

Edited by
Bart Van Looy
Paul Gemmel
Roland Van Dierdonck

second edition

Services Management

An Integrated Approach

 Prentice Hall
PENGUIN GROUP

CONTENTS

List of figures	x	Review and discussion questions	38
List of tables	xiii	Notes and references	39
List of exhibits	xv	Suggested further reading	39
About the authors	xvii
Preface	xxi
Acknowledgements	xxiii
Part One
THE NATURE OF SERVICES
1 The nature of services	3	3 Servitization: or why services management is relevant for manufacturing environments	40
Steven Desmet, Bart Van Looy, Roland Van Dierdonck		Steven Desmet, Roland Van Dierdonck, Bart Van Looy
Introduction	3	Introduction	40
Objectives	4	Objectives	41
The growing importance of services	4	From goods to services	41
Services: what makes them special?	10	Why servitization?	42
A closer look at services	12	Making the transition	44
The role of service classifications	17	Conclusion	49
Conclusion	23	Review and discussion questions	50
Review and discussion questions	24	Notes and references	50
Notes and references	24	Suggested further reading	51
Suggested further reading	26
2 Defining the service concept	27	Part Two
Paul Gemmel, Bart Van Looy, Gino Van Ossel		CUSTOMER LOGIC
Introduction	27		53
Objectives	28	4 Relationship marketing	55
Why do we need a service concept?	28	Kristof De Wulf
How to define the service concept	29	Introduction	55
Implementing the service concept	31	Objectives	55
The service concept as a guiding framework: an overview of its main ingredients	35	Relationship marketing: new words to an old tune?	56
Why not all service concepts are alike	37	Linking customer satisfaction, customer loyalty and profitability	58
Conclusion	38	Lifetime value: the link with profitability	62
		How to increase customer satisfaction and customer loyalty	65
		Setting objectives in service marketing	68
		Conclusion	71
		Review and discussion questions	72

Notes and references	72	8 Service guarantees and service-level agreements	155
Suggested further reading	73	Gino Van Ossel, Paul Gemmel
5 Promoting services	74	Introduction	155
Patrick De Pelsmacker, Joeri Van Den Bergh		Objectives	156
Introduction	74	Service guarantees	156
Objectives	74	Service-level agreements	168
What is so different about promoting services?	74	Internal service guarantees and service-level agreements	172
The basic building blocks of promotion	76	Conclusion	177
Designing a marketing communications strategy for services	83	Review and discussion questions	177
Drawing up a promotion plan	92	Notes and references	177
Conclusion	94	Suggested further reading	178
Review and discussion questions	95
Notes and references	95	Part Three
Suggested further reading	96	HUMAN RESOURCES IN SERVICE ORGANIZATIONS	179
6 Pricing services	98	9 The role of human resource practices in service organizations	181
Marion Debruyne, Stefan Stremersch		Bart Van Looy, Koen Dewettinck, Dirk Buyens, Tine Vandenbossche
Introduction	98	Introduction	181
Objectives	98	Objectives	182
Developing a framework for pricing decisions	99	The nature of services	182
Pricing objectives	101	Human resource management for services	187
Pricing strategies	102	Conclusion	192
Pricing structure	115	Review and discussion questions	192
Pricing levels and tactics	118	Notes and references	192
Conclusion	120	Suggested further reading	193
Review and discussion questions	121
Notes and references	121	10 Competencies and service organizations	194
Suggested further reading	122	Walter Stevens, Dries Faems, Bart Van Looy, Tine Vandenbossche, Dirk Buyens
7 Customer satisfaction and complaint management	123	Introduction	194
Gino Van Ossel, Stefan Stremersch, Paul Gemmel		Objectives	194
Introduction	123	Designing competency-based HR practices	195
Objectives	123	Competencies for service organizations	204
Service quality and customer satisfaction	124	Conclusion	212
A service satisfaction framework	125	Review and discussion questions	212
Measuring customer satisfaction	126	Notes and references	213
Complaint management	138	Suggested further reading	213
Conclusion	152
Review and discussion questions	152
Notes and references	153
Suggested further reading	154

