

Contents

Preface	page vii
Acknowledgments	ix
Introduction: practical reason, moral justification, and the grounds of value	I
PART I: REASONS FOR ACTION
1 Reasons, practical reason, and practical reasoning	13
2 Intrinsic value and reasons for action	41
3 The grounds and structure of reasons for action	71
4 Practical reason and the status of moral obligation	97
PART II: INTUITION, OBLIGATION, AND VIRTUE
5 Intuitions, intuitionism, and moral judgment	129
6 Kantian intuitionism as a framework for the justification of moral judgments	160
7 Moral virtue and reasons for action	182
8 Virtue ethics in theory and practice	203
PART III: RELIGION, POLITICS, AND THE OBLIGATIONS OF CITIZENSHIP
9 Wrongs within rights	229

IO	Religion and the politics of science: can evolutionary biology be religiously neutral?	249
II	Nationalism, patriotism, and cosmopolitanism in an age of globalization	278
	Index	298