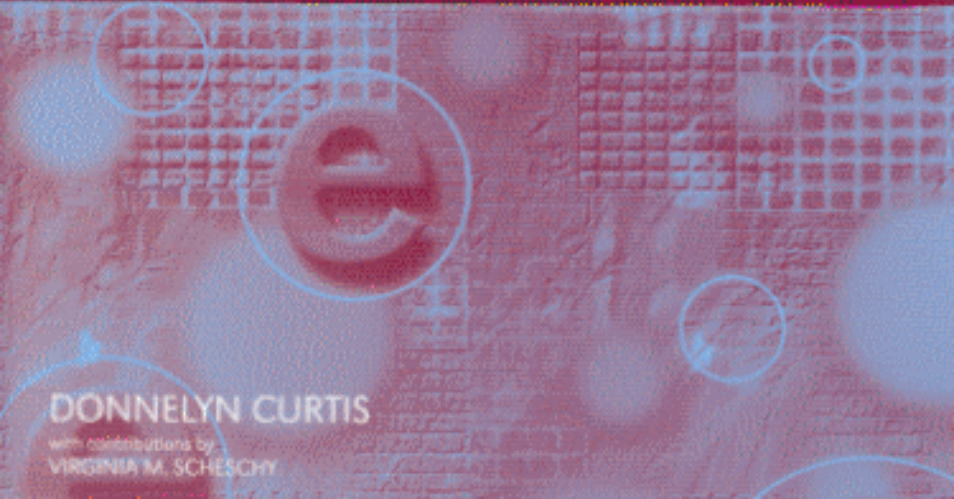
e journals

a how-to-do it manual for building, managing, and supporting electronic journal collections



DONNELYN CURTIS

with contributions by
VIRGINIA M. SCHESCHY

CONTENTS

List of Figures vii

Preface xi

Acknowledgments xv

1 Understanding Electronic Journals 1
Chapter Overview 1
The Scope and Variations of Electronic Journals 2
The (R)evolution of Electronic Journals 10
Features and Characteristics of Electronic Journals 13
Benefits and Drawbacks of Electronic Journals 36
The Scholarly Publication and Access Chain 38
Economics and Politics of Electronic Publishing 45
References 56
More Information Sources 58

2 Understanding Users of Online Resources 61
Chapter Overview 61
Characteristics and Information-Seeking Behavior of Web Users 61
Academic and Research Library Users 66
K-12 Students 69
Public Library Users 70
Understanding the Users of Your Library's Electronic Resources 75
References 88
More Information Sources 90

3 Shifting Library Resources 91
Chapter Overview 91
Setting the Stage for a New Show 91
Leadership 93
Planning 95
Work Flow and Organizational Structure 97
Shifting Staff Roles and Responsibilities 101
Communication 107
Financial Shifts 112
References 114
More Information Sources 115

4	Developing a Collection of Electronic Journals	117
	Chapter Overview	117
	A Framework	118
	Collection Policies and Guidelines	126
	Building the Collection	132
	Individual Titles	134
	Aggregations and Bundles	143
	Access Options	153
	References	155
	More Information Sources	156
5	Trafficking in Intellectual Property: Licensing and User Authentication	157
	Chapter Overview	157
	Copyright, Fair Use, Contract Law, and Digital Rights Management	158
	Model Licenses and Licensing Guidelines	163
	Reviewing the License	166
	Terms of the License	168
	Negotiating Changes	184
	Signing and Managing the License	185
	Access Management and Authentication	188
	Prevention and Management of License Violations and Security Breaches	199
	References	201
	More Information Sources	203
6	Ordering and Receiving Electronic Journals	205
	Chapter Overview	205
	A New Routine	205
	Processing Requests	207
	Working with Consortia	218
	Ordering and Receiving Electronic Journals	228
	Managing Administrative Information: Tools and Processes	232
	Processing Renewals	239
	Canceling Print	241
	Opportunities for Countries in Transition	245
	References	246
	More Information Sources	247

7	Delivering Electronic Journals and Maintaining Access Channels	249
	Chapter Overview	249
	Designing, Building, and Maintaining Delivery Systems	250
	User-Centered Access	253
	Web Access	258
	Catalog Access	275
	Electronic Reserves	294
	Integrating Articles with Courseware	296
	Context-Sensitive Linking	299
	Series Cataloging and Access Acronyms and Initialisms	302
	References	303
	More Information Sources	305
8	Supporting Users and Fostering the Use of Electronic Journals	307
	Chapter Overview	307
	The Importance of User Services	307
	Attracting and Informing Users through Marketing	309
	Delivering Instruction	318
	Providing Technical Support: Helping Users in Trouble	323
	Helping Users inside the Library	343
	Serving Users with Disabilities	348
	References	351
	More Information Sources	351
9	Analyzing Electronic Journal Usage and Evaluating Services	353
	Chapter Overview	353
	Why Gather Statistics?	353
	Defining Management Information Needs	355
	Acquiring Usage Data	359
	Standards and Guidelines	365
	Processing and Analyzing Usage Data	371
	Describing, Distilling, and Presenting Data	377
	References	388
	More Information Sources	389

Appendix A: E-Journal Collection Policies 391

Appendix B: Standardizing Titles for Web Lists 397

Appendix C: E-Journal Web Lists by Subject 399

Appendix D: The Aggregator-Neutral Record 403

Appendix E: Using a Spreadsheet to Create Web Lists of E-Journals 405

Index 407

About the Author 421