

International Yearbook of Library and Information
Management

2001–2002

information services in an electronic environment

iylm INTERNATIONAL YEARBOOK OF
LIBRARY AND INFORMATION
MANAGEMENT

general editor
G E GORMAN

Contents

Editorial Advisory Board 2001/2002	ix
About the contributors	xi
Introduction	xvii
Part 1 The Evolution of Information Services	1
1 Only connect . . . a survey of reference services – past, present and future Rowena Cullen	3
Part 2 Information Services in Different Types of Libraries	43
2 The impact of the internet on public libraries Lewis G. Liu	45
3 Information behaviour in the electronic age Linda Banwell	69
4 Youth services in an electronic environment Susan Ellen Higgins	103
5 Organizational development in Denmark's Electronic Research Library Jakob H. Petersen and Jens Thorhauge	125
Part 3 The Delivery of Information Services	141
6 Information retrieval in the electronic environment R. J. Hartley	143
7 Information standards: the invisible foundation of electronic information delivery Mary E. Jackson	167

VIII CONTENTS

8	Research on library services for distance learning: an international perspective Alexander L. Slade	187
9	Copyright implications for document delivery Judy Watkins	235
Part 4	Information Literacy – a Key Service	255
10	Internet training: precursor to information literacy D. Scott Brandt	257
11	The transition of traditional bibliographic instruction to information literacy Lorna Peterson	279
12	Mainstreaming the library: new models for integrating information literacy Wendy Abbott and Deborah Peach	299
Part 5	The Measurement of Information Services	321
13	Measurement and evaluation of electronic information services Ronald R. Powell	323
14	Monitoring the e-turnstile: developing digital library user profiles Patrick McGlamery	343
	Index	365