Jennings Bryant

Susan Thompson

Fundamentals of Media Effects

Contents

PREFACE XVII

SECTION ONE

Overview and History

1. Understanding Media Effects 3

Processes of Communication 4
Communication Models 5
Models to Depict Communication Processes 6
Models to Explain Media Effects 9
Measuring Media Effects 12
Laboratory Experiments 14
Survey Research 14
Field Experiments 15
Panel Studies 16
Triangulation 16
Other Research Methodologies of Media Effects 16
Content Analysis 16
Meta-Analysis 17
Statistical Methods 17
Importance of Studying Media Effects 18

2. Media Effects: A Historical Perspective 21

Historical Concern for Media Effects 22
Suppression Due to Concern for Media Effects 23
Mob Violence as Media Effect 24
Public Concern for "Indecent" Material 25

Historical Evidence for Changes in Behavior and Opinion Due to Mass Media 26
Effects from New Media Technologies 26
Media Effects on Public Opinion 27
Powerful Effects: Widespread Fright Reactions to Media Content 29
Evidence for Effects from Persuasive Messages 30

3. History of the Scientific Study of Media Effects 35

The "Established" History 36
A Revised History 40
Precursors 44
Frances Eenton 45
Gabriel Tarde 46
Some Pioneers in Media Effects Research 46
Carl Hovland 47
Paul Lazarsfeld 47
Harold Lasswell 48
Kurt Lewin 48
Samuel Stouffer 49
Douglas Waples 50
Interest in Media Effects Continues 51
Wilbur Schramm 51
Mediating Factors 51
Attempts to Generalize About Effects 52
Bernard Berelson 52
Joseph Klapper 53
The 1970s and Beyond 54
Final Points of Contention with the Standard History 54
Future of Effects Research 55

SECTION TWO

Theory and Concepts

4. Social Cognitive Theory 67

Distinctly Human Traits 68
Symbolizing Capacity 68
Self-Regulatory Capacity 68
Self-Reflective Capacity 69
Vicarious Capacity 70
Observational Learning and Modeling 70
Modeling 70
Abstract Modeling 72

Effects of Modeling 72
Inhibitory Effects 72
Disinhibitory Effects 73
Learning from Media Content and Modeling 75
Viewing Disinhibitory Devices 76
Social Construction of Reality and Cultivation 76
Effects of Viewing Televised or Film Violence 77
Learning Good Things from Mass Media 78
Social Prompting or Persuasion 79
Many Influences Cause Persuasion 80
Diffusion by Way of Symbolic Modeling 80
Recent Research 81

5. Priming Effects 87

Activation of Priming 88
Conceptual Roots 89
Research Tradition 91
Variables that Enhance Priming Effects 91
Perceived Meaning 92
Perceived Justifiability 92
Character Identification 93
Perceived Reality 93
Memories of Prior Experiences 93
Theoretical Bases 94
Storage Bin Model 94
Storage Battery Model 94
Synapse View Model 94
Recent Research and Future Trends 95

6. Cultivation 100

The Cultural Indicators Project 101
Conceptual Roots and Criticisms 103
Theoretical Bases for Cultivation 105
Research Tradition 106
Recent Research and Future Trends 107

7. Diffusion of Innovations 113

The Adopter Categories 115
The Innovators 116
The Early Adopters 116
The Early Majority 116
The Late Majority 116
The Laggards 116

Origin of the Theory 117
Conceptual Roots 117
Step One—Learning about the Innovation 117
Step Two—Adoption of the Innovation 118
Step Three—Developing Social Networks after Adoption 118
The Diffusion and Adoption Process 119
Knowledge 119
Persuasion 119
Decision 119
Confirmation 119
Important Diffusion Studies 119
Wissler's Study of Diffusion of Horses among Plains Indians 120
The Iowa Hybrid Corn Seed Study 120
Diffusion of News 120
Current and Future Diffusion Research 122

8. Uses and Gratifications 127

Societal-Level Functions of Mass Media 128
Models to Explain Uses and Effects 128
Transactional Model 129
Gratification-Seeking and Audience Activity Model 129
Expectancy-Value Model 129
Uses and Dependency Model 129
Assumptions of Uses and Gratifications 130
Uses and Gratifications Research: A Brief History 132
Recent Research 133
Criticisms of Uses and Gratifications 134

9. Agenda Setting 140

Conceptual Roots 141
Agenda Building 142
Research Tradition 142
Phase 1: Intial Study—Chapel Hill 142
Phase 2: Replication 144
Phase 3: Contingent Factors 145
Phase 4: Who Sets the Media Agenda? 146
Recent Research and Future Trends 147
Hypothesis or Theory?—The Debate Continues 148

10. Persuasion 153

Research Tradition 154
Attitude, Emotions, Behavior, and Persuasion 155
Persuasion Models 157
McGuire's Communication/Persuasion Matrix Model 157

Cognitive Response Theory 158
The Elaboration Likelihood Model 158
Models that Link Attitudes and Actions 162
Reasoned Action and Planned Behavior 162
Automatic Activation 163
Recent Research and Future Trends 163

