

LIBRARY AND INFORMATION SCIENCE TEXT SERIES

LIBRARY OF CONGRESS SUBJECT HEADINGS

PRINCIPLES AND APPLICATION

FOURTH EDITION

Lois Mai Chan

Contents

Preface xv

Part 1 Principles, Form, and Structure

1 INTRODUCTION	3
History	5
The Beginnings	5
Editions and Versions of the Subject Headings List	7
Auxiliary Publications	8
Assumptions about Function	9
Deliberations on a Code for LCSH	11
Impact of the Internet and the World Wide Web	12
Conclusion	12
Notes	13
2 BASIC PRINCIPLES	17
Introduction	17
The User and Usage	17
Literary Warrant	20
Uniform Heading	21
Choice among Synonymous Terms	23
Choice between Variant Spellings	23
Choice between English and Foreign Terms	24
Choice between Scientific (or Technical) and Popular Terms ..	24
Choice between Obsolete and Current Terms	25
Unique Heading	26
Specific Entry and Coextensivity	27
Specific and Direct Entry	27
Concept of Specificity	28
Internal Consistency	33
Stability	33
Precoordination and Postcoordination	34
Precoordination	35
Postcoordination	38
Notes	38

3 FORMS OF MAIN HEADINGS	43
Introduction	43
Functions of Library of Congress Subject Headings	43
Syntax	44
Single-Concept Headings	46
Single-Word Headings	46
Multiple-Word Headings	47
Choice between Nouns and Phrases	49
Choice among Different Types of Phrases	49
Multiple-Concept Headings	50
Compound Phrases	50
Prepositional Phrase Headings	51
Choice between Phrase Headings and Headings with Subdivisions	52
Semantics	53
Inverted Headings	55
Notes	57
4 PROPER NAME HEADINGS	59
Introduction	59
Personal Names	59
Names of Individual Persons	59
Names of Families, Dynasties, Royal Houses, Etc.	60
Names of Mythological, Legendary, or Fictitious Characters	61
Names of Gods and Goddesses	62
Names of Corporate Bodies	63
Name Changes in Corporate Bodies	64
Other Individual Entities Bearing Proper Names	64
Animals	64
Historical Events	64
Prizes, Awards, Scholarships, Etc.	65
Holidays, Festivals, Etc.	65
Ethnic Groups, Nationalities, Tribes, Etc.	66
Religions, Philosophical Systems, Etc.	66
Objects Bearing Proper Names	67
Geographic Names	67
Jurisdictional Headings	67
Non-Jurisdictional Headings	68
Language	69
Entry Element	71
Qualifiers	72
Free-Floating Phrase Headings Involving Names of Places	80
Changes of Name	82
Geographic Headings Requiring Special Treatment	84
Notes	89

5	SUBDIVISIONS	91
	Introduction	91
	Topical Subdivision	92
	Geographic Subdivision	93
	Direct Subdivision	94
	Indirect Subdivision	96
	Summary of Procedures for Geographic Subdivision	100
	Chronological Subdivision	101
	General Principles of Chronological Subdivision.	102
	Forms of Chronological Subdivisions	104
	Form Subdivision	106
	Distinction between Form and Topical Subdivisions	107
	Free-Floating Subdivisions	108
	Definition and Application	108
	Categories of Free-Floating Subdivisions.	109
	Order of Subdivisions	116
	Order of Main Heading and Subdivision	117
	Order of Subdivisions under the Same Main Heading	119
	Notes	122
6	CROSS REFERENCES	125
	Introduction	125
	Equivalence Relationships	125
	Synonymous Terms	126
	Variant Spellings	128
	Abbreviations, Acronyms, Initials, Etc.	128
	Different Language Terms	129
	Popular and Scientific Terms	130
	Alternative Forms	130
	Different Entry Elements	131
	Opposite Terms Not Used as Headings	132
	Narrow Terms Not Used as Headings	133
	General USE References.	133
	Hierarchical Relationships	134
	Associative Relationships	139
	General See Also (SA) References	140
	Cross-References for Proper Name Headings	142
	Personal Names.	142
	Corporate Names	145
	Geographic Names	145
	Headings for Other Named Entities and Events	148
	Conclusion	149
	Notes	150

7 SUBJECT AUTHORITY CONTROL AND MAINTENANCE . . . 153
Introduction 153
Establishing New Headings 154
 Procedure 154
 Authority Research 154
 Authority Records 155
 Subdivision Records 163
Revising and Updating Headings and Subdivisions 166
The Authority File for Subjects 168
Notes 169

