

Contents

| | |
|---|-----|
| Acknowledgements | vi |
| Contributors | vii |
| 1. Introduction Joe Langford and Deana McDonagh | 1 |
| PART I: Organising and Conducting a Focus Group: The Logistics | |
| 2. Organising and Conducting a Focus Group: The Logistics Anne Bruseberg and Deana McDonagh | 21 |
| PART II: Focus Groups in Human Factors/Ergonomics and Design: Case Studies | |
| 3. Focus Groups in Market Research Wendy Ives | 51 |
| 4. Focus Groups in New Product Development: Designers' Perspectives Anne Bruseberg and Deana McDonagh | 63 |
| 5. The Use of Focus Groups for User Requirements Analysis Martin Maguire | 73 |
| 6. Focus Groups in Health and Safety Research Roger Haslam | 97 |
| 7. Running Focus Groups with Older Participants Julia Barrett and Paul Herriotts | 115 |
| 8. Bringing Real World Context into the Focus Group Setting Peter Coughlan and Aaron Sklar | 129 |
| 9. Focused Groups: Scenario-based Discussions Lee Cooper and Chris Baber | 137 |
| 10. Harnessing People's Creativity: Ideation and Expression through Visual Communication Elizabeth Sanders and Colin William | 145 |
| 11. Beyond Focus Groups? The Use of Group Discussion Methods in Participatory Design Joe Langford, John Wilson and Helen Haines | 157 |
| PART III: Focus Group Tools | |
| 12. Focus Group Tools Joe Langford and Deana McDonagh | 173 |
| Author Index | 225 |
| Index | 227 |