	110
		The "Big Tone" Approach	112
		The Direct Approach	114
		The Soft Approach	116
		The Brittle Approach	118
		The "Blocky" Treatment and Others	120
		The "Blocky" Treatment	121
		Painting Down or Across the Form	122
		"Scumbling"	123
		THE TONAL MEDIUMS	124
		Charcoal as a Tonal Medium	125
		Charcoal and Chalk on Grey Paper	126
		Grey Paper with Other Mediums	127
		Carbon Pencil as a Tonal Medium (Smooth Bristol)	128
		Carbon Pencil on Regular Bristol	129
		Carbon Pencil on Illustration Board	130
		Wash with Dry Brush	131
		Wash as a Tonal Medium	132
		Wash Is One of the Best Mediums for Reproduction	133
		Opaque Water Color as a Tonal Medium	134
		Thin Black-and-White Oil Scumble	135
		HOWARD PYLE	136
PART TWO: TONE
Frontispiece	80
THERE ARE FOUR ESSENTIAL PROPERTIES OF TONE	81
Basic Intensities of Light Versus Shadow	82
The Four Properties of Tone Explained	83
Setting up a Consistent Relationship of Light to Shadow	84
The Meaning of Key and Value Manipulation	85
The Four Properties of Tone Explained (continued)	86
A Simple Lesson in Value Relationships	87
Composition by Tone or Pattern	88
There are Four Basic Tonal Plans	89
How to Look for the "Meat" in Your Subject	90
If It's Worth Painting, It's Worth Planning	91
"Thumbnail" Planning of Tonal Pattern or Arrangement	92
The Subject Itself Often Suggests the Tonal Plan	93
Four of the Thumbnails Transposed to Black-and-White Oil	94
The Completed Sketch	95
Suppose We Take a Subject and Work It Out	96

CONTENTS, INCLUDING ILLUSTRATIONS

Comments on Howard Pyle's Theory of Approach	138	Outdoor and Indoor Color	170
Tonal Sketches of Some of Pyle's Pictures	141	How to Experiment with Color	171
The Relationship of Tone to Color	142	Experimental Color Roughs Worked Out	172
The Form Principle Applied	143	A Subject Worked Out in Color from Black-and-White Copy	173
Preparing Samples in Tone	144	What Is Color Charm, and How Can We Know It?	174
Submitting Samples	145	Should We Eliminate Black from Our Palette?	175

PART THREE: COLOR

Frontispiece	146
A NEW APPROACH	147
Presenting the Spectrum as Related to Light and Shadow	148
COLOR	149
All Color Is Relative to Surrounding Influence	150
Color Is Strongest in the Light	151
Color Is More Than Local Color	152
Look for Color on the Edge of Light	153
The Limitation of Color in Pigment	154
Relating Color by Tonal Influence	155
Toning the Spectrum or Palette	156
Four Subjects in "Toned Color"	157
Don't Be Afraid of the Greys of Nature Blue Green, Yellow, and Cool Red as a Scheme	158 159
Painted with Yellow as a "Toner"	160
Color Considered as "Tone" in Its Natural Relationship	161
Color, Its Function and Charm	162
The Primary Color Groups	165
The Primary Color Groups—Color Shades	166
Color Selection and Background	167
What to Do When Your Picture Is Dead in Color	168
The Emotional Effects of Color	169

PART FOUR: TELLING THE STORY

Frontispiece			176
THERE ARE FIVE ESSENTIALS			177
WHAT IS ILLUSTRATION?			178
The Essentials of Telling the Story			179
Staging Your Subject			180
"Thumbnail" Settings			181
How to Get Suggestions from Clippings			182
Figures Suggested on Tracing Paper			183
Planning Dramatic Action and Poses			184
Establish the Action Before Hiring a Model			185
The Essential Arrangement			186
Arrangements Based on One of the Previous Roughs			187
Embellishment			188
Using the Camera to Obtain Working Material			189
The Illustrator's Scaling Screen			190
The Scaling Screen and Camera Distortion			192
Camera Distortion			193
Drawing to Avoid Photographic Distortion			194
Camera Dramatics			195
A Single Lighting Works Out Best			196
Use Your Camera to Catch Emotion and Expression			197

