

Foreword	21
Abbreviations	23
1. Private food law	29
The emergence of a concept
Bernd van der Meulen
1.1 The first book on private food law	29
1.2 Private food law	30
1.3 Cover	32
1.4 Food law	32
1.5 Classifications in private food law	37
1.6 Topics covered in this book	38
1.7 Law and governance	48
1.8 Last but not least	49
Acknowledgements	49
References	50
2. Quasi-states? The unexpected rise of private food law	51
Lawrence Busch
2.1 Introduction	51
2.2 Building neoliberalism	51
2.3 Transformation of the global economy	55
2.4 Rise of the Tripartite Standards Regime (TSR)	59
2.5 Can governance be plural? Legitimacy and markets revisited	62
2.6 Conclusions	68
Acknowledgements	70
References	70
3. The anatomy of private food law	75
Bernd van der Meulen
3.1 Introduction	75
3.2 The history of private standards	77
3.3 Chain orchestration	78
3.4 Owning a standard	78
3.5 Enforcement	79
3.6 Adjudication	79

Table of contents

3.7 Audits	79
3.8 Certification mark	80
3.9 Accreditation	80
3.10 Beyond accreditation	82
3.11 Standard setting	83
3.12 Structure of private food law	83
3.13 Interconnected private schemes	84
3.14 Public – private interconnections	85
3.15 Motives	88
3.16 Examples	89
3.17 Underlying concepts	92
3.18 EurepGAP/GlobalGAP	93
3.19 BRC	97
3.20 IFS	98
3.21 SQF	99
3.22 FS22000	102
3.23 GFSI	103
3.24 Public law on private food law	105
3.25 WTO	106
3.26 Conclusions	108
References	109
4. Inventory of private food law	113
Theo Appelhof and Ronald van den Heuvel
4.1 Introduction	113
4.2 Controlling food safety by quality management system/standard	119
4.3 Description of commonly used Standards	124
4.4 To conclude	147
References	147
5. Codex Alimentarius and private standards	149
Spencer Henson and John Humphrey
5.1 Background	149
5.2 Nature of private food safety standards	151
5.3 Trends in the development and functions of private food safety standards	157
5.4 Role of Codex in the context of private standards	162
5.5 Do private standards jeopardise the work of Codex?	165
5.6 Challenges and opportunities for Codex	168
5.7 Conclusions	170
References	171

Table of contents

6. Private retail standards and the law of the World Trade Organisation	175
Marinus Huige
6.1 Introduction	175
6.2 What are private standards?	176
6.3 Private standards, what drives them?	177
6.4 Private standards and the WTO SPS Committee	178
6.5 The current discussion on applicability of the SPS Agreement	181
6.6 Food for thought	184
References	185
7. Private law making at the round table on sustainable palm oil	187
Otto Hospes
7.1 Introduction	187
7.2 The normative content of the RSPO	189
7.3 Principle(d) actors	192
7.4 Compliance and complaints	195
7.5 How voluntary are the RSPO principles and criteria?	196
7.6 Governments as consultative cheerleaders or competitive law makers	198
7.7 Conclusion	199
References	201
8. GlobalGAP smallholder group certification	203
Challenge and opportunity for smallholder inclusion into global value chains
Margret Will
8.1 Challenge or opportunity? An introduction to GlobalGAP option 2 smallholder certification	203
8.2 Challenge and opportunity! The GlobalGAP smallholder pilot project	208
8.3 Turning challenges into opportunities: conclusions from the GlobalGAP smallholder pilot project	213
8.4 GlobalGAP: challenge and opportunity! Conclusions and recommendations	221
References	226