Part 2
Application

8 ASSIGNING SUBJECT HEADINGS 173
Introduction 173
General Considerations 175
 General Policy 175
 Sources of Subject Headings Assigned to Cataloging Records . . . 175
 MARC Codes for Subjects 178
 Order of Headings on Bibliographic Records 178
Assigning Subject Headings 179
 Scope Notes 179
 General versus Specific 181
 Duplicate Entries 184
 Number of Headings for Each Record 184
Special Considerations 186
 Works on a Single Topic 186
 Multitopical Works 188
 Aspects of Main Topics 190
 Phase Relations 196
 Topics without Representation in LCSH 198
 Subject Headings Identical to Descriptive Access Points 199
Notes 200

9 SUBJECT CATALOGING OF SPECIAL TYPES OF MATERIALS . . 201
Electronic Resources 201
 Computer Software 201
 Databases 203
 Computer and Video Games 206
 Internet or Web Resources 207
Serial Publications 209
 Abstracts 210
 Annual Reports 211

Biographical Reference Works	211
Book and Media Reviews	211
Conference (Congress, Symposium, Etc.) Publications	212
Directories	212
Electronic Serials	212
Government Publications Issued Serially	213
Indexes	214
Periodicals and Journals	214
Reports	215
Society Publications	216
Statistics	217
Union Lists	217
Yearbooks	217
Lists of Publications	218
Abstracts	218
Bibliographies	219
Indexes	222
Catalogs of Publications	224
Lists and Abstracts of Dissertations and Theses	228
Reference Materials	228
Works about Reference Books	228
Bibliographies of Reference Books	229
Reference Works	230
Children's Materials	237
Topical Juvenile Materials	239
Juvenile Belles Lettres	240
Cartographic Materials	243
Nonprint Materials	245
General	245
Films	245
Non-Music Sound Recordings	248
Interactive Multimedia	249
Biography	250
Definition	250
Types of Headings Assigned to Biography	251
Subdivisions That Designate Biography	251
Collective Biography	253
Individual Biography	259
Special Types of Biographical Works	266
Works about Corporate Bodies	271
Corporate Bodies Discussed Collectively	271
Works about Individual Corporate Bodies	272
Name Changes in Corporate Bodies	273

Works about Buildings and Other Structures	275
Works about Specific Types of Buildings or Structures.	275
Works about Individual Buildings or Structures	277
Works Involving City Districts, Sections, and Quarters.	278
Works Related to Individual Works	279
Commentary versus Edition	279
Supplementary Works.	281
Indexes and Concordances to Individual Works	282
Notes.	283
10 SUBJECT AREAS REQUIRING SPECIAL TREATMENT.	287
Literature.	287
Types of Headings	287
Application	290
Music	315
Types of Headings	315
Application	319
Fine Art.	336
Types of Headings	336
Application	338
Religion	346
Types of Headings	346
Application	348
Law	363
Types of Headings	363
Application	365
Source Materials in the Fields of History and Genealogy.	382
The Subdivision –History.	383
Genealogical Materials	388
Other Works of Interest to Historians.	391
Archaeological Works	393
Types of Headings	393
Application	394
Notes.	397

Part 3
Current and Future Prospects

11 LIBRARY OF CONGRESS SUBJECT HEADINGS
IN THE ELECTRONIC ENVIRONMENT	403
Introduction	403
Subject Access in the Electronic Environment.	404
Vocabulary Control in the Electronic Environment	404
The Potential Role of Library of Congress Subject Headings	407

Adapting to the Electronic Environment	409
Notes	412
12 FAST: FACETED APPLICATION OF SUBJECT TERMINOLOGY	415
Introduction	415
Reasons for Adapting Library of Congress Subject Headings	416
Developing the FAST Schema	419
Semantics	419
Topical Facet	420
Geographic Facet	421
Form Facet	423
Chronological Facet	423
Personal Names	424
Corporate Names	424
Meeting Names and Titles	424
Creation and Validation of FAST Headings	425
Authority Records	425
Application Syntax	427
Conclusion	427
Notes	428
Appendix A: Library of Congress Bibliographic Records with MARC 21 Coding	429
Appendix B: Free-Floating Subdivisions: Form and Topical	441
Appendix C: Free-Floating Subdivisions: Names of Persons	445
Appendix D: Free-Floating Topical Subdivisions: Names of Places	449
Appendix E: General Reference Sources Used in Establishing Headings	455
Appendix F: First-Order Political Divisions of the Exceptional Countries	457
Appendix G: MARC 21 Coding for Subject Information	461
Appendix H: Abbreviations	493
Appendix I: Capitalization	501
Appendix J: Punctuation	509
Glossary	513
Bibliography	525
Index	537