CONTENTS, INCLUDING ILLUSTRATIONS

Studying the Character	198	PART SIX: FIELDS OF ILLUSTRATION
There Is No End to Facial Expression and Character	199	Frontispiece	224
Manufacturing Convincing Emotion	200	THE MAGAZINE AD	226
Expressions Tell the Story	201	The Approach to Good Advertising Illustration	227
Loss and Gain in Backgrounds	202	Using Your Freedom	228
Examples of Background Loss and Gain	203	Twenty-Four Types of Ads	228
What Is Faking, and What Is Imagination	204	Types of Magazine Ads	230
Never Guess When You Can Find Out	205	Relating Your Illustration to the Whole Ad	236
An Imaginative Subject Need Not Be "Faked"	206	Developing the "Co-ordination Sense"	237
The Originality Is Within the Conception	207	A Typical Magazine Ad Assignment	238
		A Typical Agency Layout	239
		Rough Compositions for the Picture	240
PART FIVE: CREATING IDEAS		Final Arrangement Based on Photos Taken	241
Frontispiece	208	The Finished Advertising Illustration	242
A LOGICAL METHOD	209	What Is the Future in Magazine Advertising?	243
The Plan of Working Up a Questionnaire	210	Better Taste in Magazine Advertising	244
Searching Basic Appeals for Ideas	211	THE OUTDOOR POSTER	245
A Sample Questionnaire	212	How a Poster Is Divided into Sheets	246
Rough Ideas Developed from the Questionnaire	213	Typical Poster Arrangements	247
A Different Approach from the Same Questionnaire	214	A Typical Poster Assignment	249
Creating Ideas from Basic Appeals	215	The Idea Roughed Out	250
Scribble While You Think: Think While You Scribble	216	Halftones of the Color Roughs	251
Your Scribbles Are More Original Than Your Camera	217	The Finished Poster	252
Get Used to Sketching from Life	218	DISPLAY ADVERTISING	253
You Get Something the Camera Can't Give You	219	Displays Are "Point of Sale" Merchandising	254
Sentiment the Keynote of Illustration	220	Working Up Ideas for Displays	255
Psychology Applied to Covers and Calendars	221	Types of Lithographic Displays	256
There Is Even Psychology in Comic Ideas	222	Working with Display Lithographers	258
Ideas in General	223	CALENDAR ADVERTISING	259
		Basic Appeals Applied to Calendars	260
		A Calendar Can Be Anything That Is Good	261
		Essentials of Good Calendar Illustration	262
		Painting for Calendar Reproduction	263

CONTENTS, INCLUDING ILLUSTRATIONS

COVERS AND JACKETS	264	PART SEVEN: EXPERIMENT AND STUDY
Some Jacket Arrangements	266	Frontispiece	284
STORY ILLUSTRATION	268	EXPERIMENT AND STUDY	286
What Do the Magazines Want?	269	Finding Subjects for Experiment and Study	287
Putting the Fundamentals to Work	270	Your Pencil Can Keep Busy	288
Exciting and Unusual Arrangement	271	Practice Heads All You Can	289
Style and Technique in Story Illustration	272	Study of an Old Man	290
Illustrations That Sell the Story	273	A Sample Illustration	291
Questionnaire for Starting an Illustration	274	Sketching	292
Working Out a Typical Story Illustration	275	Figure Painting	293
Miniature Roughs for the Illustration	276	Outdoor Sketch in Color	294
Developing the Actual-Size Rough	277	Portrait Sketch in Color	295
Photo of the Model	278
Study from the Photo	279
The Final Interpretation	280
Head Studies for Illustrations	281	CLOSING CHAT	296
Getting into Story Illustration	282	ANSWERS TO QUERIES	299