

Contents

Contents of Illustrations	(14)
Foreword by Professor Michael Byram of Durham University, U.K.	(15)
Acknowledgments	(17)
Introduction	(21)
The Importance of Intercultural Communication Today	1
Why study intercultural communication?	2
What IC is not about	3
What IC is about	5
The “field” of intercultural communication	6
Some important IC terms, abbreviations and their significance	7
The intention of this book	10
The scope and limitations of this book	11
What areas of intercultural communication will be discussed in this book	12
Chapter summary	14
Interesting websites for research on ideas in this chapter	14
Student activities	15
IC, Cultural and Linguistic Imperialism	17
World Englishes	18
Significance of the circles of English	19
Implications of the term World Englishes	20
Ownership of English	20
World Englishes, English ownership and implications for IC	22
The idea of cultural imperialism	23
A diluted version of cultural imperialism?	26
The idea of linguistic imperialism	27
A diluted version of linguistic imperialism?	29
Culture and language cannot be separated	29
English loanwords	30
Chapter summary	33
Interesting websites for research on ideas in this chapter	33
Student activities	34

Communication in IC	37
What is communication?	38
A detailed look at the different parts of the communication process	40
Meaning and IC	50
Philosophical perspectives on meaning in IC	50
Linguistic perspectives on meaning in IC	52
Psychological perspectives on meaning in IC	60
Bringing the different perspectives on meaning together	61
Chapter summary	62
Interesting websites for research on ideas in this chapter	62
Student activities	63
The Complexity of Culture	65
Problems with understanding culture	66
“Big C” and “Little c” culture	67
The iceberg of culture	69
Definitions of culture	71
Fundamental features of culture	73
Cultures within cultures within cultures	76
Learning culture	78
The connections between language, culture and meaning	80
Is all communication intercultural?	82
Chapter summary	83
Interesting websites for research on ideas in this chapter	84
Student activities	85
Other Influential Approaches to Analyzing Culture	99
Two major approaches	100
Hofstede’s cultural dimensions	101
Conclusions on the cultural dimensions	114
Hall’s high and low context orientation	115
Other influential approaches	116
Chapter summary	117
Interesting websites for research on ideas in this chapter	118
Student activities	120

Culture, Social Identity and You	123
Background	124
Social identity and personal identity	126
Cultural identity	127
Personality	128
Ideas of the self	131
Chapter summary	137
Interesting websites for research on ideas in this chapter	137
Student activities	139
Stereotypes and Prejudice	141
Background	142
What exactly are stereotypes?	144
Negative and positive stereotypes	146
Stereotypes about social groups we often forget	148
Why do we have stereotypes?	153
Where do our stereotypes come from?	155
The “grain of truth” problem	168
Stereotypes and recent social psychology	170
What is the difference between stereotypes and prejudice?	171
National stereotypes and language learners	173
Stereotypes as self-fulfilling prophecies	174
Using a movie study to discuss stereotypes	177
Can we escape all of our stereotypes?	180
Chapter summary	181
Interesting websites for research on ideas in this chapter	182
Student activities	183
Language and IC	185
Background	186
The ideas of Whorf and Sapir	190
The ideas of Anna Wierzbicka	193
The ideas of Michael Agar	196
Using Agar and Wierzbicka’s ideas to conduct a culture study	199
Implications for IC using ELF	201
EFL and Cultural/Linguistic Imperialism	203
Chapter summary	205
Interesting websites for research on ideas in this chapter	205
Student activities	206

Intercultural Communicative Competence	209
Background	210
What is ICC?	210
Adding the language element	215
Fantini's constructs for successful IC	218
ICC and ELF	219
ICC, beliefs, values and ELF	221
The significance of ICC for ELF competence	222
Chapter summary	223
Interesting websites for research on ideas in this chapter	223
Student activities	225
The Survival Guide for Non-Native English Speakers	247
The new world of IC using ELF	248
The 10 Do's and Don'ts survival guide for non-native English speakers	250
Chapter summary	256
Student activities	258
Appendix: Monograph: The paradox of being a citizen of the world and an Englishman abroad	259
References	271
Index	283
About the Author	297