

Contents

Introduction		ix
CHAPTER 1	You Don't Make Your Movie in a Bubble!	1
	Locations Are Characters	3
	The Bubble Effect	4
	What's the Big Deal?	7
	The Bubble Versus Public Perception	9
	To Understand the Bubble Effect, Remember	12
CHAPTER 2	The Business of Show Biz	13
	You Are Your Company	14
	The Business License	15
	Your Business Structure	16
	Marketing You and Your Company	17
	Liability and Insurance	19
	Demystify Guerilla Filmmaking	20
	Insurance: Get Competitive Bids	22
	The Permit Process	25
	Letter of Intent	26
	Ownership: Get It in Writing	27
	Deliverables	30
	Waivers, Releases, and Contracts	32
	Release Forms	34
	In the Business of Show Biz, Remember	37
CHAPTER 3	The Breakdown: Analyzing the Script	39
	Deconstructing the Script	41
	The Breakdown Sheet	42
	Elements on the Breakdown Sheet	50
	Organizing by Location: Creating a Location List	57
	To Breakdown the Script, Remember to	57
CHAPTER 4	Before You Scout	59
	How Budget Affects Location Scouting	60
	How Insurance Affects Location Scouting	64
	Private Property Versus Public Property	65
	Meet Your Creative Team	75
	Prepare to Scout: Keep It Close to Home	77
	Start with What You Know	78
	Tricks and Tools	78
	Be professional: You Are Selling Door to Door	80
	Before You Go Out Scouting, Remember to	82
CHAPTER 5	Your Kodak Moments	83
	Location Photos: Polaroid, Film, Digital—What Next?	84
	Shooting Panoramas or Not?	86
	To Pan or Not to Pan	88
	Aesthetics Versus Logistics	89
	Digital Cameras	91
	Digital Delivery Methods	92

	Location Photo Presentations	94
	Ethics and Safety in the Wild	95
	Location Scouting Kit	96
	When Taking Location Photos, Remember	97
CHAPTER 6	I'm Not Lost: I'm Location Scouting	99
	Cold Scouting	101
	Communication Skills	102
	Make Contact, Stay Current, and Don't Assume	103
	The Pitch	104
	Who's the Owner?	105
	I Can't Find the Owner!	107
	Know Your Location Environment	108
	The Location Scout Checklist	110
	Plan B or Plan C or Plan D . . .	112
	How to Marry Your Locations	115
	Create Your Zone	116
	How to Handle "No"	117
	Scouting Safety and Post-9/11 Paranoia	117
	Location Professionals	119
	When Scouting Locations, Remember	120
CHAPTER 7	Before You Shoot	123
	Location Logistics	124
	What Do Locations Cost?	124
	Prep and Strike Days	127
	Location Contracts	128
	Where Do I Park the Circus?	133
	How Do I Find a Base Camp?	136
	Tents, Toilets, and Trash	138
	Parking Permits	141
	The All-Important Neighborhood Notification Letter	145
	The Absolutely Essential Technical Scout	146
	Before You Shoot, Remember to	151
CHAPTER 8	Shoot and Wrap	153
	Shoot Checklist Inventory	154
	Crew Maps and Directional Signs	157
	First One on the Set	163
	TLC: Tender Loving Care	163
	Leap-Frogging	165
	Why Production Assistants Are Important	166
	Troubleshooting on the Set	167
	The Wrap	172
	Repair, Replace, and Restore	173
	Never Burn a Location	174
	Thank-You Notes and Gift Baskets	175
	Why You Need a Location Manager	176
	During the Shoot and Wrap, Remember to	178
CHAPTER 9	Film Commissions and Location Incentives	179
	AFCI Film Commission Free Services	181
	Movie-Induced Tourism Is the Bonus	183
	What If You're on a Small, Low-Budget Project?	183
	Locations Around the World	185
	Film Incentives Abound Around the World	188
	FLICS: Film Liaisons in California Statewide	188
	When Deciding Where to Shoot, Remember to	190

CHAPTER 10	Student Filmmaker's "411"	191
	High School Students	193
	University Film Programs	195
	Student Filmmakers' Book Camp	195
	Call Your Local Film Commission	196
	Do Students Need Insurance?	196
	Where Do I Start Location Scouting?	197
	Every Inch of Land Is Owned by Someone	197
	Big City Blues	198
	Film Crews Always Create Public Impact	198
	Know the Power of Public Perception	199
	Neighborhood Notifications and Signage	200
	Post-9/11 Paranoia	200
	Where Do I Park the Circus?	201
	When Do I Need Police or the Fire Marshal?	201
	Can I Use Children in My Movie?	202
	What Paperwork Do I Need People to Sign?	203
	Code of Conduct	205
	As a Student Filmmaker, Remember	205
Index		207