

ACTION!

Acting for Film and Television

ROBERT BENEDETTI

CONTENTS

Figures	xi
Exercises	xiii
Preface	xv
About the Author	xvii

PART ONE Working with the Camera 1

Introduction: Getting Started	3
-------------------------------	---

A Scene of Your Own	3
---------------------	---

Your Own Camera System	4
------------------------	---

1 Training for the Camera 7

Acting on Stage and on Camera	8
-------------------------------	---

The Film Actor's Consciousness	9
--------------------------------	---

Summary	10
---------	----

2 How a Film Is Organized 13

Prep	14
------	----

Rehearsal	19
-----------	----

Handling Your Lines	19
---------------------	----

Summary	21
---------	----

3 How a Single-Camera Film Is Made 23

Shooting	26
----------	----

Post-Production: Looping	31
--------------------------	----

Summary	32
---------	----

4	Shot Size	35
	Distance and Relationship	35
	Shot Size and the Actor	38
	Summary	41
5	Teamwork	43
	Blocking for the Camera	43
	Group Shots	45
	Eye-Lines	46
	Overlapping	48
	Summary	49
6	Continuity	51
	Matching Levels of Intensity	51
	Matching Rhythm and Tempo	52
	Matching Business and Props	53
	Matching Take to Take	54
	Cheating	55
	Summary	56
7	Working with Multiple Cameras	57
	Film versus Video	57
	Acting for Multiple Cameras	60
	Sitcoms	60
	Soap Operas	64
	Summary	65

PART TWO	Preparing Yourself and Your Role	67
8	The Inner Discipline of Camera Acting	69
	Transformation and "the Magic If"	69
	Action and Public Solitude	71
	Justification	71
	Indicating	73
	Transformation and the Camera	74
	Summary	74
9	Inner Action	77
	Seeing and Listening	79
	Attitude	80
	Choice	80
	Summary	82
10	Actions and Objectives	83
	Defining Productive Objectives	83
	Defining Playable Actions	84
	Spontaneity	86
	The Inner Monologue	87
	Summary	87
11	The Four Types of Outer Action	89
	Automatic Actions	89
	Direct and Indirect Action: Subtext	90
	Doing Nothing	91
	Summary	93

12	Dramatic Structure	95
	The Shape of Drama	96
	Story Architecture	97
	Scene Structure	99
	The Superobjective	100
	Summary	102
13	Emotion	103
	Working from the Outside In	103
	Working from the Inside Out	104
	Emotion Memory and Substitution	106
	Summary	108
14	Starting a Career in Film and Television	109
	Getting Started	110
	Getting an Agent	110
	Joining a Union	111
	The Casting Process	112
	Commercials, Industrials, and Looping	114
	Auditions	115
	Summary	117
	Afterword: The Ethics of Film Acting	119
	Appendix A: Sample Scenes	121
	From Death of a Salesman by Arthur Miller	121
	From Miss Evers' Boys by Walter Bernstein	127
	From Cheers by Tom Reedes	129

Appendix B: Useful Scene Sources	135
Screenplays	135
Plays	136
Useful Collections	141
 Glossary of Film and Television Terms	 143
 Index	 151