

Contents

Introduction	v
Bradford Lee Eden

Part I: The Associate University Librarian

1 What Is an Associate University Librarian?	3
Martha Hruska

Part II: Managing Change

2 The First Four Years: What I Walked Into and Where I Am Now	11
Jane Schillie
3 Everything Flows: Negotiating Change in the 21st-Century Library	19
Mildred L. Jackson

Part III: Funding the Library Enterprise and Managing Resources

4 “Climb On Down From That Tree and Help Me Turn Loose of This Here Wildcat”: The Art of Letting Go	29
Donald Barclay
5 Fund-Raising and the Academic Library: Generating Internal and External Support	47
Shakeela Begum

6	Dealing With Budget Reductions Marianne Afifi, Elizabeth Housewright, and Mark Stover	71
7	Sometimes the News Is Good Sandra Barstow	97
8	Associate University Librarian for Research: Libraries and the Business of Doing Research D. Scott Brandt	103
 Part IV: Managing Your Career
9	Lead Like You Really Mean It: Making Your Associate University Librarian Leadership Count Susan E. Parker	117
10	Moving Up: Positioning for Director Roles in Academic Libraries Julie Garrison, Marianne Ryan, and Kathleen DeLong	137
11	Making the Transition From Associate University Librarian to Line Librarian Sandra Barstow	161
 Part V: Associate University Librarians and Leadership
12	Next-Generation Associate University Librarians: Regenerating Academic Library Leadership Susan E. Parker	171
13	Associate University Librarians and Ethics in the Workplace Susan E. Parker	189
Index		221
About the Editor and Contributors		227