

Blending Qualitative & Quantitative

RESEARCH METHODS in
THESES and DISSERTATIONS

R. MURRAY THOMAS

Contents

Preface	ix
About the Author	xi
Chapter 1: The Qualitative and the Quantitative	1
Qualitative and Quantitative Defined	1
Qualitative and Quantitative Examples	3
The Demise of a Controversy	6
An Example of How Methods Can Be Described	8
An Illustrative Dissertation Proposal	10
Conclusion	13
Part I: A Catalogue of Methods— Qualitative and Quantitative	15
Chapter 2: Historical Perspectives	17
Chronicles	18
Explanatory Histories	20
Life-Course Studies	22
Evaluative Histories	26
Combination Histories	27
Biographies	28
Autobiographies	29
Conclusion	31
Chapter 3: Present-Status Perspectives—Qualitative	33
Case Studies	33
Ethnographies	35
Experience Narratives	38
Conclusion	40

Chapter 4: Present-Status Perspectives—Quantitative	41
Surveys	41
Correlation Analyses	45
Experiments	51
Conclusion	56
Chapter 5: Data-Collection Processes and Instruments	57
Content Analyses	57
Observations	60
Interviews	63
Factual Questionnaires	66
Inventories	70
Tests	70
Conclusion	73
Chapter 6: Researcher Role Perspectives	75
Degree of Engagement	78
Competencies of Participants	78
Chapter 7: Interpretation Methods	81
Kinds of Meaning	81
Causation	84
Comparison	86
Generalization—The Problem of Sampling	89
Context	94
Symbolism	95
Conclusion	97
Part II: A Variety of Theses and Dissertation Proposals	99
Chapter 8: Solving Immediate Problems	101
Evaluating Ways of Teaching Science	101
Effective Political Ads	107
A Functional English-Usage Curriculum	112
Juvenile Delinquents' Lifestyles	116
Controlling Academic Cheating	118
Assessing Classroom-Management Practices	124
Conclusion	127
Chapter 9: Establishing Foundations for Planning	129
Conducting a Public-Opinion Poll	129
Analyzing Historical Trends	131
Producing Curriculum Source Material	135

Identifying Computer-Technology Needs	141
Conclusion	145
Chapter 10: Applying, Testing, and Generating Theories	147
Social Environments and Human Development	148
Testing a Moral-Development Theory	157
Theorizing About a Pair of Twins	162
A Typology of Help-Seeking Behavior	166
Conclusion	170
Chapter 11: Contributing to Research Methodology	171
A Graphic-Arts-Preference Inventory	171
Appraising Note-Taking Methods	184
Improving Questionnaire Rates of Return	194
Conclusion	198
Chapter 12: Replicating Others' Research	199
Readers' Skills in Grade One and Grade Seven	199
An Enhanced Boot-Camp Study	203
Hispanics Rather Than American Indians	207
Conclusion	212
Chapter 13: Publishing the Results	213
Oral Presentations	213
Print Presentations	215
Internet Publishing	222
Conclusion	223
Chapter 14: Reviewing the Themes	225
References	227
Index	235