

ages . written language . graphic images . sound . moving image

Mixed Media

Barrie Day

OXFORD

Contents

1 Getting started	6
Different forms of media text	7
Decoding media texts	8
Signs in media texts	8
The four basic media codes	9
Looking at the type of text	10
Looking at audience	12
Looking at purpose	14
Looking at effectiveness	16
 2 The code of still graphic images	 18
The knowledge you already have	18
Learning zone	20
Composition: putting messages in pictures	20
Figure signs	22
Shape and proportion	25
Colour, texture, and lighting	26
Viewpoint	28
The impact of news photographs	31
Two-step reading	32
Task zone	36
Deconstruction tasks	36
Construction tasks	38
 3 The code of written language	 39
The knowledge you already have	39
Learning zone	40
Alliteration	40
Assonance	40
Adjective tag	41

CONTENTS

Rhyme	41
Emotive language	42
Puns	43
Syntax and rhythm	44
Slang or chatty language	46
Imagery	46
Active and passive voice	47
Imperative verbs	48
Interrogative verbs	48
Representation and bias	49
Looking at newspapers	50
Task zone	56
Deconstruction task 1	56
Construction task 1	57
Deconstruction task 2	58
Construction task 2	59
 4 Written language and still graphic images	 61
The knowledge you already have	61
Task zone	62
The graphic novel	62
The magazine holiday advert	64
The leaflet	66
The internet website	68
Newspaper extracts	70
 5 The code of sound	 73
The knowledge you already have	73
Learning zone	74
What makes up the code of sound?	74
Speaking voices	75
Sound effects	82

Silence	84
Music	84
Radio advertising	88
Task zone	90
Deconstruction task	90
Construction task	92
 6 The code of moving images	 93
The knowledge you already have	93
Genre films	93
Learning zone	95
Constructing a film: telling a story in pictures and sound	95
The screenplay	95
Mise-en-scène	98
Lighting	104
Camera shots	106
Editing	108
The soundtrack	109
Task zone	111
Deconstruction case study 1: A Close Shave	111
Deconstruction case study 2: Macbeth	118
Construction task: film adaptation	125
 Glossary	 127
Acknowledgements	128