11 Collaboration: integrating work and learning	214	Part Four
Bart Van Looy		OPERATIONS MANAGEMENT IN SERVICE ORGANIZATIONS	255
Introduction	214	14 Service process design and management	259
Objectives	215	Paul Gemmel
The benefits of collaboration in the workplace	215	Introduction	259
The broader relevance of collaboration to services	218	Objectives	260
The role of collaboration in learning	219	Process choice	261
Collaboration as the central theme	222	Process design	263
Establishing collaborative relationships	223	Process monitoring	267
Conclusion	227	Process evaluation	268
Review and discussion questions	227	Process re-engineering	271
Notes and references	227	Conclusion	274
Suggested further reading	228	Review and discussion questions	274
		Notes and references	274
		Suggested further reading	276
12 The role of empowerment in service organizations	229	15 Capacity management	277
Bart Van Looy, Krist'l Krols, Dirk Buyens, Tine Vandenbossche		Roland Van Dierdonck
Introduction	229	Introduction	277
Objectives	230	Objectives	279
The relevance of empowerment for service environments	231	Capacity and capacity management	279
Empowerment: the employee and the supervisor	232	Capacity planning	285
Empowerment: the organization	237	Scheduling capacity	291
Conclusion	240	Managing the demand side	300
Review and discussion questions	241	The psychology and managerial consequences of waiting	307
Notes and references	241	Conclusion	314
Suggested further reading	242	Review and discussion questions	314
		Technical note	315
		Notes and references	315
		Suggested further reading	316
13 Role stress among front-line employees	243	16 Facilities management	317
Koen Dewettinck, Dirk Buyens		Roland Van Dierdonck, Paul Gemmel, Steven Desmet
Introduction	243	Introduction	317
Objectives	244	Objectives	318
Relevance of role stress for the service encounter	244	The nature of facilities management in services	319
Role stress defined	245	Back office versus front office	320
Handling role stress for front-line employees	247	Location	322
Conclusion	252	Designing the servicescape	332
Review and discussion questions	252	Conclusion	337
Notes and references	253	Review and discussion questions	338
Suggested further reading	254

Notes and references	338	Innovation portfolio management	409
Suggested further reading	339	Organizing the innovation portfolio: the make-or-buy decision	414
17 IT developments and their impact on services	340	The operational management of innovation	416
Tim Duhamel, Bart Van Looy, Wilfried Grommen, Wim Grielens, Niels Schillewaert, Pedro Matthyñssens		Conclusion	423
Introduction	340	Review and discussion questions	424
Objectives	341	Notes and references	424
The network era – Where do we stand?	341	Suggested further reading	426
The impact of IT developments on service encounters	345	20 Managing services across national boundaries	427
Action strategies for the new media	360	Roland Van Dierdonck
Conclusion	366	Introduction	427
Review and discussion questions	366	Objectives	431
Notes and references	366	Why internationalize?	431
Suggested further reading	369	Drivers towards internationalization	432
		Culture and cultural differences	436
		Internationalization strategies	444
		Conclusion	450
		Review and discussion questions	451
		Notes and references	451
		Suggested further reading	452
Part Five		21 Defining a service strategy	453
AN INTEGRATED APPROACH	371	Aimé Heene, Bart Van Looy, Roland Van Dierdonck
18 Performance measurement systems in service firms	373	Introduction	453
Paul Gemmel, Kurt Verweire, Gino Van Ossel, Werner Bruggeman, Roland Van Dierdonck, Bart Van Looy		Objectives	453
Introduction	373	The nature of strategic management	453
Objectives	374	The challenges of strategic management for services	461
Designing performance measurement systems for services	374	Conclusion	472
Implementing an integrated performance measurement system	388	Review and discussion questions	473
Conclusion	401	Notes and references	473
Review and discussion questions	401	Suggested further reading	474
Technical note	401
Notes and references	401	TECHNICAL NOTES
Suggested further reading	403	1 How to collect customer satisfaction data	477
		Gino Van Ossel
		2 Analysing queuing systems in service environments	491
		Paul Gemmel
		3 Simulation as a tool in designing services	498
		Paul Gemmel
19 Managing innovation in a service environment	404
Koenraad Debackere, Bart Van Looy
Introduction	404
Objectives	405
Innovations as spiral processes: the value-constellation approach	406

4 Data envelopment analysis	510
Paul Gemmel
5 Insights stemming from emerging resource and competence-based strategic management theories	513
Aimé Heene

APPENDICES

1 Importance of informational elements in ads – comparing goods and services	516
2 The state probability ($P(n)$)	517
Index	519