Table of contents

9. Towards the self-regulation code on beer advertising in Italy	229
Steps on the long lasting path of competition/co-operation of public and private food law
Ferdinando Albisinni
9.1 The peculiar relation between innovation and food law	229
9.2 Private regulatory law	230
9.3 The IAP – Institute of self-regulation in Marketing Communication (1963)	231
9.4 Legislative reforms in the 1990's: cooperative competition between public and private law	233
9.5 The Beer Advertising Code: private regulation as tool to expand and anticipate consumer protection	236
9.6 Some open questions	238
References	239
10. Self-regulation code on beer advertising	241
Alessandro Artom
10.1 Introduction	241
10.2 Underlying principles	242
10.3 The Code	246
10.4 The Code as Private Food Law	253
References	254
11. Franchising strengthens the use of private food standards	255
Esther Brons-Stikkelbroeck
11.1 Introduction	255
11.2 Private food standards	255
11.3 Vertical agreements and franchising	257
11.4 Conclusion	264
References	264
12. On the borderline between state law and religious law	265
Regulatory arrangements connected to kosher and halal foods in the Netherlands and the United States
Tetty Havinga
12.1 The developing supply of halal foods	265
12.2 Regulating halal and kosher food	266
12.3 Kosher certification in the Netherlands	269
12.4 Halal certification in the Netherlands	270

Table of contents

12.5 Religious slaughter in the Netherlands	271
12.6 Regulation of kosher food in the United States	273
12.7 Religious slaughter in the United States	276
12.8 Comparative conclusions	277
12.9 Explaining the different position of the government	282
References	285
13. Organic food	289
A private concept's take-over by government and the continued leading role of the private sector
Hanspeter Schmidt
13.1 Introduction	289
13.2 'Bio' and 'Eco' and 'Regular'?	289
13.3 Comprehensive protection of organic terminology	290
13.4 The friendly take-over by government in the 1990s	290
13.5 Contaminants	291
13.6 2011: still the same concept	291
13.7 Positive lists for farming and processing	292
13.8 The friendliness of the take-over	293
13.9 Take-over of norms, but not of controls	293
13.10 Toxins from non-regulated sources	295
13.11 BNN orientation values	295
13.12 Pesticide traces as misleading labelling	297
13.13 The statutory role of doubt	298
13.14 Conclusion on the role of private organic food regulation	298
References	299
14. Food online	301
Reconnaissance into a consumer protection no-man's land between food law and the Civil Code
Lomme van der Veer
14.1 Introduction	301
14.2 The distance contract, buying food online	302
14.3 Information and expectations about the product	308
14.4 Conformity	309
14.5 Conformity requirement and distance contracts	313
14.6 Conclusions	317
References	318

Table of contents

15. National public sector and private standards	319
Cases in the Netherlands
Irene Scholten-Verheijen
15.1 Public law and private standards	319
15.2 Public procurement and private standards	323
15.3 Public enforcement and private standards	326
15.4 Conclusions	328
Postscript	328
References	329
16. The outside of private food law	331
The case of braided private regulation in Dutch dairy viewed in the light of competition law
Maria Litjens, Bernd van der Meulen and Harry Bremmers
16.1 Introduction	331
16.2 Background	332
16.3 Private regulation structured in the food chain	336
16.4 The big picture	342
16.5 Developments in competition law	345
16.6 Conclusions and discussion	349
Acknowledgements	351
References	351
17. The limit of private food law	353
Competition law in the food sector
Fabian Stancke
17.1 Introduction	353
17.2 The requirements of competition law compliance	354
17.3 Addressees of competition law in the food sector	354
17.4 The restrictions on anticompetitive conduct	355
17.5 The restrictions on non-collusive / unilateral conduct by market dominant companies	357
17.6 Groups of cases relevant under competition law in the food sector	358
17.7 Concluding remarks	376
References	377
18. EU 'new approach' also for food law?	381
Nicole Coutrelis
18.1 What is the 'new approach'	381
18.2 Is the 'new approach' unknown in EU Food Law?	383

Table of contents

18.3 Public/private – regulation/standards: present situation and questions	384
18.4 Is the 'new approach' now possible/desirable in EU Food Law?	386
References	388

Appendix 1.

Commission Communication – EU best practice guidelines for voluntary certification schemes for agricultural products and foodstuffs	391
--	------------

Appendix 2.

Communication from the Commission to the Council, the European Parliament and the European Economic and Social Committee	401
---	------------

Keyword index	423
----------------------	------------