

Issues for Libraries and Information Science in the INTERNET Age

Bruce A. Shuman

Contents

Preface	ix
--------------------------	----

1—Ecce Internet! Capabilities	1
Overview	1
What Is the Internet?	1
Where, Exactly, Is the Internet?	3
What Is the World Wide Web?	4
How Big Is the Internet?	6
How Important Is the Internet?	10
History: The Internet's Birth and Development	17
Demographics: Who's on the Web?	22
Capabilities: What You Can Do, Find, Visit on the Web	26
E-Mail and the Internet	32
Notes	35

2—Caveat Internet! Potholes, Hazard Lights, and
Glare Ice on the Information Superhighway	37
Overview	37
The Times, They Are a-Changin'	37
Modern-Day Luddites	40
Not Dodge City; Who's in Charge, Here?	42
Hazardous Driving Conditions on the Infobahn	46
Drowning in Data: Information Overload	51
Truth and Accuracy: Information and Misinformation	52
Change in the Workplace	54
Change in Us	56
Access Issues: Haves and Have-Nots	61
Information Overload	63
What About Children? Filtering and Censorship on the Web	66
Notes	74

3—Libraries and the Internet: Collaboration or Competition?	77
Overview	77
Library Luddites	77
Who Needs Libraries? Who Needs Librarians?	80
The Role of the Reference Librarian	87
What About Books?	88
Internet Capabilities in the Library	91
Internet Filters: Access Denied	98
The Dark Side of the Internet	103
Internet Access Policies	105
The Internet As a Free Forum	106
Proliferation of Information	108
Notes	112
 4—Netizenship: Legal and Ethical Aspects of the Internet	 115
Overview	115
Netizens: Rights and Responsibilities	115
Legal Issues on the Net	117
Copyright: Deciding What's Fair	117
Privacy on the Net	122
Ethics and the Internet	126
Identity Theft; Information Theft; Security on the Net	127
Privacy	129
Electronic Security	132
Public Data	133
Holes in Security	135
Spam, Glorious Spam	138
Cookie Monsters and Electronic Footprints	139
Electronic Eavesdropping	142
Notes	144
 5—Internet Resources for Libraries	 145
Overview	145
Sites, Sites, and More Sites	146
Recall Versus Precision	147
Effective Search Strategies for Web Information Finding	147
The Internet As a Reference Tool	149
A: General Web Search Engines and Meta-Search Engines	154
B: Basic Reference Sources Online: Essential Web Tools	162
C: News and Entertainment Sites	166
D: Financial News and Information Sources	167
E: Sports Sites	169

F: Travel Sites	170
G: Food/Nutrition Sites	171
H: Health/Medical Sites	172
J: Technology Sites	174
K: Children's/Parents' Sites	175
Book and Other Library Media Shopping Sites	177
Entertainment Sites and Chat Rooms	177
Notes	178
6—Preserving the Past: Anticipating the Future	179
Overview	179
Preserving the Past: Archiving the Web	179
The Future?	185
Forever Free?	191
Planning: Getting the Future You Want	193
Notes	196
Appendix A: Selected Glossary of Internet-Related Terminology	197
Appendix B: Alphabetical Index of Web Sites	201
Appendix C: Bibliography: Libraries and the Internet	205
Index	223