SECTION THREE

Key Areas of Research

11. Effects of Media Violence 171

Media Violence Research Methods 172
Laboratory Experiments 172
Field Experiments 172
Correlational Surveys 173
Longitudinal Panel Studies 173
Natural Experiments 173
Intervention Studies 174
Measuring Violent Content 174
Measuring Viewers' Perceptions 176
Meta-Analyses 177
The Psychological Impact of Media Violence 177
Behavioral Effects 178
Affective, or Emotional Effects 181
Cognitive Effects 182
Media Violence Research and Public Policy: History and Future 184

12. Media Effects from Sexual Content 194

The Nature of Sexual Content 194
Pornography 195
Obscenity 196
The Extent of Sexual Content in the Media 197
Music Videos 197
X-Rated Videos 197
Television 198
Magazines 199
R-Rated Movies 199
Exposure to Highly Explicit Sexual Content 199
Sexual Arousal 200
Changes in Values and Attitudes 200
Changes in Behavior 202
Effects of Erotica on Aggression 202
Importance of the Prevailing Tone 203

Exposure to Sexually Violent Material 204
Importance of Individual Differences 204
Sexual Violence in Slasher Films 205
Reducing the Negative Effects 206
More on Behavioral Effects of Pornography: The Study of Sex Offenders 206
The Four-Factor Syndrome 207
Correlation between Sex Crimes and Sexually Explicit Materials 208

13. Reactions to Disturbing or Frightening Media Content 214

Frightening Stories as Entertainment 215
Explanations for the Appeal of Fright 217
Measuring Fright 218
Fright Reactions in Children 218
Dynamics of Fear Reactions to Media Content 220
Fear-Producing Stimuli 220
Emotional Response Factors 222
Age and Gender Differences 223
Strategies for Coping with Fear 225
Types of Noncognitive Strategies 226
Types of Cognitive Strategies 226

14. News Effects 233

Characteristics of News 234
Hard News 234
Crisis News 236
Soft News 237
Crisis Effects 238
News Diffusion 238
Effects of Crisis on Media Function and Activity 239
Rally Effects 239
Psychological and Other Effects from News 240
Remembering the News 240
News Effects on Knowledge and Decisions 241
News Effects on Foreign Policy 241
Recent Research and Future Trends 242

15. Communication Campaign Effects 247

Concepts of Communication Campaigns 248
Campaign Objectives and Methods 248
Strategy to Facilitate Change 248
Potential Benefits from Proposed Change 249
Campaign Stakeholders 250
Public Perceptions about the Stakeholder 251

Theoretical Bases for Campaigns 251
McGuire's Model 252
Elaboration Likelihood Model (ELM) 252
Reasoned Action and Planned Behavior 252
Automatic Activation Model 253
Social Cognitive and Social Learning Theories 253
Self-Efficacy 253
Why Campaigns Fail 254
Successful Campaign Principles 255
Recent Research and Future Trends 261

16. Media Effects on Health 267

Research Findings 268
Effects of Advertisements on Health 268
Effects of Entertainment Portrayals on Health 270
Effects of Health News 273
Health Communication Campaign Effects 275
Other Types of Mediated Health Education 277
Edutainment 279
Media Advocacy 279
Other Important Tools 279
Recent Research and Future Trends 280

17. Advertising Effects 288

Advertising in Today's Media Environment 289
Research Tradition 290
The Importance of Mood 293
Media Context Studies 294
Cognitive Response Studies 294
Observational Studies 295
Studies Involving Psychological Measures 296
Priming Studies 296
The Importance of Advertising Frequency and Repetition 297
Comprehension and Miscomprehension 299
Recent Research 299

18. Mass-Mediated Political Communication Effects 306

Influences on Political Communication 307
Functions of Mass Media in a Democracy 307
Media Content 309
Research on Political Communication Effects 310
Micro-Level Studies 310
Macro-level Studies 313

Factors Influencing Media Effects 314
Individual Characteristics 314
Information Processing 315

19. The Effects of Minority Portrayals 322

Media as Conveyors of Social Information 323
Minority Portrayals in Entertainment 323
Counting Heads 324
Role Comparisons 326
Portrayals of Interracial Interactions 327
The Current Picture 328
Minority Portrayals in News Reports 330
Minority Portrayals in Advertising 332
The Current Scene 333
Minority Portrayals in Children's Programming 334
The Effects of Minority Portrayals 336
Effects on Majority Audiences 337
Effects on Minority Audiences 338

20. Media Entertainment Effects 347

A Brief History of Entertainment 347
Methods of Research 348
Selective Exposure 349
Enjoyment of Entertainment 352
Drama 352
Humor 354
Sports 355
Suspense 356
Horror 357
Recent Research and Future Trends 358

21. New Communication Technologies 364

The Digital Frontier 365
New Interactive Environments 368
New Conceptions of Audiences 369
Ethical and Policy Considerations 370
Research on New Media and their Effects 374
Practical Advantages of New Technologies 377
New Theory and New Models 378

INDEX 385