

THE IMPACT OF AN ADULT CHILD'S DEATH DUE
TO AIDS ON OLDER-AGED PARENTS :
RESULTS FROM A DIRECT INTERVIEW SURVEY

JOHN KNODEL
WASSANA IM-EM
CHANPEN SAENGTIENCHAI
MARK VANLANDINGHAM
JIRAPORN KESPICHAYAWATTANA

CONTENTS

	page
Preface	i
Foreword	ii
Acknowledgements	iii
Abstract	iv
Contents	v
List of Tables	vii
Introduction	1
The Thai Setting	2
The AIDS epidemic	2
Socio-economic and demographic background	3
Survey Design and Methods	4
General issues	4
Survey design and implementation	5
Response rates	11
Sample biases	13
Comparability between AIDS and non-AIDS parents	15
Characteristics of Deceased Adult Children	18
Living Arrangements	23
Residence at the terminal stage	23
Routes to coresidence	25
Parental Caregiving	26
Illness and caregiving duration	27
Gender differences	28
Caregiving tasks	29
Assistance to parental caregiving	32

	page
Health Impacts	33
Spouses and Orphans	35
AIDS widows and widowers	36
AIDS orphans	38
Care, Treatment and Funeral Expenses	43
Direct parental contributions	43
Opportunity costs	48
Means of meeting expenses	51
Assistance from family members	52
Formal channels of assistance	52
Longer Term Economic Impacts	56
Costs for dependents	56
Loss of filial support	57
Comparisons with non-AIDS parents	60
Community Reaction	63
Conclusions	68
Reference List	72
Appendix:
Questionnaire for Survey of Impact of Adult Child Death on Parents	77