1 An Overview of Approaches Taken in This Book	1
How Educational Digital Technologies Contribute to Learning	1
Research Methodologies in the Context of Learning and Learner Differences	1
Choice of Method and Relationships to Findings About Contribution	2
A Four-stage Methodological and Analytical Approach to Measuring Contribution	4
Selection of Literature	6
2 Educational Digital Technologies and Learning	8
Learning is Where We Start	8
Learning is Not a Singularity	9
Considering the Neurobiological Level and Implications for Cognition	14
Defining a Learning Framework Accommodating Different Learning Constructs	20
Megacognitive Concerns—Leading to Deeper and Wider Learning	21
Cognitive Concerns—Content and Process	23
Metacognitive Concerns—Recognising How We Can Learn	26
Social Concerns—the Roles of Others	28
Societal Concerns—Long-term Drivers and Purpose	30
Using a Learning Framework to Identify Where Specific Elements of Learning are Located	31

3	Types of Digital Technologies and Their Applications in Educational Settings	33
	An Introduction	33
	Digital Technologies Need To Be Categorised According to the Support They Offer	34
	Points to Consider	37
	Topic-specific Resources and Software	37
	Learning Contributions are Widely Recognised by Teachers	39
	Learning Contributions from Television and Video	40
	Learning Contributions from Using Calculators	40
	Learning Contributions from Games-based Activities	41
	Simulations and Modelling	43
	Word Processors	44
	Learning Contributions and Other Forms of Software and Resources	45
	Elements of Contribution	47
	Gaps in the Picture	50
	Curriculum-wide Learner-centred Software	50
	ILSs and Different Learner Groups	51
	Learner-centred Mathematics and Literacy Software	52
	Computer Assisted Instruction	53
	Elements of Contribution	53
	Gaps in the Picture	56
	Curriculum-wide Teacher-centred Software	57
	Science Curriculum Software	57
	Mathematics Curriculum Software	58
	Mathematics and English Language Software	59
	Elements of Contribution	61
	Gaps in the Picture	64
	Software Involving and Supporting Parents	64
	Exploiting Home–School Internet-wide Infrastructure	65
	Home–School Access and Commercial Online Resources	66
	Elements of Contribution	68
	Gaps in the Picture	70
	Online Resources Supporting Curriculum-wide Needs	71
	Affordances, Uses and Outcomes	72
	Elements of Contribution	73
	Gaps in the Picture	76
	Online Resources Supporting Revision Needs	76
	Online Revision Banks	77
	Elements of Contribution	78
	Gaps in the Picture	80

Online Learner Support	81
Meta-analyses of Online Learning and its Impact	82
Using Online Learning Environments	84
Elements of Contribution	85
Gaps in the Picture	87
Project and After-school Club Activities Involving Digital Technologies	88
Projects Linking Schools and Learners Internationally	89
Projects Focusing on Broadcasting	90
Projects Developing Video-Game Elements	91
Elements of Contribution	92
Gaps in the Picture	95
A Comparison of Contributions from the Analysis of Different Categories of Digital Technology	95
The Roles of Formative Assessment	98
4 Groups of Learners and Impacts of Digital Technologies on Learning	103
Learners are not a Singularity	103
Learners with Specific Cognitive Abilities and Attributes	106
Special Schools and Digital Technology Support	106
Dyslexia	108
Low Literacy Levels	109
Those on the Autistic Spectrum	111
Those with Down's Syndrome	112
Those with Severe Learning Difficulties	112
Gifted and Able Learners	112
In Summary	113
Learners with Limited Opportunities	113
Limited Physical Access	114
Limited Width of Awareness	114
Timeliness as a Factor	114
In Summary	115
Mainstream Early Learners	116
Toys and Digital Devices	116
Television Programmes	117
Computer Use by Early Learners	119
In Summary	119
Mainstream Young Learners	120
Home Access and Uses in Primary Schools	120
Digital Technology Skills and Learning Outcomes	120
Reported Levels of Impact	121
In Summary	123

Contents

Mainstream Secondary School or College Age Learners	123
Home Access and Uses in Secondary Schools	124
Subject Level Outcomes	125
Focusing on Higher Order Skills and Critical Thinking	127
In Summary	128
Learners with Physical Disabilities or Attributes	128
Special Schools and Assistive Technologies	129
Limited Access and Its Implications	129
Learning Support for those with Hearing Impairment	130
Learning Support for those with Visual Impairment	132
In Summary	134
Learners Not Physically Present in Classrooms or Lessons	134
Learners Excluded from Schools	135
Young Offenders	136
Those who are Hospitalised	136
Young Mothers and those Involved in Family Care	137
Those who are Homeless	138
In Summary	138
Learners with Challenging Emotional Features and Attributes	139
Anxiety	139
Shyness	139
Withdrawal	140
Emotional Distraction	140
Elective or Selective Mute	141
Those with Mental Illness	141
In Summary	142
Learners where Attitudes Pose Challenges	142
Engagement	142
Disaffection	145
Dissatisfaction	145
Disenfranchisement	146
In Summary	146
Learners with Challenging Behavioural Attributes	147
Using Video Modelling	147
Disruptive Behaviour	148
Anti-social Behaviour	148
In Summary	150
Learners with Challenging Social Attributes and Abilities	151
Those in Areas of Social Deprivation	151
Those who are Marginalised	152
Those with Language Barriers	153
Those Facing Ethnic and Cultural Barriers	154

Those Involved in Criminal Activities	154
Those Involved in Drug and Alcohol Abuse	155
Those who are Reluctant Communicators	156
In Summary	157
Learners where Geography Poses Challenges	157
Geographical Isolation and Rural Locations	157
Those Living in Remote Areas	160
In Summary	160
Future Concerns and Possible Areas of Focus	161
Lifelong Learners	161
Intergenerational Learners	165
5 Groups of Mediators and Uses of Digital Technologies in Supporting Learners	167
An Introduction	167
Mediators Support Different Groups of Learners	167
Teachers	169
Levels of Use in Supporting Teaching	169
Appropriateness of Applications	170
Matching Pedagogies	171
In Summary	172
Teaching Assistants	172
Their Roles	172
Using Digital Technologies	174
School Librarians	174
In Summary	175
Parents and Guardians	175
Parental Concerns	178
Parental Involvement and Learner Outcomes	179
Intergenerational Practices	179
In Summary	180
Support Workers and Youth Workers	182
Uses of Digital Technologies	182
Uses of Social Media	183
Youth Worker Uses	184
Youth Counsellors	184
In Summary	185
Counsellors	187
Mental Health Counsellors	187
Health Counsellors	188
School Counsellors	188
In Summary	189
