

Contents

LIST OF FIGURES	x
FOREWORD Carol Ann Tomlinson	xii
ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	xv
ABOUT THE AUTHORS	xviii
PREFACE	xix
 CHAPTER 1. FLIPPING AND DIFFERENTIATING:
FINDING COMMON GROUND	1
A Teacher in Action	2
Flexibility—Both a Blessing and a Curse	2
Overview of a Flipped Classroom	3
Brain Research and the Flipped Classroom:
Implications for Practice	4
Knowledge	4
Processing Opportunities	5
Community	5
Overview of a Differentiated Classroom	5
Personalization and Differentiation	6
Brain Research and the Differentiated Classroom:
Why Differentiation Matters	6
Knowledge-Centered	7
Assessment-Centered	7
Learner-Centered	7
Community-Centered	8
Differentiating and Flipping: A Harmonious Match	8

CHAPTER 2. CRAFTING AND MAINTAINING A POSITIVE LEARNING ENVIRONMENT: COMMUNITY AND MINDSET	9
Practical Strategies for Promoting a Healthy Learning Environment	11
Overt At-School Methods for Building Community and a Growth Mindset Community	12
Attendance Questions	12
Different Shoes, Different Learning	13
"ME" Postcards	13
Mindset	14
Covert Instructional Decisions at School for Building Community and a Growth Mindset	14
Flexible Grouping	14
Overt At-Home Activities for Building Community and a Growth Mindset	18
Community Videos	18
Community Questions	19
Mindset Videos	19
Mindset Questions	20
Covert At-Home Student Interactions for Building Community in Academic Contexts	20
Giving Feedback	21
Ensuring That ALL Students Connect	22
The Bottom Line	23
A Teacher in Action	23
CHAPTER 3. USING FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT TO CHECK FOR UNDERSTANDING	25
A Teacher in Action: Part 1	26
Formative Versus Summative	26
Quick Ways to Assess for Readiness at Home	27
Graphic Organizers	27
Quick Ways to Assess for Student Readiness at School	28
Individual Formative Assessments	29
Group Formative Assessments	33
Online Status Checks	36

The Bottom Line	37
A Teacher in Action: Part 2	37

CHAPTER 4. DIFFERENTIATING ACCORDING TO STUDENT READINESS	39
Differentiating for Readiness
Using Questions and Prompts	41
Questioning at School	42
Questioning at Home	47
Differentiating for Readiness Through Scaffolding	48
Small Group Instruction and Modeling	49
Targeted Practice	50
Tiered Graphic Organizers	51
Differentiating for Readiness
Through Varied Content Delivery	54
Varied Levels of Text	54
Varied Levels of Videos	55
A Note on Flexible Grouping	57
The Bottom Line	57
A Teacher in Action	58

CHAPTER 5. DIFFERENTIATING ACCORDING TO STUDENT INTEREST AND LEARNING PROFILE	59
Motivation in a Flipped Classroom	60
Getting on the Same Page:
Interest and Learning Profile	61
Student Interest	61
Learning Profile	62
Discovering and Responding to Personal Interests	63
Simple Strategies for Harnessing
Students' Personal Interests	64
At Home	64
At School	66
Strategies for Activating Students'
Situational Interests	67
Jigsaw	67
RAFT	68

Learning Menus	71
TriMind	74
Using the Strategies Effectively	76
The Bottom Line	77
A Teacher in Action	77
CHAPTER 6. MANAGING THE
DIFFERENTIATED FLIPPED CLASSROOM	79
A Teacher in Action	80
Flexibility Revisited	80
Classroom Routines: At School	81
Starting and Ending Class	82
Use of Materials, Equipment, and Personal Devices	82
Expectations for Individual and Group Work: At School	84
Expectations for Teacher-Led Activities	85
Logistical Concerns	87
Record Keeping: At Home and At School	88
At Home: Record Keeping of Student Responses Through Discussion Posts, Blogs, or Journals	88
Tracking Progress: At Home and At School	90
Trouble Spots	93
The Bottom Line	96
CHAPTER 7. CLOSING THOUGHTS	97
Summarizing the Overarching Principles	98
A Teacher at Work	99
Community	99
Formative Assessment	99
Adjusting for Readiness	99
Motivating Through Interest and Learning Profile Options	100
Grouping Flexibly	100
Leading and Managing	100
Ensuring Progress	101
What Does It Look Like in “Real Time”?	101
Start Small . . . But Start	103

APPENDICES

Appendix A. Resources for Implementing a Flipped Classroom	104
Appendix B. Sample Student Technology Survey and School District BYOD Policy	115
Appendix C. Interest and Learning Profile Task Examples	118
Appendix D. Extended Management Example	149
Appendix E. Differentiated Flipped Lesson Plan (FLP) Template and Sample Lessons	153

REFERENCES	178
-------------------	------------

INDEX	181
--------------	------------